2,405 No to 896 Yes

Voters Reject Park Bond Issue

BY MAXINE TYMA

Voters said an emphatic "no" Saturday to the Arlington Heights Park District defeating its referendum by an almost 3 to 1 vote.

Official figures reported by the Board of Park Commissioners Saturday night are 896 "yes" votes to 2,405 "no" ballots.

The $1,750,000 referendum was proposed for the development of eight park sites. Major improvements would have included two swimming pools in two community parks and six neighborhood parks with recreation equipment.

"We are disappointed that the people did not believe the issue was as important as we thought," said Park Board President Charles Cronin Saturday night.

"Our job as a park board is to study the needs of the district and to present them to the public. It is their choice and apparently they did not feel the parks are necessary at this time. We will have to do the best we can with the present facilities," Cronin said.

Official results by precinct polling places are:

Precinct 1, Greenbrier School: 336 yes to 28 no.

Precinct 2, Hasbrook Park: 117 yes to 638 no.

Precinct 3, Pioneer Park: 70 yes to 649 no.

Precinct 4, Dunton School: 204 yes to 132 no.

Precinct 5, Faith Lutheran Church: 31 yes to 195 no.

Precinct 6, Recreation Park: 93 yes to 715 no.

Precinct 7, Ivy Hill School: 45 yes to 48 no.

There were 17 absentee ballots.

Only two precincts approved the referendum for park development.

Thomas Thornton, director of parks, said the total number of votes represents the highest number of ballots cast on a park district issue.

PARK BOARD officials cite last year's approval for land purchase as a major step in achieving their final goal of park development. A land purchase referendum of $465,000 was approved in 1965 by a 564 to 257 vote.

"Apparently the people weren't ready for this now," said Cronin. "All we could do was give them a chance to let us know how they felt."

Saturday's referendum was the fifth time this year voters in Arlington Heights have been asked to approve an issue which would mean a tax increase. A five per cent utility tax also was imposed on village residents to pay for storm damage.

SEPT. 24 voters defeated a referendum to increase the School Dist. 25 tax rate by 33 1/2 cents.

The district has planned to apply for a federal grant to help finance the development if the referendum was successful.

Nursing Home on Agenda

The village board tonight hopes to learn what the Northwest Community Hospital thinks about having a nursing home and medical center across the street.

The zoning requests for the home and center are on the top of the special meeting agenda.

Last week the board refused to approve the zoning because it did not know the hospital's feelings in the matter.

Village President John G. Woods said the board has not heard from the hospital since last July when its administrator Alan B. Campbell, wrote expressing disapproval.

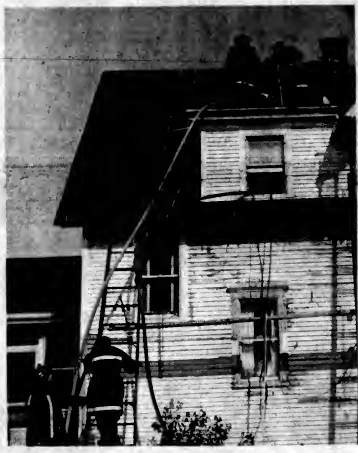
In other business the board will consider:

--A request from the Board of Local Improvements to authorize $10,500 in Public Benefit Funds for the paving of Olive St. The board previously approved a $6,000 expenditure for the project but the increase became necessary when the low bid was about $4,000 higher than the amount available for construction.

--An authorization for the village manager to advertise for drilling a new well.

--A resolution requiring village policemen to complete a training course within a year of their employment.

--An ordinance to provide television inspection of all new sewer installations.



A blaze, apparently started by a blow torch, caused an estimated $6,000 to this home at 415 W. Central yesterday. Firemen from both Arlington Heights stations were called to fight the fire which was confined to the attic and roof of the home. The occupant of the home, R.S. Bateson, said he had been using a blow torch to remove paint from the outside of the building and left the torch unattended. The flames spread to the rafters and the inside of the roof. The owner of the building is Ella Kaatning, 307 W. Park.

Bunny-napper

Michael Djus, 1104 S. Vail, reported the the theft of four male rabbits from a pen in his back yard Saturday.

A Bad Weekend For Frank

A 21 - year - old Rolling Meadows man had two encounters with Arlington Heights police over the weekend.

Early Saturday morning Frank Sweeney, 4107 Owl, was arrested on charges of driving while intoxicated and driving with a revoked license.

He was taken into custody after police chased him from Palatine and Arlington Heights Rds. where they said he ran through a stop sign to Palatine and Rand Rds.

Sweeney was free on bond and a court date of Nov. 7 is set.

SUNDAY police received a complaint that two men were causing a disturbance in front of a tavern at 710 E. Kensington.

Sweeney and a companion, John Young, 18, of 7 N. Dryden, were arrested and charged with public intoxication.

Sweeney will answer all charges Nov. 7. Young is to appear in court, Oct. 19.

Vandals Strike, Victims See Red

Vandals sprayed red paint on two cars parked in the 1000 block of N. Salem sometime Sunday morning.

Police said the autos are owned by Thomas Sadko, 801 E. Central, and John Corkill, 1003 N. Salem.

Rented Racer Just Dust Cloud

When Arlington Heights policeman Jack Weber saw a speeding car on Palatine Rd. near Buffalo Grove Rd. Friday evening he gave chase.

That is about as far as it went.

The car, a new Ford Mustang GT 350, ran away from the squad car in a cloud of dust. Weber tried to follow but lost sight of the car near Palatine and Milwaukee Rds.

Two motorcycle policemen Michael Scheakel and Gerald Inch, called by Weber to help in the chase, saw the car moving west on the frontage road along Palatine Rd.

They turned to pursue, but were left in the dust.

Police said the black car had the distinctive twin gold stripes that identified it as a rented car.

An agent for the rental firm told police the model could reach a speed of 140 miles per hour.

Firemen Fight Grass Blazes

Firemen from the North Side station extinguished a grass fire at 1134 N. Dryden Sunday.

On Friday, a fire in a prairie near 1300 E. Northwest Hwy. was extinguished by firemen.

Woman Reports Purse Theft

Mrs. Irene Weidner, 1034 S. Pine, Arlington Heights, told Rolling Meadows police Saturday that her purse was stolen from a laundromat at 3260 Market Plaza.

The purse contained identification and $25 in cash, she said.

Rumsfeld Suggests Reforms

Rep. Donald Rumsfeld (R-Ill.) recommended four congressional reforms Friday at a meeting at the Southminister United Church, 906 E. Central Rd.

The reforms which have been recommended by the Joint Committee on the Organization of Congress of which Rumsfeld is a member are: creation of a House Ethics committee, elimination of the practice of voting by proxy in committee and subcommittee meetings, permission for televising and broadcasting committee hearings and the removal of postmasters and rural letter carriers from politics.

RUMSFELD said the Democratic leadership in Congress has delayed considering these reforms.

"It would be a serious act of obstruction to waste the Joint Committee's efforts through the inaction of the Democratic leadership" he said.

He spoke before a joint meeting of the Adult Couples Club of the Southminister United Presbyterian Church and the Young Married Couples Club of the First Presbyterian Church.

Home Trains Unemployed

The Magnus Farm, a nursing home at 801 E. Central Rd., Arlington Heights, has been approved as a participant in the On - the - Job Training Program under the Manpower Development and Training Act.

Twelve unemployed workers will be hired by the nursing home and trained for a period of eight weeks.

The 12 workers will receive $3,150 in wages during their training period.

Explorer Scout Joins Council

Vern Gongol, 305 S. Vail, Arlington Heights, has been elected to the 12-man Regional Explorer Delegate Steering Committee, according to the Northwest Suburban Council of the Boy Scouts of America.

Gongol, a senior at Arlington High School, will assist in the co-ordination of scouting activities in a four-state area.

Palatine Issues Parking Ultimatum

Palatine Village President David W. Yeats has asked the Chicago & North Western Ry. to reverse its cancellation of leases on parking lots owned by the railroad or take over the community's entire commuter parking system.

The leases were revoked last month after the village which operated the lots increased commuter parking rates from 25 to 50 cents.

In revoking the leases, I. Robert Ballin, a C & NW vice president, described the increase as "exhorbitant."

"As a major property taxpayer in Palatine, we feel, after examining an audit of the village's parking revenues and expenses, that a 25-cent fee should be adequate to pay for paving improvements and make possible future acquisitions for parking facilities if it were not for what we believe to be extremely high "administrative" and "enforcement" costs charged to parking lot operations."

HE SAID the railroad decided to turn the parking lots over to a private firm to operate at the 25-cent rate only after Palatine failed to respond to compromises.

The decision split the commuter parking system since the village continues to operate lots it owns at the 50-cent rate.

In a letter to Ballin dated Oct. 7 Yeats said he had offered to drop the rate back to 25 cents if the railroad would abate all rental on the lots and pave them as required by Palatine ordinances.

He said it is impossible to operate a public and private systems side by side.

"Either you should reconsider our original offer, or since you are convinced that a 25-cent fee is sufficient for all operating costs and allowance for acquiring additional parking facilities as they are needed, you should take over the entire commuter parking system and make provisions as necessary for expansion of the system as growth requires it," Yeats said.

THE RAILROAD threatened to retaliate when Arlington Heights increased parking rates from 25 to 50 cents on lots owned by the village.

When contacted last week Ballin said the C & NW is still considering retaliatory action but has not as yet decided what action to take.

In Mount Prospect last week, the village and railroad officials reached a tentative lease agreement based on the 25-cent rate.

S.S.

Thieves Busy, Work on Case

The theft of a case and a half of assorted liquor was reported to Arlington Heights police Saturday.

George Sullivan told police his home at 415 S. Windsor had been entered through an attached garage and the liquor taken from the basement. Nothing else in the house was disturbed, he said.

The Arlington Heights Nurses Club has presented the Historical Society with a $100 check for the museum fund. Accepting on behalf of the society is Mrs. Daisy Daniels (center) of 805 N. Dunton. Mrs. James Andrew (left) of 224 S. Illinois Dr. treasurer, and Mrs. James Bragg of 423 S. Lincoln Ln., president of the Nurses Club, admire two society acquisitions, an 85-year-old spinning wheel and a top hat acquired from the Heller house.

A funeral mass for Leo Duthorn, 64, of 100 W. Algonquin Rd. was offered this morning in Queen of the Rosary Church in Elk Grove Village. Burial was in St. Mary of Buffalo Grove Cemetery.

Mr. Duthorn, a life-long resident of Arlington Heights, died at home Friday. He was the owner of Duthorn's Service Station at Algonquin and Arlington Heights Rds.

He is survived by his wife Anna, and a sister Mrs. Laura Alfred of Elgin.

Leonard Stanley

Funeral services for Leonard G. Stanley, 47, of 1408 W. Oakton, were held this morning in the Lauterburg & Oehler Funeral Home with the Rev. Robert S. McDonald officiating. Burial was in Ridgewood Cemetery in Des Plaines.

Mr. Stanley, a resident of Arlington Heights for 12 years, was pronounced dead at Northwest Community Hospital Friday. He was an auditor for the Sentry Insurance Co. in Chicago.

He is survived by his wife, Ruth; two sons, Ronald and Tim; a daughter Diane; two sisters, Mrs. Phyllis Anderson and Mrs. Helen Skoronski, both of Ironwood, Mich., and a brother Stanley of Ironwood, Mich.

Merrill Bernbrock

A funeral mass for Merrill L. Bernbrock, 75, of 106 Can Dota, Mount Prospect, was offered this morning in St. Raymond Church. Burial was in Mount Carmel Cemetery in Hillside.

Mr. Bernbrock died Friday in Cook County Hospital in Chicago. He is survived by his wife Elsie; a daughter Mrs. Virginia Keck of Mount Prospect; a son Merrill Jr.; four grandchildren, and a brother William.

Northwest Community Hospital Conducts Tours

"Telephone voices" had an opportunity to meet face to face at Northwest Community Hospital last week.

Staff members sponsored a seminar, reception and tour for staff doctors' secretaries, office nurses and receptionists.

More than 50 persons attended panel discussion and participated in a question and answer period in the hospital cafeteria Wednesday.

The theme of the afternoon was "Better Communications - the Key to Co-operative Effort." Administrator Alan B. Campbell said the program, was planned "so that we can work together towards the common objective of improving service to our patients through better communication between the hospital and the doctor's office."

Participating on a panel on "Interpreting Hospital Policy and Procedure" were: Mrs. Dawn Berngen, chief admissions officer; Mrs. Jean Daich, R.N., operating room supervisor; Mrs. Cecelia Wyant, R.N., head nurse on the surgical floor; Mrs. Margaret McDonough, R.N., head nurse in the emergency room; Mrs. Agnes L. Pearson, accounting assistant; Mrs. Demi Mourafetis, chief medical record librarian, and Mrs. Harriet Abernethy, medical staff secretary.

A question and answer period was conducted by Leonard L. Genung, assistant administrator. Refreshments were served and tours of the hospital were conducted by staff members.

Campbell said that since so much interest was shown in the reception it may be an annual event at the hospital.

LWV Has Blue Ballot Information

Information on the proposed revenue amendment is being offered to civic organizations, PTAs and other interested groups through the League of Women Voters Speakers Bureau.

"The Illinois Tax Picture," a program planned to aid voters in making a decision on a constitutional amendment in the November election, is offered free of charge by the local league.

Mrs. George Schroeder, chairman of the Speakers Bureau, has distributed letters to PTA's, church groups, civic organizations and women's clubs informing them of the tax program and four other topics that league members are prepared to present. Mrs. Schoreder may be contacted at 392-0145 for information.

THE ILLINOIS League has made a statement in oppisition of the bill and Mrs. Schroeder said groups may request league members to explain the opposition to the revenue amendment instead of the objective report on the bill.

Mrs. Ernest Beal presented the topic to the Community Council in Wheeling on Oct. 4 and Mrs. Russell Gardner spoke on the tax picture to the Sunset Park PTA Friday.

Mrs. Schroeder has available a reprint from the State League office bulletin, Illinois Voter, explaining the revenue article. It is distributed free of charge upon request. Another bulletin, "Questions and Answers on Revenue Blue Ballot," explaining why the league will not support the bill, is available from Mrs. Schroeder at 10 cents a copy.

Other topics offered by league members to groups include "City and Suburb - Past and Future," "Focus on State Government," "Your Hidden Political Power" and "Your Vote makes a Difference."

Mrs. William Marier will speak on "Your Hidden Political Powers" before the Women's Society for Christian Service of Trinity Methodist Church, Mount Prospect, on Tuesday.

Square Dancing Lessons

Classes and dances for the beginner as well as the experienced square dancer will be featured at the Square Dance Center, 1622 N. Rand Rd., Arlington Heights.

Monday nights will be devoted to instructions for beginners held under the guidance of veteran caller Arden Johnson, assistant recreation professor at Purdue University.

Advanced level dancing and instruction will be held at the center on Tuesday evenings. Round dancing, the ballroom style of square dancing, will be featured on Wednesdays and Thursdays.

On weekends, the center will have top square dance callers to lead the festivities and to let the dancers practice what they have learned in class.

Nurses To Attend Program

The Northwest Nurses Roundtable will present a program for all registered nurses in the area at 8 p.m. Wednesday, Oct. 19, at Northwest Community Hospital, 800 W. Central Rd., Arlington Heights.

"Trends in Nursing Education" will be discussed by Mrs. Florence Finette, chairman of the department of nursing at De Paul University in Chicago.

Mrs. Finette is on the executive committee of the American Nurses Assn., the steering committee for the department of baccalaureate and higher degree programs of the Illinois League for Nursing and the advisory committee of the Illinois Department of Mental Health.

The Northwest Nurses Roundtable is comprised of members of 14 nurses groups in the northwest area. Groups include Arlington Heights; Des Plaines; Elk Grove; Glenview; Hanover Park; Hoffman Estates -Roselle; Mount Prospect; Northbrook; Palatine; Park Ridge; Rolling Meadows; Streamwood; Tri-City, and Wheeling - Buffalo Grove.

School Planning Night for Parents

The Teacher-Parent Council of Forest View High School will sponsor an "Open House" Tuesday, Oct. 25, at 8 p.m.

Parents will follow the daily class schedule of the students. Classes will begin at 8 p.m. and will finish at 9:30. Coffee and donuts will be served during the study period session.

Parents will meet teachers and counselors and have an opportunity to examine the equipment and general classroom procedure used at the school.

Parents are requested to be in classrooms at 8 p.m.

Educational Night Held in Rolling Meadows

Dr. James Harvey, dean of students of Harper Junior College, outlined the program of the new junior college in Palatine when he addressed the fourth annual post-high school Educational Night at the Sacred Heart of Mary High School, Rolling Meadows.

Sponsored by the high school's Parents Council, the Education Night aims to acquaint high school sophomore, junior and senior students with the requirements and programs of institutions and organizations available to them after graduation.

Attending the Education Night were representatives from 50 colleges, universities and businesses.

Safety Award For Hospital

Forest Hospital, 555 Wilson Ln., Des Plaines, has received a safety award certificate for an outstanding accident prevention record during the 1965-66 insuring period. Presenting the award was the Argonaut Insurance Co., the hospital's insurance carrier.

Dr. James Harvey, dean of students at Harper Jr. College (left), chats with Sister Columbia, principal of Sacred Heart of Mary High School, and John Mullan, president of the school's Parents Council. Harvey addressed representatives of 50 institutions and organizations at a post-high school education night.

What a Difference the Day makes!

It brings you the news of your community within hours after it happens--news you can't get on TV or radio or elsewhere. And you get it as honestly and completely as a professional staff can write and edit it.

It brings you the information on your village government, your schools, taxes, social and recreational activities, police and fire protection necessary to keep you an informed participant in your town's affairs.

If you are a homemaker it brings you help in running your household through the women's pages and the advertisements of merchants and service suppliers within minutes of your home.

It brings you an editorial page devoted to local problems and opinion.

It brings you help in planning your recreation and amusement with a daily listing of all movies and theaters within easy driving distance.

And it brings you so much more that once you become a reader you know what a difference The Day makes.

Stratford; Jim Dunlop, 11, of 1115 Mayfair Rd., patrol leader; Fred Morrison, 14, of 24 N. Belmont; Tony Lanzillo, 11, of 1101 Mayfair Rd., assistant patrol leader; Bob Wilke, 12, of 835 N. Forrest, and Sid Lammers, 13, of 828 N. Forrest. Scoutmaster is Richard Dunlop of 1115 Mayfair, Arlington Heights.

R. W. Olson, 2309 N. Lafayette, Arlington Heights, has been appointed manager of Continental Can Co.'s plastic container plant in Elk Grove. Olson has been associated with Continental since 1956 and previously was a supervisor of industrial engineering.

Emil Straub, 521 S. Phelps, Arlington Heights, has been promoted to superintendent of the press department of Ekco Containers, a division of Ekco Products Inc. Straub has been with Ekco since 1952 and will be in charge of the final production of aluminum foils and containers.

Man Dead In Double Shooting

A Des Plaines man is dead and his wife in serious condition in the hospital today after an apparent suicide-shooting in that city Sunday morning.

Des Plaines police said Sam Dotson, 43, of 1330 Rand Rd. committed suicide when a patrolman stopped his car on Rand just southeast of Dempster.

Dotson was pronounced dead on arrival at Lutheran General Hospital.

WHILE at the hospital, the Des Plaines policeman, Robert Ornberg, was contacted by County Sheriff's police and notified that Dotson's 39-year-old wife, Bertha, had been taken to Holy Family Hospital.

Mrs. Dotson had been shot several times in her trailer home.

Police said that all five shots had been fired from Dotson's 38 calibre revolver.

Detectives from the County Sheriff's police are investigating the shootings.

Intruder Jimmies Door

The front door of the home of Mrs. Jean Hahn at 224 W. Rand Rd. was jimmied open Wednesday with a screwdriver.

The inner paneling of the door had been knocked out, police said. Mrs. Hahn could not find anything missing.

School Board To Approve Bus Transportation

Final approval of the transportation agreement with the Duvidsmyer Bus Co. Inc. is expected at tonight's High School Dist. 214 board of education meeting. Board members will meet at 7:30 p.m. in the Harold L. Slichenmyer Administration Center, 799 W. Kensington Rd., Mount Prospect.

Reports will be given on the faculty attitude survey and the planned past president's night.

A report from the architects on the blacktopping of Prospect High School and discussion of board policy on the exchange teacher program are other items on the agenda.

Warming Up

Conditioning exercises for ice skaters this winter are being conducted from 7 to 8 p.m. every Monday, Tuesday and Thursday at Meadows Park by the Mount Prospect Skating Club.

X-Ray Unit Here Oct. 25

A mobile X-ray unit from the Suburban Cook County Tuberculosis Sanitariam District will be at the Ben Franklin store, 9 W. Campbell, Arlington Heights, on Oct. 25 to offer free chest X-rays to residents.

The mobile unit will be available to persons needing survey X-rays for pre-employment, pre-marital, pre-natal or licensing purposes as well as those who have not had tuberculosis checks within the past year.

Joins Firm As Officer

William J. Brinkworth, 546 S. Dryden, Arlington Heights, has joined the Chicago Corps. as a vice president.

Brinkworth formerly associated with Douglas Securities, is a member of the Investment Analysts Society of Chicago.

Batman on His Stomach

By Catherine O'Donnell

Eleven year old Tom Cooney should be one of the happiest boys in the world because he is back in school again.

Last June, he was riding his bicycle along Arlington Heights road when he was struck by a car. Tom was placed in a cast from his chest to his toe to protect a badly damaged leg. He was in traction at Northwest Community Hospital for a good part of the summer. The cast was removed a few weeks and Tom and his leg are just fine.

Tom was a little sad at losing the cast because it contained more than three months of autographs of friends, neighbors, doctors, nurses, Candy Stripers and fellow patients. A picture of a boat had been carefully painted on his back by his sister, Maureen. Another artistic endeavor by a friend had Batman on his stomach, (Tom's, that is.)

Tom is the brother of Paul, Nancy and Carol as well as Maureen. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Cooney of Olive.

Busy Weekend.

It was a busy weekend for St. Jame's school teachers.

On Saturday, Sister Joanette and Sister William took Tom Nicholson, David Merges Craig and Sue Lasher, John Lilly, Ellen Frisbie, Wendy Jeakins and Scott Bosshart to witness a Student Congress of the Chicago Forensic League at Alverna High School.

At home in Arlington Heights Sister Mariangela was accepting two flags for the junior high and grade schools. The flags had flown over the Capitol Building in Washington. Congressman Donald Ramsfald and State Rep. Gene Schlickman had taken time from their busy campaigning to present the flags.

Principal Sister Charles also announced that a new organization to be called the Home School Assn. would hold the first meeting on Tuesday, October 11 at 8 pm in the Basement Hall of the school. The HSA will hold four meetings a year. The group is being formed under the leadership of Jerry and Ann Mockenhaupt who will bring Reverend James Voos to speak at the meeting. His topic will be "How is Johnny Doing?"

And During The Same Weekend...

The Park District referendum figures were not easy to come by on Saturday night. The figures given by the Park District office were 896 affirmatives and 2,405 negatives. The figures given by the Paddock public service phone were 1,060 yes and 6,276 no. A call to The Chicago Sun-Times gave the figures as 2,241 yes votes and 1,060 no votes. The man at the Park District who answered the phone said their figures were correct. The Paddock public service was a recording. The Sun-Times said they would check.

Lost on the Weekend

A man called to say that if anyone is planning to visit in Greenbrier, care should be taken not to miss the small sign on Palatine road.

"If you do", he said, "you'll drive for more than one mile before you turn around."

He also said he thought it was a traffic engineering achievement equalled only by the guide lines painted on Northwest Hwy.

Saturday's Children

On Thursday night, George Carl of Radio Station WNWC was telling his listeners that The Day's Mel Miles had not presented a very flattering picture of him in a story Mel had written.

It was about a visit made to the station to meet a long haired group called Saturday's Children.

If Carl wants to check, he'll be surprised to find that there were many more listeners tuned in to his broadcast, after the story than before.

Even Day by Day heard the broadcast during a time that the radio is silenced by the television.

One thought emerged. Saturday's Children have the proper name. In fact all of the long haired groups should be called Saturday's Children.

The prices of haircuts are so high on Saturday that it's no wonder they are all wearing long hair.

Smorgasbord

The Rifle Squad of Arlington Post 981, Veterans of Foreign Wars, will hold a smorgasbord and dance Saturday at the V.F.W. Clubhouse, at Yale and Northwest Hwy.

Some Day

. . . by Frank E. Von Arx

Officials of the Arlington Heights Park District cannot be too surprised over results of the referendum on a $1,750,000 bond issue for new parks.

The officials may be discouraged, but the results were pretty well sealed two weeks earlier when voters rejected higher tax rates for Elementary School Dist. 25. The school vote was 2,665 to 1,761, almost two to one, against a 21-cent hike in the educational fund. A building fund tax increase was defeated 2,748 to 1,644.

If voters are opposed to taxes for schools, it seems only logical that park programs would be considered even more of a luxury. That is the way it turned out. The park bonds were rejected 2,405 to 896, nearly a three to one margin.

The elementary school district and the park district are the victims of circumstance. The college district and high school district were in line first and won approval of bond issues within the past year.

These added taxes, plus the arrival of real estate tax bills and a change in the general economic picture in the nation, were enough to make people think twice about voting yes.

Obviously a line was going to be drawn somewhere and the Dist. 25 schools and parks found themselves on the wrong side of the line.

An unofficial tally of bond issues put to a vote during the 12 months since fall of 1965 disclosed something like $17,000,000 requested from taxpayers. The largest bond issue was $7,375,000 for the junior college program which, fortunately, is spread across the most number of tax bills.

The high school won $6,800,000 for its building program; the Arlington Heights library received $1,200,000.

After approving those sizable amounts voters can hardly be accused of not being generous. If there was one single turning point it was the arrival of real estate tax bills.

The schools, including the new tax for a junior college, increased so much people decided to call a halt.

Dist. 25 and the parks probably will get their money in time, but they had better let the taxpayer cool off a while first.

Vantage Point

. . . by Jack Vandermyn

One of the most interesting races in Cook County being contested between the two major political parties is that for trustees of the Chicago Metropolitan Sanitary District.

Because the district is scandal ridden, the Republicans are given a good chance to capture control by ousting the long-time Democratic trustees.

Wheeling and Elk Grove Townships are an important part of the sanitary district, labeled the engineering wonder of the world by some and the biggest political patronage cess-pool in the state by others.

All of the sanitary sewer waste from the two township is channelled into the sanitary district sewers for disposal at sewer treatment facilities.

In Mount Prospect, the sanitary district owns the sewer system itself and this is one of the only deals of its kind the district has with any municipality in the area it serves.

It is tremendously important to the residents of this area that the mess in the sanitary district be resolved. The literal smell of scandal has penetrated into the City of Chicago.

Because of the situation, Republican candidates for the district are expected to be winners. The question here is whether the City of Chicago vote can be gotten out in spite of the bad taste the present trustees are leaving in voters' mouthe.

THERE IS little glamour – but a lot of responsibility – connected with the officer of Cook County Assessor.

It is the assessor's responsibility to supervise the fair and equitable classification of real and personal property in the county.

In Cook County, unlike the other counties in the state, every year is a quad-rennial assessment year. The county is so large and the scope of the assessing job so great, that it is necessary to divide the county into four groups of townships and to hold a quadrenniel re-assessment of property in each of the sections each year.

Contesting the office of county assessor is the veteran Democratic political power P.J. Cullerton. His opponent is Homer Fields.

Thus far, the race has been a quiet one. As we said before, the office is administrative and there is very little glamour involved in its administration.

Cullerton is a well known politician who has been in the county political limelight for many years. His opponent, Homer Fields, is a virtual unknown – a surprise choice at the Republican nominating conference.

This is another case of the GOP going with a candidate who is little known to the voters against a Democrat who is a literal political powerhouse.

As things now stand, Cullerton is going to be a big winner – regardless of how the political tide turns against the Democrats.

IN ANOTHER county race that is generating interest, Ed Kucharski tangles with Marshall Korshak for the post of Cook County Treasurer.

Both are well known in the city of Chicago. Both have been in the political limelight. But only one will win.

Marshall Korshak is the veteran campaigner – the Democrat who is known as a colorful office holder and who wants to remain in office.

Kucharski is currently Cook County undersheriff. He has grabbed his share of headlines recently. It is axiomatic in Cook County that the major daily newspapers downtown develop a pre-election scandal.

The year, the scandal revolves around the office of secretary of state. It could develop to major proportions if the statements attributed to Frank Porcaro are proven.

Kucharski, at least up to the election on Nov. 8, will play a major part in the investigation – and will continue to grab newspaper headlines.

This is the type of publicity that a political candidate cannot buy. Money will buy newspaper advertising, but not headlines.

At this point, Kucharski appears to be a favorite to unseat the veteran Korshak.

Letters to the Editor

Preserve What Is Already There

Editor:

On Sunday, October 2nd, I attended a wake. It was sad as all wakes must be even though the funeral won't take place until next December. I am referring, of course, to the Bray House at 506 N. Dunton Street. Often called The Historic Bray House.

This wake was presented in the form of a Public Tour to display a beautifully built home. I don't pretend to have a head for finance or an expert knowledge of the construction trade, as most certainly do the individuals and committees who were consulted and made the decision to do away with this legacy. I have only this instinct which is rebelling against the destruction of this splendid link to the past of Arlington Heights. Admittedly a historic building. Why then tear it down to be replaced with a brick and glass structure which can have no really sufficient meaning to anyone except, possibly, the builder? Perhaps we should take a lesson from the Chinese. Growing old and growing in wisdom is synonymous. Someone or something old doesn't necessarily mean usefulness is long past.

Size of the home, as well as the undisputed value of the land, makes it impractical for any but the most astate average millionaire type family to afford. Such a family could provide the loving touch to make this house unfold and bloom again. Or possibly the house has great potential for an Alfred Hitchcock thriller. But, facing the fact that Alfred Hitchcock isn't going to drop in on our town and no mythical millionaire family will suddenly be up in arms, ready to save and bring this lovely home to life again, the fact remains, this house is ideal for one purpose today . . . a library. Not a modern impersonal. library, granted, but a place filled with the warmth and leisure of a time past.

A place where a child can find something more than a book with brightly colored pictures or encyclopedias. A place which speaks a welcome and provides a sense of continuity for the older residents of Arlington Heights. Just as one selects a book to spend time with, to savor each page, to enjoy, so this house could be enjoyed in the same way. Books and the Bray House seem to naturally belong together.

The Historical Society has recently purchased the Muller property at Vail and Fremont to be used as a museum; less than a block away from the Bray House. To develop this particular area as a showcase for Arlington's history could only add charm and interest to a village which is rapidly losing a great part of it's charm and grace. A village which is hurrying on it's way to becoming a city, already bowing in the wake of strong winds of progress. It can't be all wrong to want to preserve what is good and what is already there.

Reader Likes Parking Fee Boost

Editor:

Congratulations to the Arlington Heights village trustees for raising parking fees in commuter lots! It is about time the taxpayers of Arlington no longer have to shell out for commuters from Rolling Meadows and other neighboring villages.

If the people surveyed by your paper from these towns don't like it along with the railroad then why don't they have the railroad build a station at Rohlwing Rd. with free parking.

Getting Married?

Are you going to walk down that aisle soon?

The Arlington Day would like to publish the story of your wedding. Wedding forms, which you may complete with full information about the ceremony, are available in the Day offices at 217 S. Arlington Heights rd.

Another Schnapps Fan

Dear Schnapps (The Boxer):

As an owner of a boxer named Caesar, I would like to say how much our family enjoyed your letter.

If and when you get equal rights for dogs, please include the poor hounds of Mount Prospect.

Our neighborhood is plagued with cats who climb on windows which annoys the dogs. They also frighten the little youngsters. They are just all over the place and nobody seems to care.

If people want a pet, why aren't they part of their family like our pet. The children often want to take Caesar for a walk but we know our neighbors wouldn't like to see a dog walking the streets so he's restricted to our yard and our car. Yet he spends most of the day running from window to window looking at cats. Last Friday one almost came in our front door.

So please include us if you get help from the dogs of Arlington Heights.

Dog Lover

Its Not the Right But the Wisdom

Sir:

Apparently my letter cautioning individual citizens against attempting to apprehend armed criminals has been construed as an indictment of citizen action and self-defense. Nothing could be further from the truth.

There is indeed a right (and probably a duty) of self-defense. No one questions for a moment that one bent on inflicting bodily harm should be resisted, not only in the interest of the present victim, but also of potential ones. This is so despite the very real possibility that one may be injured or killed while resisting.

But, an intelligent man or woman will not risk his or her life lightly; they will require that the risk be justified. Thus, the decision to resist or acquiesce in a felony must entail the weighing and balancing of alternatives: the chance of injury or death against the consequences of compliance. Where the only loss would be that of money or property, the risk can hardly be justified nor should others be led to believe that this is a sound or proper course.

In the incident under discussion, not only was there no longer a threat of bodily harm, but the robbery was an accomplished fact. The young man pursued an armed felon in an attempt to recover his loot. Any knowledgeable police officer will testify that such unilateral - action is usually fatal to the citizen and that "vigilantes" are generally more dangerous than the criminals they attempt to deter. Police work is best left to police, who must (in turn) have our whole-hearted support and cooperation.

I do not deny the right of any person to fight for property alone. I do deny its wisdom.

How Is Johnny Doing?

The Home-School Club of St. James Catholic Church will meet at 8 p.m. tomorrow in the school hall.

Father James Voos will speak on the subject "How Is Johnny Doing?"

A question and answer period and group discussions will follow the talk.

The meeting will help parents and teachers discuss the best ways to help their children.

The Home-School Club has four meetings per year.

All letters to the editor must be signed, but names will be withheld upon request. Letters should be as brief as possible, typewritten, if possible, and should contain an address or phone number so their authenticity can be checked.

Nonconformists Needed

This is the age of the nonconformist. What could be more nonconforming than to come out against Fire Prevention Week being nationally advertised Oct. 9-15?

We could plug for the side of carelessness while everybody else is urging prevention. Perhaps you think we are on the side of a hopeless minority but before you cross off our nonconformity as pure silliness let us look at the record.

Last year 12,000 Americans died in fires. More than half of them were children.

Fires in the home accounted for more than half of the fatalities. Property destroyed by fires was valued at $1,455,631,000.

When you look at these figures you might think the country liked fires and people went out of their way to cause a disaster. You could almost say our stand in favor of carelessness is the popular one, that people do not want to take the simple precautions that could save their property, even their lives.

People who do not believe in our crusade for carelessness certainly would do something to stop this dreadful loss from fires.

They would start by putting the telephone number of the fire department next to the telephone, and next to every extension telephone in their house. They would be ready to save precious minutes when they need help.

Nearly all fires are little when they start. The first five minutes is crucial when you fight them. Do not waste precious time sounding the alarm or trying to fight the fire yourself. Many times firemen could be on the scene and save a life if somebody had not tried to be a Do-It-Yourself Fireman.

Some people are embarrassed when they have a fire because they know it started from their own carelessness. The fire department knows that three out of four fires are caused by carelessness. It is far better to be embarrassed then to suffer unnecessary property damage or a life lost.

When children are left with a baby sitter there should be an understanding of action to be taken in an emergency. The fire department's telephone number, familiarity with all exits in the house, even a flashlight ready for use are precautions that may prove invaluable.

The best way to escape a fire is to prevent it. Nonconformists who refuse to take even the most elementary fire prevention precautions are in serious danger. Fire strikes at any hour, often when least expected.

We hope our crusade of carelessness is doomed to failure. It will be, too, if only enough people will decide to be nonconformists and practice a little fire prevention.

Space: Step to Peace

"From this point of observation we command an extent of country nearly 50 miles in diameter. We could telegraph to the headquarters of the Army or to the White House, giving practically a map of the enemy's position . . ."

These words were relayed by Prof. Thaddeus S. C. Lowe in May 1861 as he stood in a wicker basket swinging beneath a balloon tethered to the White House lawn 500 feet below.

The incident rates merely a footnote in the history of the Civil War, though it was, says the U.S. Air Defense Command, probably the first step toward the air defense of North America.

Compare Lowe's 50½ - mile diameter view with that afforded the Gemini II astronauts from their perch 850 miles out in space, the furthest distance men have yet ventured from earth.

They were able to take in an area of more than 17 million square miles, or five times the area of the United States.

There are other contrasts. The scientific aspects of Lowe's balloon experiments were secondary to their wartime possibilities. Today, the emphasis in the space program is on the enlargement of human knowledge for peaceful purposes—though the military potentialities of space flight are not lost on those charged with the defense of the nation.

Witness the unplanned-for sighting and photographing of a previously launched Russian satellite by Gemini II.

But the developing ability of astronauts to change orbits at will, to leave their capsules to perform mid-space chores, and reports of new methods for inspecting the payloads of satellites, have nullified early, post-Sputnik predictions that some nation could blackmail the world by orbiting nuclear warheads.

Although the near-earth region of space where satellites operate is still ungoverned by any kind of international law, a treaty banning military installations on the moon seems only a matter of time.

If it does not occur before the first men have landed there, it is sure to come after both the United States and the Soviet Union have accomplished this feat and satisfied their national egos.

Paradoxically, men may finally create peace on earth by first achieving it in space. One suspects that Professor Lowe would not only be amazed but very gratified as well.

Card Table Analysis

There Goes That Relaxing Game of Bridge

BY MARILYN HELFERS

Bridge reveals all.

Watch out for that fourth for bridge, fellas. He may be analyzing you instead of his cards.

The poor executive can't even relax over a game of cards now or his true character may show through.

Marcel Lutwak, general manager of three downtown Chicago motor-inns, believes he can tell more about a business executive by playing cards with him than a psychologist can learn from him during an interview.

Lutwak says that during an interview with a psychologist the subject tends to give the answers he thinks the interviewer wants to hear. "But in a card game, a man's true character always comes out into the open."

This theory is one most wives would attest to readily. Many an evening of couples bridge has ended in less than a congenial atmosphere, when true characters are revealed.

Executives looking for additional help are told to look for ten points during a "relaxing" game of bridge.

WE THOUGHT it would be fun to relate these 10 points to women bridge players at the same time, so -- here goes:

1. Bidding: A bold bidder is a take-charge guy. A meek bidder is content to let others make decisions and is reluctant to be in the middle of the action.

A bold bidding housewife would be an ideal recruit to lead the PTA.

2. Poker face: A good executive makes decisions without emotion, whereas the man who can't conceal his feeling often betrays his uncertainty to both his associates and customers and does not instill confidence.

A woman who plays cards with a poker face is a mother whose children can't pretend to be sick in order to stay home from school.

3. Shuffling: Crisp, neat shuffling indicates a man is precise about his work, while a sloppy shuffler is usually a sloppy worker.

A woman who shuffles cards neatly is a wonderful housekeeper.

4. Dealing: The man who deals accurately every time is one who pays attention to detail. The man who misdeals, loses count, and must ask whether everyone has the proper number of cards, is one who is easily distracted.

A woman who misdeals consistently is paying proper attention to the bridge table chatter.

5. Finesses: The bridge player who regularly tries to finesse is one who is willing to take a calculated risk. But the man who chooses the safe play everytime is content with the status quo and is not eager to move ahead.

A woman who likes to take calculated risks is a great woman driver.

6. Post-mortems: One who actively takes part in post-mortems is anxious to analyze situations, to learn from experience and to help associates understand and learn, too. The man who doesn't take part in post-mortems is not willing to share his knowledge and won't help others, or he doesn't possess the power to analyze.

Post-mortems are not participated in by most women bridge players, because they don't remember what happened anyway.

7. Sacrifice bidding: A man who is willing to take a small loss on one hand to be a big winner on the next is unaffected by minor setbacks and has the confidence to come back fighting. He never gives up.

A woman bridge player that uses sacrifice bidding and is unaffected by minor setbacks just has to be a mother.

8. Squeezing cards: The card player who squeezes each card when looking at his hand is a nervous individual who more then likely will make his associates nervous, too. But the man who picks up his cards and looks at them easily is relaxed and tends to put his associates at ease.

A woman who squeezes her cards is probably thinking about the house she left in a mess to play bridge and the company that is coming for dinner.

9. Small talk: A card player who engages in "small talk" during a card game is not one whose mind is on business. "Silent Sam" is all business during business hours.

Small talk is a woman bridge player.

10. Play-of-the-hand: Decisive moves, well thought out, indicate a man knows what he wants to do and does it. If a man hesitates in playing the hand, it shows he lacks confidence.

A decisive woman bridge player is one who isn't doing her part to keep the conversation going.

Day AT HOME

MOTHERS OF THE DEBS who will be introduced at the Holy Family Hospital Ball on December 27 at the Pick-Congress Hotel met recently at a tea in the home of Mrs. Albert Rose, Arlington Heights. Arlington Heights mothers getting acquainted are from left: Mrs. Werner Cryns, Mrs. Joseph Schneller, and Mrs. Wallace Hawley.

Modeling gowns they will wear at the Anniversary Ball sponsored by the Northwest Symphony Orchestra Women's Association are Mrs. Melvin Coobs (seated), Mrs. Richard A. Lebbin, Mrs. Richard Stamm and Mrs. George Tomlinson, Jr.

Ball Gowns In the News

Silk, crepe, satin and chiffon are among the topics being discussed by the members of the Women's Association of the Northwest Symphony Orchestra. The reason is their Anniversary Ball to be held October 15 at the Park Ridge Country Club, to celebrate the 15th season for the orchestra.

Gowns being wore include an A-line brocaded skirt and blouse worn by Mrs. Malvin Coobs, 401 S. Carlisle, Arlington Heights. Mrs. Coobs plays cello with the orchestra.

Mrs. George Tomlinson Jr., 627 Western, Park Ridge, is wearing a turquoise crepe dress with chiffon panels. Mrs. Richard Lebbin of Des Plaines models a crepe gown with an empire waistline. Mrs. Richard Stamm, 1414 Redwood Drive, Mount Prospect, co-chairman of the ball, wears a velvet skirt with a richly brocaded blouse.

FORMAL wear for gentlemen is not mandatory.

Cocktails will be served at 7 p.m. while a string quartet provides the music. Dinner will be served at 8:30 followed by dance music provided by an orchestra which includes Charles Kessler of 912 Talbut, Arlington Heights.

The Women's Association welcomes area women as members. For further information regarding membership or tickets call Mrs. R. A. Lebbin at 824-5369.

Mrs. Warren W. Kreft of Des Plaines is chairing the event.

Oops! A Recipe Is Born

BY MARILYN HELFERS

Have you ever wondered how new recipes are created?

Perhaps you think they are developed in sparkling clean kitchens belonging to home economists who are constantly developing new recipe ideas. Usually this is the way they are created.

At The Day we have a new way -- we let the printer develop them.

Last week in our recipe for Apple Slices in The Day, the printer changed an "l" to a "k" and voila -- we had a new taste sensation. The recipe was supposed to read, "After the apple slices have COOLED for 10 minutes, frost them with a confectioners' sugar icing." The printer changed it to read, "After the apple slices have COOKED for 10 minutes, frost them with a confectioners' sugar icing."

ONE READER informed The Day that it was a little difficult to put this frosting on in a 450-degree oven, after the apples had only baked for 10 minutes, but she did it. According to her, the results were sensational. Instead of ruining her apple slices, she liked them better than any she had ever tasted. She said, "I never really cared for apple slices because of the frosting usually found on them, but this way they were delicious."

Note: Not all of our recipes are developed in this unusual manner.

Mrs. Richard J. Roarch Jr. (left) and Mrs. Gilbert H. Krohn (right) put the finishing touches on decorations for the annual membership brunch of the Episcopal Church Women of St. Simon Episcopal Church.

Linda Pollard Bride Of Sellman Schulz II

MR. AND MRS. SELLMAN CHARLES SCHULZ II

(Jenart Studio)

The wedding of Linda K. Pollard to Sellman Charles Schulz II on Aug. 24 was steeped in romantic traditions and friendships.

The flower girl and ring bearer for their wedding are children of the minister, R. Franklin Terry, who performed the ceremony along with his father, Dr. Ronald E. Terry. Both ministers are long time friends of the bride's family.

At the wedding, Linda Pollard wore a cameo ring worn by her mother at her wedding; a sixpence from the groom's mother dated the year the couple met, and a garter made for her by her bridesmaid, Lori Burdett. She carried her maternal grandmother's linen handkerchief.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard LaVern Pollard, 223 S. Pine, Arlington Heights. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Schulz of Evanston.

The bride wore a floor-length gown of French crepe. It had a lace bodice and a sabrina neckline. A six-foot scalloped lace train was attached at the shoulder by small bows. An elbow-length veil fell from a beaded lace Dutch cap topped with a bow of French crepe.

The bride carried a cascade bouquet of six white orchids, lilies-of-the-valley, and stephanotis.

Betty Louise Ball of Phoenix, Ariz., formerly of Arlington Heights, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Barbara Bess of Chicago; Lori Burdett of San Carlos, Calif.; Sue Ewing of Woodside, Calif., and cousin, Karen Koelling of Denver. Kristine Terry, 7, was flower girl.

The attendants wore floor-length gowns of pink linen which had elbow-length sleeves edged in venetian lace. They carried bouquets of pink carnations scattered with lilies-of-the-valley. The maid of honor's bouquet was encircled with red carnations. The flower girl wore a miniature version of the bridesmaids' dresses. She carried a basket of carnations and rose petals.

TOM LAMBERT of Covina, Calif. served as best man. Bruce Bess of La Habra, Calif.; Peter Davis of Evanston; Donald Jones of Kenilworth and the bridegroom's brother, John, served as groomsmen.

Ushers were the groom's brother Jim and the bride's brothers David and Stephen Pollard.

Bradford Terry, 4, was ring bearer. He wore a white Eton suit and knee socks.

The mother of the bride wore a floor-length empire gown of pink crepe with a cowl neckline. She wore a gardenia corsage.

The groom's mother was dressed in a two-piece floor-length gown of powder blue crepe with a beaded bodice. Her flowers were gardenias.

A CANAPE buffet was held at Old Orchard Country Club for 250 guests after the wedding. Dance music was provided by Gerald Dittman and his orchestra.

The couple honeymooned in Wisc. for a few days before motoring to Calif. where they are now at home.

The bride graduated from Arlington High School and will begin classes at the Univ. of Southern Calif. in Feb. 1967. She is presently working in the Cinema Dept. of U.S.C.

The groom graduated from Evanston Township High School.

Arlington Topples Wheeling 7-0, Takes Lead in Mid-Suburban Loop

BY BOB CASTERLINE

A balanced offense and a defense named desire offset one of the finest rushing offenses in the state Saturday as Arlington tripped Wheeling 7-0 to take sole possession of first place in the Mid-Suburban League football standings.

Arlington mixed its offense carefully, picking up 120 yards through the air and 75 more on the ground. Wheeling, hampered somewhat by an inability to move on passes, rolled up an impressive 188 yards rushing but only 29 by passing.

The battle of unbeatens left something to bu desired in the polish department, but the aggressive hard - hitting of both teams made up for the display of jitters. Nine fumbles, three interceptions, and 15 penalties for 155 yards spoiled some of the fun, but not a soul left early among the standing-room-only crowd of spectators who came to see the first meeting in history between the two Dist. 214 schools.

THE GAME'S first fumble almost resulted in a score. The Wheeling Wildcats dropped the ball at their own 18 and Tom Chandler recovered for the Cardinals. Five plays later, though, Arlington gave it back to the Wildcats on a fumble at the four, where Wheeling's Bill Surmin grabbed it.

Another Wheeling bobble set up a first-quarter field goal attempt by Arlington when Steve Allen pounced on a loose ball at the Wildcat 30. The 29-yard boot fell short and Wheeling's Dan DeVito ran it out to the Wildcat 23.

Arlington made some nearly costly mistakes, too. One Cardinal fumble gave the ball to the Wildcats at the Arlington 11 in the third quarter, but an offside penalty, a loss of four yards rushing, and three incomplete passes spoiled the opportunity for Wheeling.

Wheeling fumbled twice more in the fourth quarter, giving the ball to the Cards near mid-field, but one Arlington drive died at the Wheeling eight when the Cards ran out of downs, and the other blew up on an Arlington fumble two plays after getting the ball on a bobble.

WILDCATS RECOVERING Arlington fumbles were, in addition to Surmin, Mika Henry and George Legh-Page. Cardinals grabbing Wheeling bobbles were, in addition to Chandler, Allen, Paul Tollefson, and Karl Pingel.

Allen intercepted a Wheeling pass for the Cardinals while Rich Haddock and Tom Bastable snared Arlington aerials for Wheeling.

In spite of all the mistakes, there were two really impressive drives—one by each team. Arlington's came in the second quarter and was capped by Mick Wadzita's three-yard dash into the end zone with 7:19 left in the half.

The march started on the Cardinal 28 and needed eight plays. A 25-yard pass from Allen to Dave Lockwood was the biggest gainer in the drive, but an interference call against Wheeling was the key play.

BASTABLE AND Lockwood were involved in the play, with Bastable accused of pushing. The 15-yard penalty turned the play from an incomplete pass into an Arlington first down at the Wheeling 41.

The 25-yarder from Allen to Lockwood set the stage for the game's only score, putting the ball at the Wheeling three.

Steve Allen's conversion kick made the score 7-9 and that's how it finished.

Wheeling wasn't through, though, and ioto Arlington's buck yard a couple of times in the second half. One push got to the Cardinal 15 but a clipping penalty shoved the Cats back to the 30. On the next play Allen intercepted one of Robin Melzer's passes to end the threat.

LATER IN the third period the Wildcats took over at the 11 after a Cardinal fumble, but surrendered the ball to Arlington's tenacious defense back at the 20.

The game's most exciting action came in the dying moments of play. The Wildcats grabbed a Card fumble at the Arlington 37 with 3:37 to go, and the irresistable Wheeling offense began probing the immovable Arlington defense.

Eight plays later, with only 46 seconds left to play, Jon Hittman, Wheeling's truck-like bread - and - butter bull-carrier, crashed to earth at the Arlington five after a one-yard gain on a fourth - and - two play.

Arlington ran one dive play to keep the clock rolling after taking over on downs, and didn't emerge from the huddle until after time ran out.

THE WIN WAS Arlington's fourth without defeat, and left Wheeling with a 3-1 season record. Arlington is 3-0 in the Mid-Suburban League and faces second - place Maine West next Friday at home.

Kim Markshausen (79) of Arlington wrestles Wheeling's Jon Hittman to earth near the Arlington bench. Arlington's 7-0 win sets them all alone atop the MSL standings.

Coaches Praise Rival Elevens

Both coaches were impressed by the opposition in last Saturday's Wheeling - Arlington football game.

"They're good. We had trouble getting untracked," said Arlington's Al Allen after his team's hard - fought 7-0 victory. Bill Daletski, the Wheeling mentor, praised Arlington's hard tackling and blocking.

BOTH COACHES agreed the wind played a part in the outcome of the game too. A steady breeze from the south-southwest affected both punting and passing in the contest.

Allen, who has to pass in order to win, said the wind bothered the Cardinal aerial attack, but that some passes were just plain dropped, too.

Daletski agreed, but pointed out that the Wildcats don't pass very often and so were less affected.

Teneness caused a lot of mistakes according to both coaches, who agreed that the game had been the most important of the young league season. The nine fumbles (three by Arlington, six by Wheeling), were one result of these jitters, but bone - crushing tackling had its affect, too.

"THERE WAS an awful lot of hard hitting out there," said Allen, who added that some of the problems were caused by ball carriers who would relax too soon after being hit.

"Carelessness" was another cause, according to Daletski.

Allen's biggest lament, though, was his team's poor performance defensively between the 20 yard lines. 'We only seem to play well when we have to," he said. "You do that often enough and you get beat by it," he added.

Daletski was disappointed in his team's many mistakes, but said he was satisfied overall with the team's effort. "I think Coach Allen was right when he said earlier that the team that made the most mistakes would lose, rather than one team beating the other because of superior talent."

WHILE THE win left Arlington atop the league standings, Daletski indicated that the season was far from over for his Wildcats. "I think both Forest View and Maine West have a chance to beat them," he said, "which could move us on top if we win from now on."

The Cardinals face Maine West at home Friday while Wheeling steps out of conference play to face Niles North away next Saturday.

2nd Halt Surge Boosts Lions Past St. George

BY DALE HOFMANN

St. Viator's slumbering Lions found the scoring punch they had been looking for in their first three outings yesterday, and they used it to bury a weary but stubborn St. George team 26-0 in the Chicagoland Prep League opener for both clubs.

Coach Joe Gliwa's "mosquito backfield" which had produced only 23 points in three games came alive in the second half against the Dragons, cutting loose for three touchdowns.

GLIWA'S CHIEF pest was senior scat back John Cook who scored two of the Lions touchdowns and outgained everyone on the field. The 5-8, 168 pound speedster romped 90 yards in nine carries and collected three first downs.

But just about everyone had a hand in the Lions' rushing attack. St. Viator outgained the Evanston eleven on the ground by almost 240 yards, amassing 282 to the Dragons' 44. Nine Lion backs got in on the fun before the final gun was heard.

THE DEFENSE claimed its share of heroics, as it limited St. George to only 172 yards for the afternoon. And much of that came late in the final quarter when most of the Lion first - stringers were watching the proceedings from the bench.

Gliwa's gang took its time snapping out of its early season coma though. The two squads left little to choose from before intermission. But St. George used its starting eleven both ways for almost the entire game, and the Dragons were simply dragging when St. Viator launched its attack in earnest.

NO ONE GOT on the scoreboard yesterday until the closing minutes of the first half. The first quarter and most of the second was spent on a see-saw battle that saw each team stall once deep in enemy territory.

The Lions served warning on St. George through when they travelled from their own 20 to the goal line in four plays with four minutes left in the half.

COOK GOT things started with a 36 yard ramble that took the Lions to the St. George 44. He slashed off tackle again for six more yards, and John Wendell moved the ball three more.

Junior Kevin Coulter was the Viator choice on the next carry, and he filled the bill with gusto. The wiry halfback took the handoff from quarterback Bob Stevens, dashed to the sidelines on his right and then reversed his field and scampered home in full view of the agonized Dragon bench.

DENNY PALUBICKI sent the extra point through the uprights, giving St. Viator the 7-0 lead it carried into the locker room.

An exchange of punts in the early going of the third quarter left St. Viator on its own 44 where it launched its first extensive drive of the afternoon.

Stevens directed his mates the 56 yards to the Promised Land in 10 plays, eating up three first downs in the process. Once again it was Cook who sparked the drive with a 19 yard gambol that put the Lions at the St. George 31.

COULTER, Stevens, and fullback Tim Beck took turns carrying the mail to the 2-yard stripe before Cook dived over for his first score. Palubicki's kick was blocked, but St. Viator owned a 13-0 lead with four minutes to go in the third period.

St. George could go nowhere with the Viator kickoff, and they had to punt.

STEVENS AND BECK improved St. Viator's lie on two carries, leaving the ball on the Dragon 13 as the period ended. Two more rushing plays set the stage for Cook who scampered into the endzone from the five at 10:30 of the fourth quarter. Again Palubicki's kick was blocked and the score read St. Viator 19, St. George 0.

It took St. Viator only five more minutes to add its final insult to the Dragons' injury. Gliwa decided to let his reserves engineer the final drive which started on the St. Viator 34 after a St. George punt.

ST. GEORGE threatened to spoil the Lions' shutout late in the final period. But Gliwa sent in his front line defensive troops when the Dragons penetrated the Viator five, and an offensive pass interference call quenched the danger.

"Mosquito" Backs Bug Dragons

That wasn't a pack of hungry St. Viator Lions that devoured St. George 26-0 at Winnemac Park yesterday - it was a swarm of mosquitos.

Coach Joe Gliwa has dubbed his size-shy backfield regulars "the mosquitos", and Gliwa noted happily yesterday they were never pestier.

"WE ONLY HAVE one back on the whole squad that weighs more than 170 pounds," Gliwa said, "But their size didn't bother them today. The mosquitos kept plugging. Do you realize that this was the first game in four where we have gotten a score from a halfback?"

Actually St. Viator got three of its four scores yesterday from halfbacks. Kevin Coulter, one of the smallest of the group at 5-7, 142 pounds, put the Lions on the board with a sparkling 40-yard dash in the second quarter.

AND JOHN COOK, a 5-8 168-pound mighty mite, scored twice for St. Viator while leading the local outfit in total offense. The final touchdown came from fullback Tim Beck who is the giant of the swarm at 190 pounds.

Gliwa had nothing but praise for his entire offensive backfield yesterday. "We got a lot of help from some boys who haven't played much before," Gliwa explained. Tom Ley (141 pounds) and Laszlo Pavel (144) rolled up a lot of ground for us, and John Wendell played another good game." Wendell is the runt of the litter at 5-6, 135 pounds.

WHILE GLIWA was impressed by the improvement of his offensive troops he said they still have to go some to catch up with the defensive alignment. "The entire defensive line did a terrific job today," Gliwa said. "We held them to 44 yards on the ground, and they completed only six out of 25 passes. Our pass rush was at its best today."

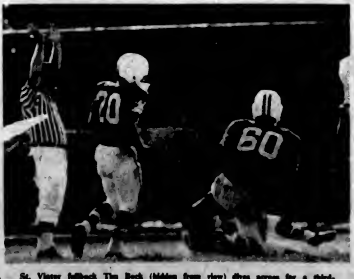
Special mention also went to defensive halfback Ralph Anderson who intercepted one pass and broke up another that would have gone for a touchdown in the fourth quarter.

GLIWA SAID he uttered no magic words at halftime to spur his charges to their three-touchdown explosion in the second half. "They just seemed to realize that they had better get out there and score, or there was going to bu an upset," he said.

The crew-cut Viator mentor called Coulter's second-quarter touchdown the turning point in the game. "Kevin showed them that it could be done," Gliwa said. "After that we just picked away at their defense and capitalized on their mistakes."

THE LIONS will bu trying to bug Marion Catholic in their next Chicagoland Prep League battle Saturday at 8 p.m. at the Arlington High School field.

That's an angry Al Allen, head football coach at Arlington High School, shouting some instructions to his Cardinals during Saturday's crucial battle with Wheeling. The Cards emerged as 7-0 victors to remain unbeaten.



St. Viator fullback Tim Beck (hidden from view) dives across for a third-quarter touchdown against St. George Sunday. Tom Ley (20) and Mike Miller (60) seem to be enjoying the spectacle.

Prospect 11 Bows To Ekeberg, Pirates

BY DALE HOFMANN

Palatine's John Ekeberg returned to the Mid - Suburban League football wars Saturday with a message for Prospect's beleagured varsity troops. It read, "Not yet."

The winless Knights looked like they might have had the horses for their first loop triumph, but Ekeberg and the Pirates dashed the local hopes 14-0 on a windy afternoon at Fremd High School.

EKEBERG, who was an all-conference selection last year as a junior, donned the pads for the first time this season after being sidelined by an injury. He got back just in time to spoil a valiant Prospect defensive effort, collecting both Palatine touchdowns and rolling up 80 yards in 16 carries.

The Prospectors held their hosts to a scoreless tie in the first half but they couldn't get their own offensive machinery in gear. Much of the problem was caused by the loss of their leading ground gainer, fullback Pete Smith, who aggravated a hip injury in pre - game warm-ups. Knight Coach Don Williams said Smith might be lost for the remainder of the season.

The husky senior could have made the difference for the rapidly improving Knights.

WILLIAMS' WARRIORS were never really out of Saturday's struggle. They were inside the Pirate 9 with 4:00 left in the game, trailing 7-0. And they were as close as the Pirate 25 with two minutes to go. But the big play never came.

Game statistics illustrated vividly just how closely the two clubs were matched. Palatine made 179 yards from scrimmage, and Prospect rolled up 146. Both teams ground out nine first downs, and while Palatine forced to punt six times, the Knights booted five.

SMITH'S REPLACEMENT at the starting fullback spot, Gary Cobe did more than his share to pick up the slack. The 165 - pound junior led all Prospect ball carriers with 51 yards in seven carries for a sparkling 7.3 average.

But he had a worthy counterpart in Palatine fullback Pat Kinsella. Kinsella punched gaping holes in the Prospect line, while Ekeberg concentrated his efforts on end sweeps. The combination finally wore the local squad down.

PALATINE won the flip of the coin and elected to kick off with a strong wind at its back. The wind kept the pigskin in Prospect territory for the entire first period, but neither team mounted a serious threat in those 12 minutes.

The Pirates were rumbling early in the second stanza though until Bill Whittmeyer pounced on a host fumble on the Knight 24.

THE KNIGHTS returned the favor moments later by committing a bobble of their own on their 35. But Prospect's defense stiffened, and Williams and company were back in control in four plays.

Quarterback Jon Phillips moved his mates to the Palatine 44 only to have a pass intercepted 20 yards from the goal line. The half ended as it began with the ball semi - deep in Prospect property.

THE VISITORS began to make scoring noises again early in the third period, but their drive stalled on the Palatine 30. It was the Pirates' turn.

Palatine quarterback Brian Scholl hit halfback Wayne Render with an 18-yard pass to the 48 and the fire was ignited. Ekeberg carved out 34 yards as the Pirates marched to the Prospect 3, and the spindly speedster leaped into the endzone from there with 2:10 showing on the third-quarter clock. Kinsella booted the extra point to give the hosts a 7-0 bulge.

The Knights came as close to paydirt as they would all afternoon midway through the fourth quarter. They took a Palatine punt on their own 24 and marched all the way to the Palatine 9 before running out of downs.

TOM LUNDSTEDT, the Knights' one - time starting quarterback, was the key man in the drive, operating as a split end. Lundstedt hauled down a pass from Al Wilcox that left him on the Pirate 45 to start the campaign.

On the next play he grabbed a bomb from Jim Gumz on the enemy 27. Cobe then battled his way to the 20, and Wilcox raced to a first down on the 9. And then the roof fell.

PHILLIPS aimed an incomplete pass at Lundstedt, and on the next play he was dumped on the 14 by a swarm of Pirate lineman. Cobe battled back to the 5 on the next play, but another broken up aerial ended the Prospect uprising.

The Knights got one more chance, taking a Palatine punt on the 28, but a big clipping call spelled disaster.

THE PIRATES sliced through the demoralized Prospect forces in the closing seconds of the contest, breezing 37 yards in eight plays for their final score. It was inevitable that Ekeberg should cover the last 13 with only a second left on the clock.

Hold Edge

Illinois' football team holds an all - time edge over seven of the ten teams it will play during the 1966 season. Only schools which have winning records against the Illini are Michigan, Ohio State, and Wisconsin. Illini hope to even the series with the Badgers this year, as it stands now at 18-19 -5.

Post Shutouts

Michigan State's soccer team shut out eight of 13 opponents in 1964 en route to a 10 - 1 - 2 record and second place in the NCAA playoffs.

Cards Win Dual Meet At Wheeling

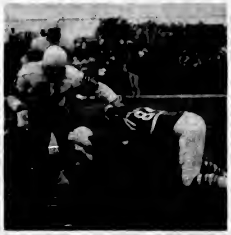
Arlington's undefeated varsity cross country team romped effortlessly past winless Wheeling 15-40 Friday to post its fourth straight Mid-Suburban League dual-meet victory.

Dave Dieters loped home first for the Cardinals in 9:59, finishing well off his course record time of 9:40. Rory Cassidy was second, only one second behind Dieters, while Rich Saxton took third, five seconds off the pace.

Tom Swanson and Larry Malcolmson rounded out the Cards' and the meet's first five. Swanson grabbed fourth in 10:10, and Malcolmson was fifth in 10:18.

Arlington's freshman and sophomore teams made the meet a clean Cardinal sweep. The sophomores triumphed 16-45 with Scott Butler leading the way in 10:37. Bill Heffernan's 11:23 performance paced the freshman to an 18-45 victory.

Coach Bruce Samoore's troupe will be back in action tomorrow at Glenbrook South at 4:30 p.m.



Al Wilcox of Prospect eludes one Palatine tackler en route to a short gain against the Pirates Saturday. Wilcox gained 35 yards in six carries and handled most of the Knights' kickoff and punt return chores.

St. Viator Harriers Top St. Mel, De LaSalle

St. Viator won both ends of a double-dual cross-country meet against De La Salle and St. Mel Friday, beating St. Mel 15-44 and the Meteors 20-37.

SENIOR BOB Nemec was top Lion finisher, taking second place with a time of 10:14. First place went to De La Salle's Mike Taylor, who came home in 10:01.

Pat Jenkinson was the second St. Viator finisher, whisking home third. The Lions were bunched after first place, taking fourth, fifth, and sixth, too.

FRED BOOTH picked up the fourth-place laurels, and Greg Peterham took fifth. Lou Peterham finished sixth.

Des Baran led the St. Viator sophomore team to a 26-29 win over De La Salle, taking third place. The little Lions didn't compete against St. Mel.

St. Viator's next action is slated for Thursday at 4:30 p.m. when the Lions face Carmel High School of Mundelein.

Arlington Harriers' Depth Wins Wisconsin Meet Title

Arlington's team depth and the flashy performance of a Forest View individual paid off in a one-two finish for the Cardinal and Falcon varsity cross-country teams Saturday at the 29th annual Janesville (Wis.) Invitational Meet.

Forest View's Ted Lambert trotted home second with a time of 9:54 behind the first-place winner from Milwaukee Marshall.

LAMBERT'S race sparked the Falcons to a second-place team finish with 105 points. His teammates were strung out behind him in ninth, 25th, 31st, and 38th.

Arlington bunched five runners between fourth and 14th, though, to grab the team title with 44 points. All five finished within 10 seconds of one-another.

Cardinal Dave Dieters finished fourth with a time of 10:10, followed closely by Rory Cassidy of Arlington in fifth. Greg Busch placed eighth, and sophomore Tom Swanson was 13th. Rich Saxton closed out the varsity scoring with a 14th-place finish on a 10:27 clocking.

THE OTHER Falcon to finish among the top 10 was Oscar Pequeno, who came in ninth. Cliff Kuhnlohe took 25th, and Joe Branka placed 31st. Dick Appleton rounded out the Falcon scoring with a 38th.

Forest View and Arlington both scored 141 points at the Varsity B level, tying for fourth place. Fremd High School of Palatine took first with 26.

Ernie Trotman of Forest View placed seventh in the B meet, and Bob Bell placed 11th.

Arlington's top B level performance was turned in by Al McKay, who placed 12th. Dave Marszalek was 13th, and Larry Malcolmson took 22nd. Bill Price was 34th.

COACH JOHN Heenan of of Forest View said his team's problem came from being spread out too far. "They were farther apart than they should have been," he lamented after the meet.

Arlington's coach, Bruce Samoore, called his team's victory "a team effort." "No boy was exceptionally outstanding," he said. "They grouped well and that was what was important. Many teams have a single good runner, but our depth is going to help us in the district meet. If you're grouped well, you've got a good chance to win," he said.

Cats Name Two Grid Captains

Two seniors — end Cas Banaszek and middle linebacker Bob Otterbacher — have been named co-captains of the 1966 Northwestern football team.

Banaszek, a prep quarterback standout at Chicago's Gordon Tech High School, has been the team's leading receiver the past two years. He needs but 13 more receptions to break the school career record for pass receiving.

Otterbacher, once a high - scoring fullback at Cardington (O.) High School, beat out two veterans for the starting middle linebacker assignment as a sophomore and has been one of the Big Ten's top defensive players ever since.

Palatine Hands Knights Fifth Straight Defeat

Palatine extended Prospect's varsity cross country slump to five straight dual - meets Friday by dumping the Knights' varsity crew 18-44.

Steve Holmes was the first man in the chute for the hapless Prospect harriers, finishing in third place in 9:49 over the 1.9 mile Palatine course. The gritty senior flashed home five places and 40 seconds ahead of his nearest teammate.

OWEN McBRIDE was second for Prospect and eighth in the meet with a 10:30 timing. McBride was followed by Chuck Forbes in tenth, Dave Baker in eleventh, and Bruce Oswald in twelfth.

Prospect's sophomore team continued to shame its varsity brothers with a perfect 15-50 conquest of the Pirate second-yearmen. Dave Proudfoot led the local crew, taking first place in 10:37, and six more Knights entered the chute before the first Pirate finisher.

THE FRESHMEN made it two-out of three for Prospect by topping the Palatine freshmen entry 16-47.

Coach Joe Wanner's varsity runners will try to improve on their 4-5 dual - meet record tomorrow when they travel to Forest View at 4:30 p.m.

Elk Grove Ties Deerfield

Elk Grove turned a booming punt by John Knopf into a touchdown Saturday to salvage a 7-7 tie with the Deerfield junior varsity team.

The deadlock snapped a three-game Grenadier losing streak and provided the brightest spot so far in what has been a generally gloomy varsity picture.

COACH DICK Mudge considered the contest something of a moral victory, since the tie came against a Deerfield team which is unbeaten and had been scored on only once before in three outings.

The Grenadiers rolled up 215 yards for their most productive showing of the season, collecting 166 of them in the air. Elk Grove passed 39 times and connected on 21 of the aerials.

ONE GRENADIER score was called back on a holding penalty, and Elk Grove receivers dropped four passes in the enemy end zone.

The Grenadiers scored the game's first touchdown early in the third period. Knopf unloaded a 56 yard kick into the Deerfield endzone. Jim Hoffman tackled the Warrior receiver behind the goal line, jarring the ball loose, and end Roy McClelland fell on it for the score.

JIM OPLT booted the conversion to give Elk Grove a short-lived 7-0 lead.

But Deerfield struck back with a six-play drive that covered 56 yards. A six-yard end sweep by the Deerfield fullback was the payoff punch.

ELK GROVE threatened once more, penetrating the Warrior eight late in the third period before running out of downs.

Deerfield got into field goal range twice in the final minutes of the contest, but both kicks fell short.

EG Harriers Place 11th In Invitational Competition

Gary Steen raced home fifth in a field of 259 runners Saturday to pace Elk Grove's varsity cross country team to eleventh place status in the annual Ridgewood Invitational Meet.

The Grenadier harriers piled up 259 points in the 16-team field that was topped by Immaculate Conception with 89.

Steen covered the 1.9 mile Ridgewood course in 9:43. He didn't get much company in the front of the pack from his teammates though, as Gary Pleickhardt was second for the Grenadiers and fifty-seventh in the meet.

All of the Elk Grove harriers managed to finish in the top 100. Bob Texidor was sixty-first, while Jerry Ancona captured sixty-fourth, and Pat Texidor took seventy-second place.

Elk Grove will test Lake Zurich Thursday in its next dual-meet on the Lake Zurich course.

Maine West 11 Overwhelms FV In Second Half

BY BILL PETERSON

It started all wrong for Forest View Saturday.

On the first play from scrimmage the Falcons fumbled on their own 17. Alert Maine West fell on the ball and four plays later Dick Manny plunged one yard for the touchdown.

THE FUMBLE was the beginning of a tragedy of misfortune for Forest View that included two other fatal fumbles and two deadly pass interceptions, one in the end zone. On another occasion an apparent touchdown was lost when Jeff Jacoby slipped on the six yard line on a fourth down play with no Maine West defenders between him and the goal line.

The mistakes, miscues and boners added up to a 35 to 7 defeat for the Falcons, their third loss in four outings.

IT WAS homecoming for the Warriors and they could do no wrong. They capitalized on a low Forest View punt which Al Fritz ran back 21 yards to set up their second touchdown.

Two passes and two running plays put them into the end zone. Senior Andy Sanchez kicked his second of seven conversions to make the score 14 to 0 with 5:28 remaining in the first quarter.

FOREST VIEW fought back, marching 69 yards to Maine West's eight yard line before Quarterback Richard Gillespie threw the ball into the arms of Bob Banger, a Warrior defensive back.

On the Falcons' next crack at offense, Gillespie hit Dennis Lynch with a bullet pass on the Warriors' 22 yard line for a 21 yard gain. Gillespie then went to the ground and inched his team apfield.

ON A FOURTH down play just six yards from pay-dirt Jacoby slipped as he skirted right end. Five Falcon blockers guarded the corridor to the goal.

In the dying moments of the second quarter the Falcons put their jitters aside long enough to muster their only score on a three-yard dive by Jacoby. It climaxed a 41-yard drive and sent the Falcons to the dressing room with hope.

THAT HOPE waned as Maine West's award-winning band and nifty pom-pon girls paraded their wares during halftime.

The opening moments of the half were almost a rerun of the first quarter. Jacoby dropped a high Warrior punt and couldn't find the handle on the ball. It rolled to the eight-yard line where a host of Warriors fell on it. Bob Banger took just one play to bull in for a touchdown. Sanchez's kick made it 21 to 7.

FIVE MINUTES later Manny broke loose for 54 yards and another Warrior touchdown. All that remained was the icing.

That came in the final period when Manny intercepted a Gillespie pass and ran with it to the Falcons' 13. Two plays later Bob Banger went six yards for his second touchdown.

SURPRISINGLY, Forest View out first downed the Warriors 10 to 8 and outgained them 308 to 219. But they led in two other departments, too: fumbles 3 to 1 and pass intercepted 2 to 0.

Maine W., LaBadie Whip Forest View

Maine West won the battle and the war Friday, as the Warriors' varsity cross country team edged Forest View 23-32 behind speedy Lee LaBadie.

The battle was fought by LaBadie and Falcon ace Ted Lambert, two of the area's top harriers. LaBadie strided across the finish line on his home course in 10:04, while Lambert was a distant second in 10:15.

MAINE WEST then took third, fourth, and fifth places before a swarm of Falcon harriers could find their way into the chute.

Dick Appleton was the next man home for Forest View, finishing sixth in 10:53. Cliff Kuhnlohe, Oscar Pequano, and Joe Braska captured seventh, eighth, and ninth places respectively with identical times of 10:54.

THE LOSS was Forest View's second in three Mid-Suburban League outings, and it almost certainly eliminated the Falcons' chances of repeating as loop titlists.

Coach John Heenan could derive no solace from the sophomore competition which his charges also dropped by a lopsided 18-45 count.

BOB BELL finished first for the Falcon sophomores and third in the meet with an 11:33 effort on the two - mile Warrior course.

Forest View will try to get back into the win column tomorrow when it entertains Prospect at 4:30 p.m.

He Did It Again

By Lee Strobel

Paul Sampson has done it again. "Saturday's Children," a combo under his management, has just recorded its first record and it looks like a hit.

Another group managed by Sampson, "The Shadows of Knight," already has several singles and an album out. His other main interest, The Cellar, is also enjoying thriving success.

Unlike The Shadows, "Saturday's Children" aren't originally from the northwest suburbs. Jeoff Bryan, the bass guitarist, is from Hammond, Ind., the drummer, George Pall, and organist Rick Goettler, both are from the extreme south side of Chicago; Ron Holder, the rhythm guitarist, is from Chicago's north side; and Dave Carter, lead guitarist, comes from Villa Park. All have lived in Arlington Heights for the past 6 mos.

THE STORY of how the group climbed to success demonstrates how sincere the boys were in their ambition. Jeoff Bryan was once a member of the "Blackstones," who frequently played at The Cellar. After a series of confusing changes, Jeoff ended up without a job and went back to Hammond to begin another group.

Because Sampson knew Jeoff had musical talent, he urged him to put together the new group. Jeoff did and it was soon booked for a short engagement at The Cellar.

"It took them two days to get down an act of 11 songs," Sampson recalls, "and they knew them just well enough so that the kids wouldn't laugh at them."

Determined to improve, Jeoff and his combo rehearsed for six days a week. "I remember when they'd call me early on Sunday morning just to get the keys to The Cellar so they could practice," says Sampson.

But all of their practice soon paid off. Their first record, "You Don't Know Better/Born on Saturday," was recently recorded by Duanwhich Records and is being nationally distributed by Atco Atlantic Records. The songs were written by Jeoff Bryan and Ron Holden.

The flip side, "Born on Saturday," reveals how the group coined its name. All of the boys in the combo were born on Saturday, thus the name "Saturday's Children."

ARLINGTON'S radio station WNWC, already has broadcast the song and the two big Chicago stations, WLS and WCFL, should begin to play it this week.

Sampson is extremely optimistic as to the record's success. "The kids in the suburbs, especially the guys at The Cellar, seem to be good forecasters as to what's going to be big," he said, "and everyone who's heard it digs it a lot."

And, as if to back up Sampson's optimism, "Saturday's Children" already have recorded eight additional records and have an album lined up.

Also in a recent interview, Sampson told about The "Shadow's" new record. "Nothing like it has ever been recorded before!" he exclaimed. "It's the wildest thing yet!"

Whatever it is, it's scheduled to be released in about 10 days, along with their second album due for release within the week.

Parked Cars Are Victims Of Accidents

Even cars parked and minding their own business are not immune to accidents.

Arlington Heights police reported two collisions involving parked cars last week.

Joan Braaweiler, 39, of 2103 E. Fremont, was ticketed for negligent driving after she turned a corner at Fremont Ct. and Prindle and ran into the rear of an auto owned by Peter Pleck of Niles.

The second parked-car collision involved Mrs. Elizabeth Curran, 43, of 411 E. Valley Ln.

Police said Mrs. Curran was backing out of her driveway, but she backed too far and struck an auto owned by Satirus Tontis of Chicago.

Mrs. Curran was ticketed for improper backing.

DOCTOR SAYS

Afraid of Doctors?

W. G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Q—I am deathly afraid of nurses, doctors and hospitals. I want to take a job but I would have to have a medical examination and I'm afraid they would find something seriously wrong with me. What should I do?

A—It is surprising how many letters of this kind I get. I can assure you the doctor would find something seriously wrong with you—a whopping case of immaturity. People who are afraid the doctor will find tuberculosis, heart disease or cancer do themselves much harm by delaying an examination that would enable the doctor to treat these diseases early enough to do some good.

A century and a half ago it is true that a hospital was a place to go to die. The chances of coming out alive were slim and some of the old fear persists.

There is another group of persons, the chronic complainers, who are afraid to go to the doctor because they are afraid he won't find anything seriously wrong with them. These persons are also immature. A mature person wants to know the truth and to face up to it.

I suspect that my reader is now afraid to open her newspaper for fear I may have answered her letter.

Q — I have heard that aspirin tablets give off a vinegar odor when they are kept too long. Is this true? Would it be bad to take them then?

A — Aspirin is acetylsalicylic acid. It should be kept dry because moisture hastens its breakdown into acetic acid, which smells like vinegar, and salicylic acid. Salicylic acid is very irritating to the stomach and may cause bleeding from the mucous membrane. The degree of harm would depend on the amount of chemical change that had taken place and one's own sensitivity to salicylic acid.

That's Me

Jo Rogers screams with surprise as her name is announced Friday afternoon as Queen of Wheeling High School's "Autumn Daze". Her proud escort is Tom Traversone of 112 N. Emerson Ln, Mount Prospect. Miss Rogers is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Rogers, 1117 Juniper Ln., Mount Prospect.

Nursing Home, Medical Center Trigger Debates

Village Grants Zoning for Home

BY BILL PETERSON

The village board last night ignored protests from Northwest Community Hospital officials and approved a rezoning request that will enable a nursing home to be built across the street from the hospital.

The action will allow Americana Nursing Homes Inc. to build a colonial style 78-bed nursing home. The firm operates 23 other nursing homes in the Midwest.

Dr. E. J. Jacobs, president of Northwest's medical staff, rose to speak "quite frankly in opposition" to the proposal. He said the hospital has plans of building a nursing home of its own.

A private nursing home across the street from Northwest would make it difficult for the hospital to raise money for its project, he said.

"I think the nonprofit approach would be cheaper for patients and give them much better care," Dr. Jacobs said.

When pressed on the need for a nursing home Jacobs admitted, "The sooner we get it here the better."

HOSPITAL administrator Alan B. Campbell said it will be several years before Northwest can build a nursing home.

Campbell said he has investigated Americana homes in other cities and is satisfied with the firm's ethical standards.

"I think the needs of nursing care patients can best be served under the same roof as the hospital," he added.

Earlier this year Northwest completed a $2,000,000 addition which placed a heavy financial obligation on the hospital operation.

"In view of the fact that the hospital doesn't have plans here tonight and there is a definite need for a nursing home, I'm in favor of approving the rezoning," Trustee

Dancing Alone Is No Fun

Rolling Meadows square dance caller Merrill Tibbits stepped up to the microphone last week in the Kimball High School gymnasium.

"Swing your partners," he said. Nothing happened.

"Do-si-do. . .," he called out a bit louder. Still nothing.

"Promenade home. . .," he tried again. Noting that he was getting no response, Tibbits decided to call it a night.

Tibbits had been scheduled to hold the first square dance class for the Rolling Meadows Park Dist. but nobody had shown up.

Jack Fogel, director of the district, said that next week Tibbits will try again.

Hub Caps Stolen

The theft of a set of hub caps valued at $60 was reported to Arlington Heights police Monday.

Miss Karen Katowski, 1408 E. Northwest Hwy., told police the hub caps were taken from her car over the weekend.

Griffith Resigns School Board Post

WILLIAM GRIFFITH

William F. Griffith of Arlington Heights, resigned from the High School Board of Education last night.

Griffith said the increase in his business has become too demanding and felt he did not have adequate time to devote to board matters.

In a letter to H.W. Armstrong, president of the board, Griffith stated:

"In order to be fair to all concerned I believe a board member must have sufficient time to devote to board activities. Because of increased demands of my business at the present time I no longer can provide the necessary time and therefore wish to submit my resignation from the Board of Education of Dist. 214 effective Nov. 1.

"The time I have spent on the board has been an enjoyable, interesting experience. I have learned much about the education business which should be beneficial to me in the future as one of its stockholders."

GRIFFITH'S term expires in April, 1967. The board accepted the resignation and has until Dec. 1 to appoint a person to fill the unexpired term.

Griffith and his wife Ruth live at 8 W. Euclid and are the parents of four children. He is an insurance broker with Griffith Insurance Agency in Arlington Heights.

High School Dist. 214 includes Arlington, Prospect, Forest View, Wheeling, Elk Grove and John Hersey High schools.

The Zoning Board of Appeals last night continued a request for a variation in size for a lot in Scarsdale.

The petitioner, Stewart Matthews, is asking for a variation to allow him to build a home on a lot at 628 S. Lincoln Ln. Matthews also owns lots at 632 and 636. The other two lots have homes.

The hearing was continued until 8:30 p.m. on Oct. 24.

Board president John Kirkland told Matthews that there are not enough members in favor of the variation at the meeting to return a favorable vote. He said he had the right to ask for a continuance in the hopes that all members of the board will be present.

Viator Duo Tops Merit Competition

Two seniors at St. Viator High School in Arlington Heights have been selected semi-finalists in the National Merit Scholarship competition.

They are Roy Gorman of 417 N. Carlyle, Arlington Heights and Christopher Tietze of Palatine.

Twelve seniors have received letters of commendation for their performance on the national scholarship exams.

THEY ARE: Thomas Cullen, James Dahl, Casey Gresey, Ray Koss, and Timothy Plesko, all of Arlington Heights; Gregory Bielawski, James K. Moran and Clement Ireland, all of Mount Prospect; Lawrence Mueller and Wilbert Richardson of Palatine; Craig Turek of Wheeling, and Mark Heynis of Des Plaines.

More than 14,000 students qualified as semi - finalists in the nation from tests administered last spring. The students who received letters of commendation scored in the upper two per cent of those who will be graduated from high school in 1967.

Police Seek Motorist

Police last night watched an area around 20 S. Forrest for a driver that reportedly tried to force another car off the road.

Alvin Selkurt of that address told police a car cut him off near his home and then drove past the house several times.

Last Day For Voters to Register

Voters have until 9 tonight to register to vote in the Nov. 8 election.

Residents of Wheeling and Elk Grove Townships can register at their precinct polling places.

Monday's Day printed a list of polling places. The list was correct with one exception. Precinct 28 has been split and now votes at the Holiday Inn, 3405 Algonquin Rd.

Storage Tank Funds Diverted For New Well

The village board last night decided to use funds budgeted for a water tower to drill a new well.

"Experience during the last year has shown that we need something to bring the water up before we can think about building a storage facility," Trustee John Walsh said.

Gold Carders Get Bonus

High School Dist. 214's Gold Card Club members will receive a bonus from the Village Theater.

Senior citizens who are members of the club may attend performances of the drama group free on special nights.

Gold Card club members also attend adult education classes of the district and special events free.

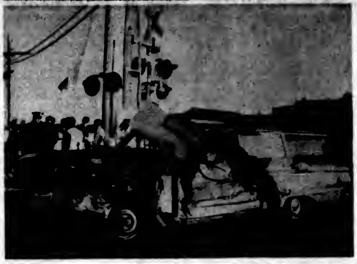
Students Select A Queen

In an impressive coronation ceremony, Jo Rogers of Mount Prospect was selected to reign as queen of the "Autumn Daze" homecoming week festivities at Wheeling High School.

Miss Rogers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Rogers of 117 Juniper Ln., was selected by student vote and was crowned Friday afternoon by Fritz Hudson, 208 S. Parkway, Prospect Heights, student council president.

Members of the court were Laura Bertrand, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Bertrand of Wheeling; Linda Rank, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Rank, 902 Hemlock Ln., Mount Prospect; Sandy Stavros, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gust Stavros of Palatine, and Sharron Vincent, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Vincent of Wheeling.

The coronation was one of the highlights of the homecoming week.



The driver got out, but the car stayed until the train came. Mrs. Mary Lukas, 30, of 3701 Fremont, Rolling Meadows, was making a turn into a commuter parking lot at Dunton and the railroad tracks yesterday evening when her auto stopped on the tracks. While she tried to back off, several men ran to Arlington Heights Rd. to warn the engineer of the Chicago & Northwestern Ry. train. Police said the setting sun and the brown color of the auto combined to make it difficult for the engineer to see the car before it was too late.

Sidewalk Opinions; 2-Year Talkathon

Hilton L. Remley, 730 E. Euclid, points to cracks in his sidewalk that he says were made by a bulldozer two years ago.

Two years ago Oct. 20 Hilton L. Remley, 730 E. Euclid, wrote a letter to the village complaining that a contractor working on the rebuilding of N. Beverly Ln. had driven a bulldozer across his lawn and sidewalk.

The bulldozer cracked the sidewalk in four places and the cement driveway in one, he said.

Remley didn't receive a reply to the letter. Nor did he to letters written the next May 30, nor June 14.

On June 26, 1964, he received a reply from Village Manager L. A. Hanson which said, according to Remley, that the letters were not answered because they weren't sent to a specific department.

A TEAM from the village engineering department surveyed the sidewalk and found the damage to be only slight. Engineer George Anderson said it is impossible to tell if the damage was caused by a bulldozer or if it simply cracked because of age.

Best said he made several attempts to communicate with Remley but that each time a meeting time and place were arranged Remley didn't show.

Remley said that in August, 1964, a man from the engineering office informed him that his sidewalk needed repair.

"I told him that I was well aware of the condition but could not see paying for damage done by the contractor, to city property," Remley said.

He fired another letter off to the village and settled down to a quiet winter. This summer he renewed his efforts.

REMLEY claims that after three visits to village hall and three phone calls the only concrete action he received was a form to sign agreeing to pay one-half of the repairs on the cracked sidewalk and all repairs on the cracked driveway.

"Boy, do I have a gripe . . .", he wrote last week in a letter to The Day. Remley's gripe is apparently a classic case of poor communications.

The village engineering department maintains that it inspected the sidewalk at least three times and made numerous attempts to contact Remley.

Anderson said the village has no way of knowing that the bulldozer damaged the sidewalk.

VILLAGE Manager Hanson said the village must be wary of such claims. On some projects the village takes pictures of property that might get damaged by consterction or repair work.

"We had one guy in here demanding that we replace his driveway because it was cracked by workers on a sewer project," he said.

"We showed him the before pictures and one taken after the work was finished. The driveway was cracked before the work started. The pictures ended the argument."

Festival at Forest View

"Fall Festival" week activities are underway at Forest View High School.

Wednesday candidates nominated by the senior class for Fall Festival Queen will be presented to the student body at a special assembly.

Candidates are: Laurie Barish, Gail Connelly, Adrienne Hamparian, Terri Hysell and Kathy Washburn. Nominated for their escorts are: Robert Arnold, Frank Cavello, Thomas Chilton, Richard Gillespie, and Barton Tarman. All are from Mount Prospect.

Barton Tarman, senior class president, is chairman of the week's activities.

Friday will be color day when each student may show school spirit by wearing black and gold, the Forest View colors.

The coronation of the queen will be held at a special assembly Friday afternoon. Mrs. Pat Kopp and the cheerleaders will be in charge of the coronation activities.

Friday night a bonfire will be held in the stadium pit area. A mixer will be held after the bonfire and pep rally.

The football game on Saturday will match the Forest View Falcons against Palatine High School. Between the junior varsity and varsity games there will be a cross country meet.

Mary Lee Inzerello, Miss Illinois, will be introduced at half-time Saturday. Miss Inzerello graduated from Forest View in 1964.

The Fall Festival activities will conclude with a student dance Saturday, sponsored by the Letterman's Club.

Mothers Tea

Itasca North PTA held a tea for all room mothers recently.

Mothers were welcomed by Normal Reinertson, principal, who thanked them for volunteering their time.

Film on Russia To Be Shown

B. S. Castor, Superintendent of Community Consolidated School Dist. 15 (Rolling Meadows and Palatine), will show slides and speak about his trip to Russia at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in Dr. Young Fellowship Hall of the Community Church of Rolling Meadows.

The program is being presented by the Women"s Assn. of the church.

Obituaries

Mrs. Agnes Sielisch

Funeral services for Mrs. Agnes Sielisch, 83, of Worthington, Ohio, were held this afternoon in the Des Plaines Funeral Home, Des Plaines. Burial was in Acacia Park Cemetery in Chicago.

She is survived by two sons, Roy of Mount Prospect and Irwin of Worthington, Ohio, and two grandchildren.

Village Approves Nursing Home

Roy Bressler said.

Three other board members present agreed.

A SHARP verbal battle broke out over a zoning request for a medical center across from the hospital and adjacent to the proposed nursing home.

Jacobs started it on a high key.

"I could see a need for a nursing home but the last thing our medical staff needs is another medical center," he said.

He said four medical centers recently built in the area already suffer from severe occupancy problems.

Jacobs cautioned the board not to misunderstand him. "As a doctor I'd like to see medical buildings go up all over the place. It would make office rent cheaper."

Attorney Howard Borde representing the zoning petitioner, Chicago Title & Trust Co., said a 50-page feasability study prepared by F.B.X. Realtors shows the location to be "the best in the area."

Jacobs agreed. "It's a lovely place for a hospital." But he said he couldn't imagine which doctors would fill the 20 suites. He said be participated in zoning hearing concerning a medical center in Elk Grove Village and "We were a hell of a lot better organized than you are.

"You don't have the signature of a single doctor who will move into the building," he told the attorney.

BORDE, who presented the petition four times before the board and the Plan Commission, rebuked the charge:

"I have been appearing before the board and the Plan Commission since July without one single doctor being present to ask questions and I'm sick and tired of it. And now you come up here tonight and say I'm not prepared."

Borde said he presented the feasibility study and detailed information on the center to Trustee Thomas Hanlon, who heads a committee studying the project.

Hanlon wasn't present to report on his study.

Borde said he had no quarrel with Hanlon but charged there has been a definite effort to keep the medical center off the board's agenda. Twice he appeared at meetings only to find the project not on the agenda, he said.

Trustee John Walsh Jr. apologized for the committee's failure to present the necessary facts to the board but warned that he opposes the project.

Action on the petition was postponed until the committee's report is presented.

German Film to Be Shown Here

"The Last Bridge," a German film directed by Helmut Kautner, will be featured at the Sacred Heart of Mary High School Foreign Film Festival. The film will be shown in the school in Rolling Meadows Wednesday at 8 p.m.

The film won the Golden Laurel Award for "outstanding contribution to mutual understanding and good will among the people of the world." It also won the International Catholic Film prize, the Evangelical Film Guild best film award and the Cannes best actress prize.

Admission to each film in the "Around the World in Film" series is 50 cents. The public is invited to attend.

General Chairman for the Wheeling Township Republican Ball John Gillen (left) of 331 S. Windsor and Committeewoman Mrs. F. James (Toni) Stewart of 503 E. Grove, both of Arlington Heights, greet Mr. and Mrs. Donald Rumsfeld as they arrive for the dinner-dance at the Chevy Chase Country Club. Rumsfeld, congressman from the 13th district, is seeking re-election to the U. S. House of Representatives.

Day by Day

How Come No Snails?

By Catherine O'Donnell

Jim Kaiser who is acting manager for vacationing manager Jim Shalleck at the Arlington Market Jewel claims there is a continuous stock turnover on a particularly interesting shelf in the grocery store.

Would you believe that local people are eating roasted caterpillars? You can buy them at the Jewel. They're on the shelf right next to the fried grasshoppers which are just below the diamond head rattlesnake.

If your tastes are a little more conventional there's ox tongue or chopped sauteed chicken livers, swordfish and rainbow trout.

If you like pheasant and hate hunting, the Jewel has canned pheasant that should do nicely. Of course, you might expect to get the feathers at that price but they're not included.

The next time you attend a social gathering and someone passes a bowl of snack stuff, check carefully. With the shape of things being boxed these days, it is becoming increasingly difficult to tell the caterpillars and the grasshoppers from the sophisticated potato chips.

"People eat them," said Jim Kaiser with the voice of a man who'd rather nibble on a pretzel.

Sarasota Greetings

Mrs. Harold Lussow sends greezings from Sarasota to all of her friends in Arlington Heights. Evelyn, who lives on S. Gibbons, is trying to grow accustomed to the leisurely pace of Florida living after the hustle and bustle of Arlington Heights.

She describes Staci's reaction to herons walking proudly across her yard. Staci is the beautiful Irish setter who was a neighborhood pet.

"Astonished" is her reaction to the herons.

Ev is constantly trying to keep her from chasing the seagulls, a change for the dog who had every squirrel in town worried. Ev, who was always around when Day by Day needed an item, is being missed very much.

Party at a Friend's

Mary Kay McCabe of Ridge, whose husband Jim is the Democrat contender from the 13th District for Congress, is finding the campaign exhilarating.

She said she'd do even more than addressing envelopes, answering phones, ringing doorbells and meeting "remarkable people" if she weren't already a busy housewife with six small McCabes.

"It's just been wonderful," she said. "The high point for me so far was our trip to Washington. Jim and I and our three oldest children went. Jim and I attended a meeting of Democrat Congressional candidates. Then we went to a reception at the Whipe House.

"The President was charming and his wife was very gracious. It was like being at a party in a friend's home. Mrs. Johnson wore a plain but beautiful black brocade." It's an exciting time for Mary Kay.

The Unexpected

Over the weekend, a lady we know decided to do something constructive so that she would rate a night out when her travelling husband came home. She painted her kitchen a glowing shade of enamel. She worked long and hard, finishing early in the morning.

The last thing she painted was the inside of the door frame. The kitchen door looked so nice that she went and painted the inside of the front door jamb. Off she went to bed saying to herself, "Well done. I may even get to spend a weekend in New York."

Like all husbands, her's had to do the unexpected. He came in early in the morning and took a taxi from the airport. He put his key in the lock and was all set to let himself in quietly so that the sleeping household wouldn't be disturbed. The back door was stuck. The front door was stuck. He pounded. She slept. He yelled. She slept.

"Painting is an exhausting task" she later said. "anyway, he pounded and yelled and I finally heard him and so did the children and all of the neighbors. We finally opened a window and he crawled in.

"I don't expect to get to New York this month. He may take me to dinner when he starts talking to me again."

Fashions Lunch and Bridge

A Very Stylish Outing

Modeling cocktail dresses at the recent Atise fashion show are Mrs. Gordon Beckley and Mrs. H. K. Tooman, club members. Mrs. Beckley (left) is wearing a white crepe dress banded with silver brocade. Mrs. Tooman (right) models a feather-weight gold brocade made in fabric created by Jacques Coin.

Ready for the next formal dance are Mrs. John Woods and Mrs. G. Dale Pate. Mrs. Woods (left) wears a versatile formal with a jacket that buttons in the back. When it is removed she has another outfit. Mrs. Pate (right) models a white crepe formal that also comes with a beaded top - - for two formals in one.

Fashions, lunch and bridge were enjoyed by many area women at the recent Atise Junior Women's Club fashion show at Plum Grove Country Club.

Holiday Fashions by Merribee, designed by Mary Baughman of Arlington Heights, were modeled by Atise club members.

Merribee fashions showed clever and unique construction and design. Formal gowns could be detached to become cocktail dresses. Fabrics were imported. Dresses were all lined and underlined.

Hit of the day, modeled by Mrs. Wm. Steigerwald, was bright cotton striped Caftan complete with Turkish water pipe.

MRS. G. DALE PATE announced, "I've got a secret," when she appeared in a white crepe formal with a black beaded blouse. She dropped clues to her secret to the audience -- then reappeared in the same formal looking completely different. The beaded top was removed to reveal another formal underneath -- a white crepe Empire formal. To complete her ensemble she wore a green velvet evening coat lined in white peau de soie.

Mrs. Wm. Steigerwald is "at home" in silk pajamas by Merribee, Chicago modeled at the recent Atise Junior Woman's Club fashion show.

Enjoying lunch and fashions at the Atise Junior Woman's Club fashion show was Mrs. Charles Beck of Arlington Heights.

LEFT--And with a flick of your wrist this classic formal becomes a cocktail dress. The lower portion of the dress is peau de soie and is fastened to the crepe dress with a velcro closing, when it is removed it becomes a cocktail dress. Modeled by Mrs. John Parker.

. . . by Frank E. Von Arx

The Los Angeles Dodgers are banished to Japan and the Baltimore Orioles pitching staff holds the best World Series record in history.

That is a far cry from the predictions of "experts" a week ago who had the Dodgers installed as world champions almost as solidly as the name Slichenmyer on the new high school.

The Day sports department has been impossible to live with this football season. The staff of experts correctly predicted the scores of five football games the first week of action. By the end of the third week they were floating on 13 accuracies and only two misses.

Reporters had to knock before entering the carpeted suites. It was Mr. Casterline this and Mr. Hofmann that. Another week of such success and it would be Mr. Walsh and Mr. Eurich, even.

That is why Some Day instituted the expose of all "experts" as engineered by Catherine O'Donnell in her column Day by Day. Mrs. O'Donnell thinks a football is something Republicans kick around in lieu of issues. She thinks it is a technical term from the sanitary district.

Mrs. O'Donnell predicted four out of five games last weekend. She predicted a tie game, which no expert would ever do. Meanwhile, the sports analysts were fumbling around with two correct predictions.

How did a mere woman beat the experts? Well, she compared Wheeling colors with Arlington music in one game. She read history to learn St. Viator would triumph over St. George.

She looked at the cheerleaders to discover Maine West would beat Forest View and she felt the pulse of enthusiasm to predict a tie for Elk Grove and Deerfield.

The only miss was the Prospect defeat by Palatine and that has a logical explanation. Mrs. O'Donnell listened to the cheers floating from Prospect High and said they sounded stronger. She picked the Prospect Knights without taking into consideration a shift in wind conditions that gave the cheers false crescendo.

Thanks to the intuition of Mrs. O'Donnell and the ineptitude of the Los Angeles Dodgers, the world' Born Losers can hold their heads high.

Those sports experts may be good, but they are no unbeatable. Some day, if their wives let them wash dishes often enough, they may become as good as Mrs. O'Donnell.

Vantage Point

. . . by Jack Vandermyn

Robert Sabonjian has tossed his hat into the ring in the Illinois senate race.

As a write-in candidate, he has little chance to win the race, especially when the big population center of the state is Cook County where they vote on machines.

The mayor of Waukegan knows he is not going to be the next U. S. Senator from Illinois. His is politically astute enough, however, to capitalize on state wide publicity he received in the Waukegan riots to keep his name before the public -- and look forward to a bright political future in 1968.

Both Sen. Paul Douglas and Charles Percy have expressed dismay at Sabonjian's entry into the race. Both claim they will be hurt.

Mayor Sabonjian is a Democrat. He has suddenly become the darling of the "white power" advocates -- a group equally as odious to as as the "black power" screamers.

If there is such a thing as a white backlash to the recent Chicago civil disobedience, that backlash will probably work in Sabonjian's favor. Indirectly, it appears to as that the one who stands to be hurt in this new development is Percy.

Sabonjian will get votes from Democrats who can't buy Sen. Douglas' liberal attitude toward civil rights. Rather than cross party lines, they will take the time to write Sabonjian's name on the ballot.

These are votes that would have gone to Percy.

AS WE reported last week, the Percy-Douglas race is a close one -- one that could go either way.

Every vote that Sabonjian receives reflects a dissatisfied Democrat who might have crossed over and given the man from Kenilworth a tally.

Another problem the Sabonjian entry into the race poses for Percy is the re-action within the Republican Party -- or at least the conservative element of the party that has never been overwhelmed by his attitude toward civil rights.

This group literally had no place to go. The failure of Gerald Moe to get a conservative party ticket on the ballot left them with a choice between the liberal Percy and the ultra-liberal Sen. Douglas.

Now, they can cast their ballot for Sabonjian. Even though they are voting for a loser, they will have the personal satisfaction of voting for a candidate who has, "stood up and been counted."

Many conservative Republicans feel that principles are equally as important as victory. They sent the Republican Party to its most dismal defeat in 1964 just to prove their "principles."

FROM our Vantage Point, Robert Sabonjian appears to be a political opportunist. He received statewide coverage on his strong stand in Waukegan -- and now seeks to capitalize on that exposure.

Whatever his motive, Sabonjian has cast a new light on the senate race - a light that will take a lot of dousing by Percy forces if they hope to maintain this previously acquired momentum against Sen. Douglas.

While Mayor Sabonjian has become a symbol to those who admire his civil rights stand in Waukegan, his record demands deeper exploration.

MAYOR Sabonjian is the same Waukegan chief executive who threatened to withdraw the Waukegan band from a national competition in Texas when a Negro member of that band was refused hotel accommodations.

Mayor Sabonjian, in his stand against rioters in the streets of Waukegan, demonstrated that he was pro-law and order rather than anti-civil rights.

This is a position that all political leaders should embrace. If this had been the case in Chicago, Sabonjian's stand would not have been unique and the present political problems might not have arisen.

What a Difference the Day makes!

It brings you the news of your community within hours after it happens -- news you can't get on TV or radio or elsewhere. And you get it as honestly and completely as a professional staff can write and edit it.

It brings you the information on your village government, your schools, taxes, social and recreational activities, police and fire protection necessary to keep you an informed participant in your town's affairs.

If you are a homemaker it brings you help in running your household through the women's pages and the advertisements of merchants and service suppliers within minutes of your home.

It brings you an editorial page devoted to local problems and opinion.

It brings you help in planning your recreation and amusement with a daily listing of all movies and theaters within easy driving distance.

And it brings you so much more that once you become a reader you know what a difference The Day makes.

High Cost of Goofs

The experts cherish an array of charts and graphs and tables they use to explain the economy -- wage and price trends, corporate investments, interest levels, government spending and so on.

All of these factors contribute to the ups and downs -- mostly ups -- of prices, and none of them can be ignored. But one factor is never included in the statistics, though a little thought suggests it must play a not insignificant role.

It is well-known that retailers, especially supermarkets, add a certain percentage to their prices to allow for pilferage and shoplifting - the human factor of dishonesty.

But how much does business and industry in general tack on to absorb the costs of the very human factor of inefficiency, or sometimes, outright incompetence? In other words, doing twice what really should only be done once?

As an outstanding example, take the construction game. Rare is the couple who purchased a new house who have not sworn they would never go through such a frustrating process again. From misplaced plumbing to mismatched painting, seldom is anything done right the first time.

The builder, of course, pays for all this duplicated work. Of course.

Breathes there a man who has bought a new car and never had to return it to the dealer again and again to have defects corrected? It may involve a whole new transmission or it may merely require retouching the finish or resetting a window - - but multiply even minor remedial work by millions of cars a year.

The manufacturers, of course, pay for it all under their warranty guarantees. Of course.

How many letters are typed twice in the nation's office every day that should have been typed but once? How many of the trucks we see on the streets are making deliveries for the second time because they delivered the wrong item, or a defective item, the first time?

And to be fair about it, how many of the shoppers thronging the stores are returning things for exchange, and thereby adding to the stores' paperwork, because they decided they really didn't want what they bought the first time?

This inefficiency/incompetence factor, this business of doing everything twice, must amount to a fantastic sum when plotted against the whole gamut of goods and services the nation puts out. But at least it's comforting to think that it doesn't cost the consumer anything extra.

It's all included in the original price.

Letters to the Editor

Objects to Story On Singing Group

Editor:

I am writing this letter regarding the article which appeared in your October 5 edition, about a group called "Saturday's Children". I was thoroughly disappointed with this article for the following reasons:

First of all, the author wrote about George Carl, disc jockey at WNWC, in a manner which made him unrecognizable to those of us who know him. As a co-worker with him, I know he does not greet people saying "Hi ya, baby" as he was quoted as saying. As a matter of fact, Mr. Carl does not do or say any of the things the author states in his article.

Another reason for disliking this article is this: I was led to believe that this article was supposed to have helped Saturday's Children and the promotion of their record. If such was the case, the author did neither of these things. There was no mention of the record much less the names of the members of Saturday's Children.

Any musical group needs publicity, but this article gave them as much publicity as if it had not been put in the paper at all.

One more thing. If this author plans on doing any more articles on groups, he had better develop a better sense of humor, become a little less prejudiced against teen-agers, and get better and more facts before attempting to write such an article.

DOCTOR SAYS

Hay Hazard For Farmer

W. G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Lung disease, farmer's lung has been recognized for many years but the cause was discovered less than two years ago. It is a mold found in spoiled hay and is inhaled by farmers who pitch the hay.

The victims may develop chills and fever, cough, shortness of breath and weakness within a few hours after exposure to the mold. The disease may last several days or several weeks but complete recovery is the rule. An attack does not produce immunity because the disease is not an infection as was thought at first but an allergic reaction.

After repeated attacks the victim may develop emphysema. Since there is no specific treatment except to avoid contact with mold hay, it would seem wise for a victim to wear some form of respirator when he can't stay out of the hay.

A similar farm hazard, silo-filler's disease, is neither an infection nor an allergy but a form of poisoning. When a silo is filled, various oxides of nitrogen start to form. These reach a high concentration within a day or two and any farmer who enters the silo within two to six days after it has been filled is exposed to these oxides, the chief offender being nitrogen dioxide.

The onset of symptoms is even more sudden than in the case of farmer's lung. Cough and shortness of breath occur within minutes after exposure. Just as the victim appears to be improving after two or three weeks, a sudden relapse with chills and fever often occurs.

Warning: All freshly filled silos should be locked for at least 10 days to prevent children or unwary adults from entering them.

OCTOBER 11

Mrs. Richard Cameron (left) and Mrs. Frances Peterson, both of Des Plaines, display the Thacker Commemorative plate which will be sold by members of the Thacker Junior High School Adult Council. The plate is inscribed with pictures of the original Maine Township High School and the present Thacker Junior High School. A descriptive text of the history of the schools is on the reverse side.

Thacker Jr. High Commemoration

A commemorative plate on Thacker Junior High School will be available to area residents this month.

The plate will be sold by members of the Thacker Junior High School Adult Council as a service project.

The Thacker building served as the only high school for Maine Township for approximately 30 years before it was changed to a junior high school.

The plate is a 10-inch, high glass china ornament with a gadroon border and gold trim. It is inscribed with pictures of the original Maine Township High School and the present Thacker Junior High School building. At the end of the school year the Thacker building will be demolished.

THE PLATE WILL be sold for $2 and will be displayed Oct. 17 through 22 in several Des Plaines stores and banks.

It will be available Oct. 17 at "Parent Orientation Night" at Thacker Junior High School, 1557 Thacker St., Des Plaines. Plates will be sold Oct. 18 and 19 from 4 to 5 p.m. in the junior high school and Oct. 22 from 8:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. on the corner of Praire Av. and Lee St. in Des Plaines.

Thacker Junior High School, the original Maine Township High School, was constructed in 1902 at a cost of $15,000. At the end of the first year there were 50 students.

Arlington Gridders to Face Toughest 2nd Half Slate

BY BOB CASTERLINE

The Mid-Suburban League football campaign is half over, but the best half is yet to come.

Arlington's half-game lead over Maine West will be in jeopardy this week, as the 3-0 Cardinals take on the 2-0 Warriors at home Friday.

THE ARLINGTON schedule is perhaps the toughest of any left among the league-leaders. The Cards must face Prospect and Forest View in addition to Maine West.

Wheeling's third-place Wildcats will tangle with Maine West in the season finale, but have already disposed of Forest View and Prospect. The Wildcats have dates with Conant and Palatine ahead of them in addition to Maine West.

FOREST VIEW, with two losses, takes on a spoiler's role. The Falcons can toss things up for grabs by beating Arlington, and have already played Wheeling and Maine West. Forest View must must Palatine and Prospect in addition to Arlington.

Prospect has its work cut out for it in the coming weeks. The winless Knights have already played Wheeling, but must challenge Arlington and Forest View in addition to Conant.

PALATINE'S rapidly improving Pirates can do some climbing by stiff-arming Arlington, Maine West, Forest View, or Wheeling in coming weeks.

Conant has lost already to Arlington and Forest View, and still must face Maine West, Wheeling, Prospect, and Palatine.

Each team has two non-league opponents scheduled this fall. In non-conference openers the league had trouble, with only Maine West, Wheeling, and Arlington posting victories.

IN ADDITIONAL out-of-league action, MSL teams have lost two of three decisions. Maine West bowed to Maine South but Palatine beat Elk Grove. Conant bowed to Niles West last Saturday.

Other non-league tilts still to be played include Arlington at Glenbrook South, Wheeling at Niles North, Prospect at Deerfield, and Forest View at Glenbrook North.

Arlington, through three league games, is the loop's most prolific scorer and also boasts the stingiest defense. The Cardinals have tallied 83 points and allowed only six.

FOREST VIEW, with 51 points, is second in scoring, while Maine West has the second-best defense, giving up only 14.

Saturday had its tense moments for fans on both sides of the field when Arlington and Wheeling battled for the league lead. You can tell from the faces of these Cardinal rooters that all did not go well Saturday.

CaValierS Top Prep Grid Poll

Upsets and idleness last weekend in Chicago-area prep football circles caused some shuffling in the Day's Weekly Prep Football Poll.

The ratings, which are conducted by the Day sports staff among coaches, officials, and other sports writers, are led by Chicago Vocational's unbeaten CaValierS, who jumped from fourth to first this week on a 32-0 win over Dunbar.

FIRST - PLACE Fenwick slipped to third due to a scheduling bye, while second-place Evanston retained its position with a 19-13 win over arch-rival New Trier East.

Arlington made the biggest jump of the week, climbing into fourth place on a 7-0 win over previously unbeaten Wheeling. The Cardinals had been eighth a week ago.

HINSDALE CENTRAL, last week's third-place team, tumbled to 17th after being upset by Glenbard West 20-14.

Rounding out the top 10 are Notre Dame (6th), St. Patrick (5th), North Chicago (7th), Rich East (8th), Deerfield (9th), and La Grange (10th).

ST. PATRICK roared past St. Mel 39-0 yesterday, and Notre Dame topped Mendelein Carmel 17-7 Saturday. North Chicago remained unscored upon by beating Crystal Lake 19-0, and Rich East crushed Homewood-Flossmoor, 35-0.

Deerfield trimmed New Trier West 33-0, and La Grange, the only team among the top 10 with a loss on its record, won its third straight game by beating Maine East 28-0.

TWO TEAMS in addition to Hinsdale suffered losses last weekend, and slipped lower in the poll but not out of sight. Wheeling fell from 11th to 15th in its loss to Arlington; St. Rita dropped from 13th to 25th while losing to Leo 23-8; Marian Catholic retained its 24th ranking despite a 28-9 loss to De La Salle.

St. Viator rose from 22nd to 14th on the strength of its 26-0 win over St. George.

This week's official poll follows, with team records in parenthesis.

TOP TEN TEAMS

1. Vocational (4-0)
2. Evanston (4-0)
3. Fenwick (4-0)
4. Arlington (4-0)
5. St. Patrick (4-0)
6. Notre Dame (4-0)
7. N. Chicago (4-0)
8. Rich East (4-0)
9. Deerfield (4-0)
10. La Grange (3-1)

HONORABLE MENTION

11. Sycamore (4-0); 12. Brother Rice (4-1); 13. Maine West (3-1); 14. St. Viator (3-1); 15. Wheeling (3-1); 16. Thornridge (4-0); 17. Hinsdale Central (3-1); 18. Barrington (3-1); 19. Waukegan (3-1); 20. Argo (3-1); 21. Loyola (2-1-1); 22. Lockport Central (3-1); 23. Lake Park (4-0); 24. Marian Catholic (2-1-1); 25. St. Rita (3-2).

Officials Slate Celebrity Night

The Athletic Officials Service will hold its annual Sports Celebrity Night next Monday at 7:45 p.m. in the American Legion Post 10 at 10 N. Rand Rd., Des Plaines.

Coaches, referees, and school athletic officials are invited to the program, which include appearances by sports personalities such as Ray Meyer, George Ireland, Johnny Jordan, and players or coaches of the Chicago Bulls.

Arlington High School cheerleaders had good reason to jump for joy Saturday when the Cardinal gridders claimed sole possession of first place in the Mid-Suburban League with a narrow 7-0 verdict over Wheeling.

Bill Aylward of Arlington Heights is a candidate for a starting position on the freshman football team at Illinois State University, Normal.

A graduate of St. Viator High School, Aylward is a 6-1, 185-pound end.

Our Grid Consensus

The Day's sports staff had a bad weekend in the prognostication department, picking only two winners in five games. One contest was a tie.

The 2-2-1 record dropped the staff to a season mark of 16-4-1, for an .800 average.

Falcons Regroup After Third Loss

"The show has got to go on," Forest View Coach Bob Scott said after viewing films of his teams 35 to 7 loss at the hands of Maine West.

"We'll try and regroup and work on fundamentals but I'm not sure what else we can do," he said.

SCOTT HAS a perplexing problem. His Falcons have outstatisticed their last two opponents yet they have lost both games.

In Saturday's clash with Maine West they outgained their opponent 308 to 259 and marked up two more first downs than the Warriors.

THE FALCONS biggest problem is giving away touchdowns. Scott claims that three of Maine West's five scores were dead give-aways on Falcon fumbles and one a partial giveaway.

"We gave them the ball three times on fumbles near our ten-yard line. You can't do that and win against a team like Maine West," he said.

BESIDES GIVING away touchdowns, the Falcons had another problem Saturday: Twice they choked within 10 yards of the goal line.

"We'll be working a lot inside the 10 this week," Scott said.

BUT IT'S difficult to simulate a game situation inside the 10-yard line in practice, just as it's hard to practice not fumbling. To top it all, Scott has to get his team up for their homecoming tilt against Palatine Saturday. The Pirates beat Prospect, 14 to 0, in their last game.

"I'm still not discouraged," Scott said. "We've got a good bunch of boys; they move the ball well and improve every game."

HE SINGLED out his co-captains Richard Gilespie and Bob Arnold as defensive leaders in the Maine West game.

Arnold may be moving into a starting role at halfback against Palatine to replace Jeff Jacoby who was injured against Maine West.

Trotter Tickets Sold in Area

Tickets for the Harlem Globetrotters' basketball game at Elk Grove High School, scheduled Oct. 28, are available at six area stores.

Sponsored by the Elk Grove B'Nai B'Rith, the game will match the Trotters against their sister team, the New York Nationals.

Tickets for the benefit can be purchased at Magic Touch Cleaners in Mt. Prospect; Market Place Cleaners at Golf and Elmhurst roads, Des Plaines; Berthold's Nursery, Tonne and Devon, Elk Grove; Elk Grove Hardware and Elk Grove Cleaners, located at the Elk Grove Park & Shop in Elk Grove Village; and at Village Sports, Grove Shopping Center, Elk Grove Village.

St. Viator football coach Joe Gliwa shouts encouragement to his varsity crew in Sunday's 26-0 romp over St. George. Gliwa's encouragement helped spark the Lions to their most impressive offensive show of the season.

Rams Win 3rd Straight In Boys' Grid Action

The Rams rolled to their third straight Arlington Heights Boy's Football Senior League victory without a loss Sunday, shutting out the Redskins 27-0.

GENE ELSBERG, the league's leading scorer, paced the Rams once again with a pair of touchdowns on a 50-yard gallop and a 15-yard end sweep. Elsberg's tallies ran his total to 43 for the season. Tom Cannon and Mike Lacasio chipped in with the winners' other touchdowns.

The 49'ers dropped another length off the pace when they were held to a 7-7 tie by the Lions. Peter Harth struck first for the Lions with a two-yard plunge in the second stanza. Dennis Foreman salvaged the deadlock when he galloped 25 yards for a score late in the final period.

THE GIANTS won their varsity league showdown with the Vikings Sunday, eeking out a 7-0 triumph on a first quarter touchdown pass from Dana Morken to Terry McLaughlin. The decision left the Giants in sole possession of the loop's top spot with a 3-0 mark. The Vikings are now 2-1.

In another Varsity League cliffhanger, the Steelers edged the Eagles 7-0. Mike Moser's 50-yard punt return in the first quarter was the game's only touchdown. Brad Smith sneaked in for the extra point. The loss dropped the winless Steelers into last place with an 0-3 card.

THE PACKERS fought their way to the top of the Junior League heap with a narrow 6-0 verdict over the second-place Bears. Fullback Chris Johnstin was the only member of the normally high scoring Packers to find his way into the endzone. Johnstin got loose for an eight-yard paydirt ramble early in the first quarter, and his mates managed to protect that lead the rest of the way.

Mark Weber moved into the Junior League's list of top scorers when he led the Colts to a 14-13 conquest of the Cardinals. Weber paced a come - from - behind affort when he returned a Cardinal kickoff 65 yards in the third quarter. He duplicated that feat in the final period, this time going 60 yards with the kickoff before crossing the goal line. Weber also ran in both of the winners' all - important extra points.

SUNDAY'S performance put Weber in third place in the individual scoring race with 14 points. John McBride of the Bears leads the parade with 30, and Bob Broderick of the Packers is next with 24.

Randy Lechelt struck in the first quarter for the Cards, scampering six yards for the score. But the extra point try fell short. Terry Lins scored for the losers in the final period on a five-yard caper. Lechelt ran in the extra point, but it was too little too late.

91 on All-Academic List

The names of 32 starters were among the record list of 91 candidates for the Big Ten's 14th annual Academic football team, it was announced today by Big Ten Commissioner Bill Reed.

It is the sixth straight year that the number of B or better average student-athletes has increased. A year ago 82 were named.... 81 in 1964 ... and only 37 in 1963.

CANDIDATES for the team are selected on the basis of their classroom performances, showing at least a B average for the entire 1965-66 academic year. The 1966 group has a composite grade point average of 3.128, based on a 4.00 scale.

In addition to the 32 offensive and defensive starters, there are 25 others on the list who are members of their team's traveling squads. Of the list, 38 are sophomores, 26 juniors and 27 seniors. The average age is 20 . . . average weight 204 pounds . . . and average height 6' 1".

THREE MEMBERS of last year's Big Ten Academic team are on the 1966 list of candidates - - John Wright, Illinois offensive end; Ken Ramsey, Northwestern defensive tackle; and Ray Pryor, Ohio State offensive center. Pryor was the league's All-Conference center in 1965 and Wright was the Big Ten's leading pass catcher.

In making his announcement, Reed said, "I am extremely proud of these fine athletes and how they have successfully combined their athletic talents with outstanding scholarship."

The following is the list of 91 candidates for the Big Ten's 14th annual Academic Football team (starters are capitalized):

Smart Offense

If you dislike football statistics, try this one: Notre Dame's offensive team compiled a 2.44 academic average last semester, while defensive team turned in an average grade of 2.41.

Good Record

Michigan State's soccer team has met Big Ten opponents 25 times, winning 23 of the clashes and tying the other two.

Lack of Parking Stalls Office Building

Construction of a seven-story office building planned for downtown Arlington Heights is being held up because adequate parking space cannot be found.

In a letter to The Day, Fred H. Prather, the architect, said the $3.5 million structure would be located on the northeast corner of Evergreen and Wing Sts. at their intersection with Northwest Hwy. It would be constructed of reinforced concrete with large window areas separated by glazed brick masonry.

Each of the six upper floors would have approximately 16,000 square feet of open rentable area, which could be used as one large room.

Prather said the building would be occupied by:

--A stock brokerage branch office on the ground floor.

--District insurance company offices on the upper floors.

--Miscellaneous business offices.

--A quality restaurant on the top floor.

John W. Prassas of Chicago is the project developer.

"The required automobile parking for the building is currently being discussed with property owners and village authorities," Prather said. "Construction will begin after parking arrangements can be finalized."

Village Manager L.A. Hanson said 150 parking spaces are needed to meet zoning requirements.

Hanson said several other office buildings planned for the downtown area are being held up by parking problems but he refused to release details on them.

This $3.5 million office building is planned for the northeast corner of Evergreen and Wing Sts. at their intersection with Northwest Hwy.

25-Cent Hike Proposed on Garbage Rate

Counter Offer by Village

The village board's finance committee will offer Laseke Disposal Co. a counter proposal this afternoon in negotiations for a garbage pick up contract.

Laseke's present contract expires Nov. 1. The company proposed a new contract that would increase rates 65 cents a month.

The finance committee is expected to propose a 3-year contract providing for a 25-cent a month increase, 40 cents less than Laseke proposed.

Village Trustee John Walsh Jr., a member of the finance committee, said the village is satisfied with Laseke's service and wants to see it get "a fair and equitable contract."

It currently costs $2.50 a month for twice weekly garbage pick up.

IN A financial statement presented to the trustees Feb. 24 "the company reported a loss of $8,603 in 1965 and a projected $15,000 loss in 1966.

In investigating Laseke's figures, the finance committee found some expense items it said are unjustifiable.

These included flower purchases, life insurance premiums, dues and contributions and professional services.

The committee in reviewing Laseke's projected 1967 budget chopped off $9,000 that it felt is unnecessary. Of this, $5,800 was budgeted for advertising and promotion, $1,200 for contributions and $2,000 for professional services.

Laseke projected a $24,400 net income for 1967. If the $9,000 is added to profit, net income is $33,400, or 6 per cent.

The committee is scheduled to meet with Laseke at 4 p.m. in the Municipal Building.

Registering in the nick of time is Mrs. Robert Neilson (left) of 619 E. Grove. Mrs. R. A. MaKay of 509 S. Arlington Heights Rd., with her back to the camera, processes the application. Registration for the Nov. 8 election closed at 9 p.m. last night.

Alderman Gets Job Over Protests

BY MEL MILES

Rolling Meadows Mayor William Miseska last night appointed Phillip H. Prete as first ward alderman to fill the unexpired term of Nicholas M. Schmitt who resigned Sept. 27.

Prete, of 2703 Cardinal, was appointed despite loud objections from members of the Plum Grove Countryside Property Owners Assn. who supported Thomas Scanlan, 4368 Lincoln, a resident of the Plum Grove area.

Miseska's appointment was questioned by Aldermen James Watson and Rudolf Balek on the grounds that Prete would not run for election in April of next year.

"Even if we chose a man who is now inexperienced, if he will commit himself to seek election in April the people will have the chance to elect an alderman with seven months experience," Balek said.

Miseska, who admitted asking Prete to apply for the vacancy, said of his appointee,

"When I first met him, I disliked him strongly. I found him quite obnoxious."

"Then," the mayor added, "I found out that most of the time he was right and I was wrong.

"I have nothing but the deepest respect and admiration for this man and I know he'll do an excellent job," Miseska concluded.

ALTHOUGH state statutes permit the mayor to appoint men to aldermanic vacancies without the council's consent, Prete told Miseska that he wouldn't accept the post unless the council agreed.

After much debate, a vote was taken. Seven aldermen voted in favor of the appointment with Balek and Watson casting nay votes.

"What do you think?" Miseska asked Prete who was seated in the audience. "Will you accept the appointment?"

Prete stood up but his eyes remained glued to the shuffleboard pattern decorating the floor of the fire station meeting hall. Then, squaring his shoulders and breaking into a smile, Prete said loudly, "The majority prevails . . . I accept."

As Prete stepped forward to be sworn in, Watson walked to Miseska and whispered to him.

The mayor pounded his gavel and called for order and announced that Watson had asked permission to change his vote.

Balek then requested permission to change his vote, and Miseska ordered the clerk to change the record to indicate unanimous approval.

AFTER the meeting, Balek explained his change of heart.

"I did it out of courtesy," he said. "I still think that this appointment is a mistake because Prete has stated that he won't run for election in April."

"On the night that Miseska was sworn in, he appointed an alderman despite the unanimous opposition of the council. It has been that way ever since," Balek concluded.

Prete, who has been active in Rolling Meadows government for several years, will receive a salary of $600.

Two other aldermen have been appointed by Miseska. They are John Mackin and John Schumacher.

Newly-appointed Rolling Meadows alderman Phillip H. Prete accepts congratulations from Thomas Scanlan, a contender for the appointment. "I'm going to run for alderman next April," Scanlan vowed after Prete's appointment.

Merit Honors for 2 Students

Two seniors at Sacred Heart of Mary High School in Rolling Meadows have been named semi-finalists in the National Merit Scholarship competition.

They are: Susan Griffin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Griffin of 101 S. I Oka, Mount Prospect, and Deborah Peifer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Peifer of 511 S. Dwyer, Arlington Heights.

The semifinalists can advance to the finalist stage by receiving the endorsement of their school, taking a second examination and submitting information about their achievements and interests. Names of the finalists will be announced in May, 1967.

LETTERS of commendation for high performance on the scholarship test administered last spring were sent to 11 students at the school.

They are: Beverly Balkey, Susan Cavanaugh, Judith Hughes, Donna Klein, Mary Pat O'Hagen, Mary O'Leary, and Susan Schwarz, all of Arlington Heights; Catherine Leone and Margaret Moran of Mount Prospect; Maureen Gore of Palatine, and Elizabeth Myers of Des Plaines.

Trustee Warns of Gangsters

Trustee Roy Bressler warned the Arlington Heights village board Monday that it is inviting gangster influence by approving planning developments financed by unnamed persons.

"I am particularly concerned about the growing number of petitioners coming before the Plan Commission in behalf of unknown trusts and beneficiaries," he said. Bressler said trusts are a popular device for illegitimate money to get into legitimate business operations.

"When gangsters get a foothold into the property owning business they start moving into other areas," Bressler said.

"With the mortgage market tight the way it is we have to be particularly careful of where financing comes from or we're inviting trouble."

"Building everywhere else has slowed down but here," Bressler said. "The word is beginning to get around that Arlington Heights is a good place to make a fast buck."

He said Franklin Park, Stone Park, Northlake and other suburbs have unwittingly allowed gangsters to get a foothold and then regretted it.

VILLAGE Attorney Jack Siegel said he knows of no statuary way to force a petitioner to disclose his financing. Bute he suggested that an informal policy be set up that would require petitioners to list their financiers.

Village Manager L. A. Hanson was directed to determine the Plan Commission's feelings on this type of policy and report back to the board.

Bessler said he has talked with several members of the commission and they approve of the measure.

Police Sound Fire Alarm

Firemen from the South Side station extinguished a fire in a pile of construction materials last night in a lot at 2222 S. Goebbert Rd.

Police spotted the fire and noticed that it threatened to spread. They notified fire fighters.

Registration Activity Spotty

Voter registration was erratic yesterday, the last day to register for the Nov. 8 general election.

Some precincts were extremely busy while other areas, particularly in Mount Prospect, were quiet.

Wheeling Township Republican Committeeman Eugene Schlickman projected a 3,600 registration for the township.

With 42 of 66 precincts reporting, 2,300 voters had registered, Schlickman said. Precinct 25 in Mount Prospect was high with 108 registrants while Precinct 45 in Mount Prospect had only 15.

"We're very pleased with the registration," Schlickman said.

In the Elk Grove Township portion of Mount Prospect, 291 voters had registered with 9 precincts reporting, according to Mrs. Daniel Gaffney, wife of the deputy Republican committeeman for the area.

Leaf Burning Time Again

BY JIM ROSS

Happiness is a pile of dry leaves. And during these Fall days, the smell of a pile of burning leaves brings back memories.

But before lighting that first pile, it may be well to check on ordinances regarding—bonfires and to remember a few pointers on safety.

In Arlington Heights there is no ordinance prohibiting burning of leaves. However, there is one against burning anything on public streets.

The ordinance allows bonfires on the portion of a private driveway which crosses the parkway. Fires in streets or alleys are not allowed.

Mount Prospect has a similar ordinance. No burning in the streets is allowed, but leaves may be burned on a section of a driveway.

IN BOTH villages, police say that if smoke from fires becomes excessive or if certain conditions, such as extreme dryness or high winds exist, burning may be prohibited.

An ordinance in Rolling Meadows prohibits any burning which would create an "offensive smoke or odor."

Police there say that if a complaint is received of large amounts of smoke, the fire must be extinguished.

A Rolling Meadows ordinance regulating burning establishes only minimum safety factors. It is really up to the individual to use care and common sense to avoid a serious fire.

Perhaps the most important thing to remember is that this time of year is a relatively dry, windy time.

These two elements can combine to cause heavy loss to property from fire.

ALWAYS pick a windless day on which to burn, and take the time to prepare the area, fire department officials advise.

Rake all dry grass and trash away from buildings and other structures.

Make sure there is a good supply of water nearby which can be used if a fire becomes too hot to handle.

It is also a good idea to have someone standing by to lend a hand.

Never leave a fire unattended and keep children out of the area.

When the burning is completed, douse the area with water to make sure no sparks remain.

Finally, don't depend on your own precautions entirely. Make sure you know in advance the telephone number of your fire department. If a fire threatens to go out of control, call for help before it is too late.

High School Board Still Working on Bus Contract

It was strictly a matter of semantics at the High School Dist. 214 Board of Education meeting Monday night.

Board members spent one hour and 45 minutes in an effort to "tighten the language" of the transportation agreement between the board and the Davidsmeyer Bus Co.

Davidsmeyer has been accepted to service Elk Grove High School but the final contract has not been signed.

Board member Richard Bachhuber submitted several changes in the 17-page contract which he said would "tighten" the language and make the agreement acceptable to the board and the bus company.

The board of education purchased 10 buses for the company on a lease-back basis in an effort to reduce transportation costs.

THE BOARD took no action on the agreement but decided to present the revised contract to board attorneys and the bus company for approval.

The board members did approve a recommendation that the bus company and the board of education share in the cost of additional insurance.

Also approved is an addition to the transportation agreement with the Cook County School Bus Co. According to the changes, the credits have become less severe for lateness of bus runs and more credit is allowed for buses not running at all.

The Cook County Bus Co. services Arlington, Prospect, Forest View and Wheeling High Schools.

Gas Line Approved By School

The Northern Illinois Gas Co. has received permission from the High School Dist. 214 Board of Education to construct a gas line along and through school property.

The company proposed to install an eight-inch gas main along Dundee Rd. and Arlington Heights Rd., fronting the property of a proposed school site.

The main will be of adequate size and pressure to meet the needs of any future school that might be constructed. The utility company said the installation is needed by home builders to the north of the school property.

Seated is chairman William Palley.

Businessmen Respond To United Fund Appeal

Arlington Heights businessmen last week began their drive towards a $16,000 goal their share of the $57,000 target set by Arlington Heights United Fund.

United Fund President John Gillen and Commerce and Industry Chairman Donald Hartman told luncheon guests that the success of this year's campaign depends largely on businessmen.

Members of the group responded with the first contributions, and others expressed their intentions to support the "once-a-year" effort.

HARTMAN made a contribution on behalf of his Lauterburg and Oehler Funeral Home. He was followed by Roy Benson of Arlington Federal Savings & Loan, John L. Frieburg of the Bank of Arlington Heights and Irving Robbin of Persin and Robbin Jewelers.

Gillen told guests of the revamped United Fund approach which will feature a one night residential drive Oct. 24.

"We will contact every home in the village, utilizing some 1,000 to 1,200 workers," he said. "It is our aim to make this drive so successful that virtually every worthwhile charity will want to be a part of it."

$2 Million Tax Total On Sales

Merchants here collected $613,799 in state sales taxes during April, May and June bringing collections for the year up to $2,384,077.

The tax totals include Retailers' Occupation Tax, Service Occupation Tax, Use Tax and Service Use Tax. Largest collections are from automotive and filling stations with a total of $339,575.

Others, according to type of business, are food, $139,516; general merchandise, $34,143; miscellaneous retail wholesale stores, $53,134; lumber and building hardware $20,112, drinking and eating places, $24,456; apparel, $14,317; furniture, household appliance and radio stores, $44,824, and manufactures $11,292.

For the year their collections are: automotive and filling stations, $934,381; food, $558,250; general merchandise, $158,154; miscellaneous retail - wholesale stores, $215,493; lumber and building hardware, $75,925; drinking and eating places, $81,130; apparel, $61,581; furniture, household appliance and radio stores, $170,035; and manufactures, $3,380.

Area Professor Gets Fellowship

Chui Fan Liu, 36, of 1603 S. Highland, Arlington Heights, has been awarded a 4-year, $160,000 research grant and fellowship at the Chicago Circle Campus, University of Illinois.

Liu, an associate professor of chemistry at Chicago Circle, received the award from the National Institute of General Medical Sciences to study "Steriospecific Reactions of Coordinated Molecules."

The purpose of the study, according to the university, is "To understand how, from the chemists point of view, the reactions occur in biological systems." To better equip himself for the fellowship, Liu will study X-Ray Crystallography for the coming year before activating the grant.

Liu came to Chicago Circle last year from the University of Michigan, where he was an assistant professor of chemistry. He attended the University of Illinois, where he received his A.B. degree in 1952 and his Ph.D. in 1957.

COMMENTING upon receipt of the grant and fellowship, Liu said, "I am grateful that the Institute evidently found merit in what I am trying to do, and gave me the fellowship to further train me for the work."

In addition to his fellowship work, Liu teaches chemistry to Ph. D. students at Chicago Circle.

At home, the possibility has arisen that an educator will become the first president of the PTA at the new Juliette Low school, 1530 S. Highland. Liu has been nominated for the presidency, and action on the nominations will be taken at tonight's PTA meeting.

LIU AND his wife, Nora, have a daughter, Faan Yeen and a son, Faan Hoan, attending Juliette Low school. Another daughter Faan Tone, is a pre-schooler.

Mrs. Liu, who also holds a Ph. D. in chemistry, describes Juliette Low as "an interesting school," not only because of its modern design but also because of its advanced teaching methods.

Housekeeping hasn't deterred Mrs. Liu from using her chemistry Ph.D. In her spare time she writes summaries of articles on physics, and she says there are many ways her knowledge of physics and chemistry can be applied at home, "even in cooking."

Born in Hungary, Mrs. Liu lived for a time in Sydney, Australia, but she says "here (America) is where opportunity is."

HER HUSBAND, Chui Fan Liu, was born in China, and Mrs. Liu says there is a long tradition involved in his and the children's names.

Each generation of the family, on the father's side, has for its first name a successive word from a poem, and the middle name is a given name.

Liu's first name, Chui, is the ninth word of that poem, indicating that he belongs to the ninth generation of the family.

And the children's first name, Faan, is the tenth word of the poem.

What does the poem mean? It's not complete yet - it will eventually consist of 20 words and at one word per generation the poem will be completed in about 250 years.

Zoning Request Postponed Again

Rolling Meadows Alderman Donald Winn didn't make any new friends at last night's city council meeting when he removed his resolution proposing a zoning change in the Plum Grove Kings Walk area.

Audible groans of disappointment greeted Winn's disclosure which came only minutes before discussion of the controversial ordinance was to begin.

"Legal technicalities have arisen and since the city attorney is not present tonight, I wish to withdraw this item from the agenda," Winn told the council.

City attorney Don Rose is in Quebec attending a seminar on municipal law.

THE ZONING change Winn was to propose would make possible the development of multiple family dwellings in the Kings-Walk area which is adjacent to the Plum Grove-Countryside subdivision.

The city council meeting was packed with spectators and most of them were members of the Plum Grove-Countryside organization.

For most of them, it wasn't the first time they had visited a council meeting in the hopes of speaking out against the zoning change.

Last night would have been the second time the change was proposed by Winn. At the council's Aug. 30 meeting the motion was defeated by a 6 to 4 vote. Although six aldermen voted in favor of the ordinance a majority of seven is required for passage.

At a brief recess called after Winn's announcement, an alderman who asked that his name not be used said that he thought the real reason for the proposal being taken off the agenda was that Alderman John Schumacher was not present.

SCHUMACHER is considered the weak link in the opposition bloc that has voted against the proposal in the past. Had Schumacher decided to change his vote, the measure would have had the majority necessary for passage.

A representative of the Plum Grove - Countryside Property Owners Assn. stated that he had spoken to the members of the city council during the week and had obtained commitments from enough aldermen to guarantee defeat of the zoning change.

The appointment of Phillip Prete to the post of first ward alderman was met with opposition by the Plum Grove group, mainly because he will have a vote on the issue when it is brought before the council.

The Plum Grove group had endorsed Thomas Scanlan, a resident of the Plum Grove subdivision, for the first ward post.

THE GROUP made it clear that they would be back and that they intend to keep fighting until the zoning change is defeated.

"We'll remember this run-around when we go to the polls to vote next April," vowed one member of the group as he left the meeting.

Another alderman, who also asked that he not be identified, said, "Sure this was just a stalling tactic, but at the next meeting if Prete casts the deciding vote and this thing passes, I'll scream 'foul' as loud and as long as I can."

Communion Breakfast at Sacred Heart

A father-daughter communion breakfast will be held in Sacred Heart of Mary High School Saturday.

A mass will be offered at 9:30 a.m. and breakfast will be served in the cafeteria.

A father-daughter communion dinner will be held Friday, Oct. 21, at 7:30 p.m. in the school cafeteria. The celebrant of the mass will be the Rev. Donald Lund, C.S.V., of St. Viator High School. The commentator will be John Pope of 400 S. Maple, Mount Prospect.

Chairman of the events, sponsored by the Parent's Council, is Francisco Ponce de Leon of 1110 W. Clarendon, Arlington Heights. Co-chairman is Paul L. Waber of Palatine.

Catering for the breakfast and dinner will be Brandt's Restaurant of Palatine. Tickets are $1.75 each.

Fire Marshal Resigns Post

Rolling Meadows Fire Marshal Jerry Howell, 2301 School Dr., Rolling Meadows, has resigned according to Mayor William Miseska.

Howell's letter of resignation was not read at last night's city council meeting, but Miseska said that copies could be obtained at his office if any aldermen wished to read the letter.

Miseska also asked the council to take under advisement a suggestion that the city's fire marshal ordinance be repealed.

Howell could not be reached for comment.

Licenses Revoked By State

Two motorists have had their driving privileges revoked by the Secretary of State.

Mary E. Busscher, 708 E. Oakton, Arlington Heights, had her license revoked for conviction of driving while intoxicated.

Joseph Adams, 511 S. Wille, Mount Prospect, had his license revoked for conviction of three violations in one year.

Six drivers received suspensions. Five are for conviction of three violations in one year. They are: Edward C. Anderson, 816 S. Seegwun, Mount Prospect; Israel Lopez, 1217 E. Thomas, Arlington Heights; David Olen, 611 Rund, Mount Prospect; Lawrence Pauka, 102 S. Park, Prospect Hts.; Milton Tomasek, 928 E. Golf, Mount Prospect.

Gregory Field, 1004 N. Elmhurst Rd., Mount Prospect, received a suspension for driving on a suspended license.

Five drivers were issued probationary permits. They are: David Badendick, 2 N. Owne, Mount Prospect; Patrick Ludvigsen, 202 N. Pine, Prospect Hts.; Beverly Paul, 1215 N. Race, Arlington Hts.; James Vondruk Jr., 503 N. Elmhurst Rd., Prospect Hts., and Melvin Walker, 638 S. Roosevelt, Arlington Heights.

Rumsfeld Talks Here Thursday

Rep. Donald Rumsfeld (R-Ill.) will be the speaker at the Wheeling Township Regular Republican Club Thursday. The meeting, at the VFW Hall at Yale and Northwest Hwy., is scheduled to begin at 8:30 p.m.

Rumsfeld, the youngest Republican in Congress, is seeking his third term.

DID YOU KNOW?

What exactly is a virus? Here is a question you won't find answered on any quiz show. In some respects it is a living organism; in others, it is pure chemical. We could possible then argue with some logic that a virus is a living chemical.

At any rate, infinitesimal: The head of a pin can easily hold 25 million polio viruses, and they have the amazing facility of self-duplication.

Many of our most learned minds maintain that the first living things to appear on earth many millions of years ago were very similar to the viruses we know today. From these living chemicals came other and more complicated forms of life.

Sewer 'Stars' in Arlington TV Drama

A Clarendon St. sewer has become the sight of a new television drama being filmed live here.

The drama won't crash the national television ratings although it is at least on par with some of the new seasons offerings. In fact, it appears only on one set and has only one viewer -- Olga Tengdedal, a grey-suited employee of the National Rodding Corp.

The lone black and white set is in a studio house trailer parked at the edge of a manhole on Clarendon between Douglas St. and Beverly Ln.

Olga sits at one side of the television screen at a control panel with a note pad in his lap.

With a heavy accent he gives the order to begin filming into a loudspeaker at his side.

"Take it."

Another grey suited workman with Joe written on his shirt "takes it." He stands outside the studio beside a power winch.

THE SHOW is on the air. Olga gazes into the TV tube, entranced as a teenager watching the "Monkees" on Wednesday network television.

The camera slides down the sewer and Olga watches the closed circuit picture it takes.

It is like looking down the elementary channel of a frog. But for Olga it is his bread and butter. His company has been hired to inspect the sewers and report to the village.

"Hold it," he orders. The camera stops, focusing the 8-inch sewer pipe in its lens. A root has cracked the pipe casing and is obstructing the sewer flow.

"247 feet," the loudspeaker blares. Its voice is that of Gordon, who controls the camera from a manhole about 100 yards from the studio.

OLGA writes 247 on his notepad says, "Hold it" and swings a Polaroid camera in front of the screen. He snaps a picture. This is his answer the "stop action" instant reply that the networks sport broadcasts specialize in.

He unloads the camera again says "take it." The process starts over, the show goes on.

Olga searches the sewer for obstructions, cracks, leaks and roots via his monitor screen. At Clarendon the village has had trouble with footings and has been unable to diagnose where the trouble is. The TV camera however can pinpoint the exact location of any difficulty so repairs can be made.

It is a specially built three-foot cylinder that is dragged by a power drive wire cable from manhole to manhole.

The Polaroid snapshot is used to show homeowners what is wrong with the sewer in front on his home.

The TV production has rarely been staged in Arlington Heights, according to Public Works Director Gene Willroth. And for a very good reason. Sewer filming cost are high - 35 cents per foot.

The inspection device will get more use here in the future. Last night the village board passed a resolution requiring that all new sewers be inspected by television. The filming costs will be paid for by area developers.

Touchdown

Arlington High Sophomore John Vetter is home from Northwest Community Hospital after a serious bout with a ruptured appendix.

John, who is an up and coming member of the junior varsity football team kept tract of all the new signals through the frequent visits from members of the team. His coaches Brendan Flynn and William Meyer also checked in on the visitor's roster.

No one is happier to have him around again than his parents, the Harold Vetters of N. Fernandez.

Dent in Time

Whenever a son is away at college, a call home does cause a certain amount of apprehension. Dick and Jean Barton of S. Windsor received a call from their son Michael.

Michael graduated from the University of Chicago last spring, got married and is continuing his education on a special grant at Washington University in St. Louis.

He had quite a story to relate. He and his pretty bride Sue left their car in a parking lot and it was sideswiped. Whoever hit it, skipped. When they brought it in for a repair estimate, they decided to buy a new car instead.

A new car to a young married couple still in college is a major step. Dick was not too sure that it was wise and he was about to tell Michael when he heard the rest of the story.

On the night they picked up the new car, they stopped to do their usual shopping at the A & P grocery. The A & P was having a contest called Three of a Kind, in which three cards are matched. The young Bartons had already received two thet matched.

When they got home they checked their new card. And what do you know? It matched, so they went back and collected their prize of $1,000. Which should prove some sort of moral such as a dent in the car doesn't have to be all bad -- all of the time.

Coffee Snowballs

It started out as a small meeting called by Arlington Heights Women's Club President Dea Jarco for 10 a.m. on Tuesday, Oct. 18. It's grown so large thet the committee members are enlisting the aid of Day by Day to tell the city all about it.

Dea decided to have a meeting of her board and committee members in the old Bray-Whipple home of historical fame, which is to be replaced by the new library and is causing more interest in passing than it ever did in just being there.

Anyway, the Women's Club committee for community improvement headed by Betty Shabeck and Flo Rogozinski thought it would be a great idea to give all of the club members a chance to see the fine old structure. Dea concurred and the meeting has turned into a coffee for all of the members and their guests.

The improvement committee is trying to reach almost 500 women members by telephone, a formidable task. The phone calls are sandwiched in between arrangements for home baked goodies, an art exhibit and seating arrangements. The committees and board members are providing the baked goods, and coffee. Lauterberg Oehler is loaning the chairs.

The art exhibit will be a special one through the courtesy of the Countryside Art Center. A donation of one dollar can be made so thet the Club can help the Historical Society build their museum. It sounds like a spontaneous thing that should be fun to attend.

Some Day

. . . by Frank E. Von Arx

"The farmers are ruining our town," said Uncle John Blievernicht, chief negotiator for the Railroad Reprisal Action Committee for Commuter Parkers.

"Where did you find anyone who can afford to farm nowadays?" asked his friend Zerais Fish.

"It is not easy," agreed Uncle John. "The only land priced for farming is in the brush country of Minnesota. But there are enough farmers to defeat two recent tax referendums in Arlington Heights.

"The farmers are behind the vote that deprived our youngsters of closed circuit television in the elementary schools. This means the kids will miss two or three hours a week in front of the idiot box. They may never recover from this cultural deprivation in later years.

"The farm bloc is behind the loss of a park referendum, too, which will keep our children out of the swimming pools for years to come. This is unfair to the manufacturers of boys swimming caps."

"How can a few farmers do all this?" asked Zerais.

"They are selling wheat for 30 cents less a bushel, that is how," said Uncle John. "Every time they sell wheat for less they cause the price of bread to go up. The price of bread is so high now people are voting against bond issues left and right.

"How can lower wheat prices raise the cost of bread?" asked Zerais.

"You must be new in the super market," said Uncle John. "The people who make bread have the same policy as a moon shot; nothing comes down. Sooner or later the price of wheat will go up again and then the bakers and the truck drivers will say they have got to have more money.

"The last time the price of wheat went up it cost 2 cents more a loaf of bread. There are other things, too, that only a farmer can understand. Things like parity at $2.59 and a wheat market price of $1.75 a bushel. And price support at $1.25 a bushel with government reserves short 100,000,000 bushels.

"But the important thing is that as long as the farmers insist upon selling wheat for less and raising the cost of bread we in the suburbs are going to have a hard time getting closed circuit television in kindergarten and swimming pools in our parks."

Vantage Point

. . . by Jack Vandermyn

Rep. Eugenia Chapman is involved in a tough struggle to retain her seat in the Illinois House. In the rough-and-rumble world of politics, it's hard enough for a woman to make the grade.

Color that woman a Democrat in a highly concentrated area of Republicans you add to her problems. Confront her with opposition in the form of one of the most influential legislators in Springfield and it becomes almost hopeless.

But Eugenia Chapman, the Arlington Heights Democrat who wants desperately to go back to Springfield for a second term, has not given up hope.

She has not given up hope despite reports that her Democratic "running mate" Bernard Peskin is reportedly spending money in Wheeling Township to attract a heavy vote for himself.

She has not given up hope despite the fact that Rep. Peskin, a veteran of five terms in the house, appears to have regular organization support in many areas of the sprawling third representative district.

What Eugenia Chapman has done is gone out and attracted Republicans to her cause.

Her theory is a simple one. The third District is going to elect one Democrat, "whether the Republicans like it or not," as she puts it.

Mrs. Chapman believes that she is the best qualified of the two Democrats running to serve the district. "We feel that local representation means a great deal in Springfield, no matter what the party label," Mrs. Chapman points out.

"Since one Democrat is going to win, we hope that Republicans will take part in this selection by voting on both sides of the ballot," says Tom McShane, Mrs. Chapman's campaign manager.

SEVERAL area leaders, who have in the past been identified with the Republican party and who hold elected office in school district affairs in the area, are reportedly joining the Chapman team.

Dr. Frank Smith, who declared himself a Republican in public at a meeting on federal aid to education during a hotly contested school board elections this spring, heads Mrs. Chapman's citizen volunteer committee.

Two more people, active in educational circles, have just announced formation of a Republicans for Chapman committee. They are John A. Haas, former president of the board of education of High School Dist. 214 and current president of the Harper College Board of Education and H. W. "Hal" Armstrong, Dist. 214 board president.

Obviously, Mrs. Chapman is looking for heavy support from the educational community to carry her through. She is a former member of the Dist. 214 board and her primary interests in Springfield were in the areas of educational legislation.

While Mrs. Chapman and Bernard Peskin are supposedly "team mates" against two Republicans, Rep. Eugene Schlickman and David Regner, they are in fact battling each other for survival.

WITH cumulative voting for representatives, the situation is further complicated. Each voter has three votes for representatives of his choice. He may give all three votes to one of the four candidates; give one vote to each of three candidates or give a vote-and-a-half to two candidates.

Obviously, Mrs. Chapman hopes that Republicans will give one vote each to Schlickman and Regner, then cross over and give her a vote. This pattern of voting, which is further complicated by voting machines, could overcome what the straight Democratic voters will do for Peskin in certain areas of the district.

Peskin is expected to receive heavy "bullet ballot" support in his home area, the far eastern fringe of the district.

A bullet ballot means that voters will give all three of their legislative votes to one candidate by locking the other out on the voting machine.

This is the pattern Peskin used in June to win the top spot on the ballot. Mrs. Chapman forces "bulleted" in Wheeling Township, but came up with, "too little, too late."

If Mrs. Chapman wins, it will be because of her popularity with the educational community and her ability to attract Republicans. If she loses, it will be because of the political organizational ability of Peskin, long a party-line Democrat and a power in his home area.

Letters to the Editor

Yes, We Do Have Spirit!

Editor:

I think it is about time you call it quits. Arlington High School has taken all the guff it should have to take from your sports section.

First, Mr. Casterline made some nice comments about our band. Well, we took his advice. We do have a tremendous band as they more than proved by playing through the entire homecoming game.

But no, your sportswriters weren't happy. They had to pick apart our team and our spirit. Well, today we played Wheeling. Mr. Casterline claimed that "no particular enthusiasm has been developed for the game." And once again we were forced to prove our spirit to Mr. Casterline. The turnout was remarkable. Our bleachers were full!

Soon the game began. Our "injured and flu-weakened" players, who "haven't played anybody of consequence", limped onto the field and proved themselves (once again) by pulling off a 7-0 "upset"!! What happened to Wheeling's "tougher, more hard-nosed athletes"? Maybe they should give some thought to "their cars, their girls and the dances".

Now that I am through griping, I have one last question: Has Arlington High School proven itself to the Arlington Day?

You may think we are smug. We are, when we have something to be smug about, such as a great band, a first-place football team, or tremendous school spirit. Yes, we do have school spirit. You see, we're from Arlington! We couldn't be prouder! If you can't hear us now, we'll yell a little louder!

Conservation And Hunting

Editor:

While I do not myself hunt, I do know enough about hunting and wildlife management to recognize that Maggie Atcher's opposition to the sport comes from the heart rather than the head.

The "bloodlust" of which she speaks is the same one which comes to most of us several times a day. We all (or the vast majority) eat meat; there is no essential difference between killing it ourselves on occasion and hiring others to do it for us most of the time. If there are differences, they are in favor of the hunter, for those who hire killers are held in low esteem and anyone who has seen a slaughterhouse in operation will prefer the hunter's mercy.

Civilization is the enemy of wildlife. The radical changes in environment which it brings account for the retreat or disappearance of wild animals in a particular area. With food and cover gone, water polluted and perhaps natural enemies promoted, a species dwindles without regard to the relatively small number taken by hunters.

Hunters are actually responsible for the preservation of most species which have survived. Without them, there would be no game conservation. They supported at the Federal level almost 30 years ago the Pittman-Robertson Act, which levies a tax on firearms and accessories, funds being devoted exclusively to purchasing lands and setting them aside for the protection and breeding of wildlife. State and local hunting license funds are similarly used, while voluntary conservation efforts are largely oriented toward hunting. All of us are familiar with Federal migratory bird stamps, another example of hunters paying their own way in conservation. Moreover, every American is ultimately a beneficiary of these efforts, whether or not they choose to hunt.

Maggie Atcher does have a legitimate complaint when she points to improper conduct on the part of some hunters. The National Rifle Association and every other sportsmen's organization are actually aware of this problem and their members have invariably subscribed to a code of good sportsmanship and safe, courteous conduct. As in so many other instances, the majority of hunters must suffer for the misconduct of a few. Perhaps the lady would have more pleasant experience if she were to open her land to hunting by members of accredited sportsmen's organizations. They might also advise her on methods of encouraging the wildlife which both she and the hunters obviously prize.

Disappointed With 'No' Reasoning

Editor:

I am really disappointed in the people of the Arlington Heights School District 25. We are continually trying to better our own and our children's lives, as evidenced by the fact that we move out to the suburbs for the benefit of our families. We want our children to have space to play in, to have nice playmates, to have a good school to go to, and to have as many advantages as we can afford. We knew WHEN WE MOVED HERE that it was not the most economical way to live, but we came here anyway – for our families.

Now we act like spoiled kids whom are stamping our feet in a temper tantrum and saying "No" when we are given a choice. I am very ashamed of us in Arlington Heights for turning down the school referendum; turning it down not because the issue itself was studied and found undesirable, but saying "no" because we are tired of being taxed.

I feel we are not being "taxed" as such for our schools. We are BUYING SERVICES of professionals to help raise and teach our children because we cannot do as good a job ourselves. In a rising economy, this expense goes up as well as our grocery and clothing bills.

If there is some phase of our educational program that is objectionable, we must come forth and say so - not just tell our neighbors under our breath -- but tell our own representatives, the school board. We must let them know what we do like and don't like, write it, attend board meetings, speak up. What do we want for our children? What DON'T we want? What are the facts? Why cannot we discover for OURSELVES what the economic picture of this program is?

Our children need and deserve the best, not just the average, quality of education we can afford. We owe it to them to find out the facts first and NOW. Then we can vote intelligently not emotionally about their educational future. Let us act and vote as mature, reasonable individuals, not as children.

Sincerely,
Tina Persons

What's In It For Me?

And another referendum seeking a tax increase has been shot down. The latest fatality occurred Saturday when the park district asked for more funds to build new parks and swimming pools.

The first inclination is to attribute the referendum's demise to rebellious property owners so trigger-happy that they'll shoot at anything that moves in the tax bushes.

But when one evaluates the voting results by distributing them over the map prepared by the park district showing how the additional funds would be spent, an entirely different conclusion seems obvious.

The force behind the defeat of the referendum appears to have been an elementary human reaction: The voters asked themselves the basic, time-honored question, "What's in it for me?"

In those areas where residents already enjoy the things the park authorities were promising, the vote for similar facilities for other neighborhoods was overwhelmingly negative. In the have-not areas the vote was heavily affirmative.

Here's what you find:

In Precinct 1, the Greenbrier area, they have no swimming pool. There the referendum was approved 336 to 28.

In Precinct 4, the Dunton school area, they have no swimming pool either. The vote there was 204 yes to 132 no.

Now in Precinct 5, the southeast area of the village, residents are reasonably close to the existing pools (Recreation and Pioneer parks). They voted 195 no and 31 yes.

In Precinct 3, which includes Pioneer Park, the vote was 649 no, 70 yes. And in Precinct 6, where Recreation Park is located, it was 715 no, 93 yes.

In more sparsely built Precinct 7, where there is no pool and none was promised (just a park), the voters apparently weren't much interested one way or another. They voted 48 no and 45 yes.

In Precinct 2, where they have no pool and were promised none and where some parents were unhappy because their children would have to cross busy Palatine Rd. to reach a proposed pool, the vote was 638 no and 117 yes.

In setting up the referendum, the park district seems to have ignored the tested and time-honored philosophy of the national administration. That, stated briefly, is when you whomp up a package to sell the voters you put in something for everyone -- with a few extra goodies for those from whom you expect to get the most votes.

Business as Usual

Take A Trip To Chicago

A Break in Your Routine

BY MARY DUNHAM DAY

It's just a little way south to Chicago, but how long has it been since you've gone there?

If you're like many a suburban woman, you may have visited New York or Boston more recently than our neighboring metropolis.

Somehow, it seems more natural for some of us to buy a plane ticket to faraway places than to purchase a round-trip to Chicago.

But now that cool days and colorful leaves are with us, you might enjoy taking a holiday in the city -- a sort of Mom's day in town.

It'll be a day free from washing fingerprints off the wall, a day when running out of bags for the garbage won't matter.

That round-trip ticket from Arlington Heights costs $1.94.

ARRANGE a luncheon date with your husband or a friend. And don't forget a tote bag with a comfortable pair of shoes.

The quickest way to jump into the hubbub of city life is to stand in the visitors' gallery of the Chicago Board of Trade. To the eyes of the observer, the chaos may be funny as well as fascinating.

Traders rush around the floor. They shout. They wave their arms. It may look like child's play, but the prices these men keep in mind determine incomes for thousands of persons and affect the nation's economy.

Each commodity (wheat, corn, oats, rye and soybeans) is traded in a pit. Last June 16, the volume of trade by the bushel for all grains reached an all-time peak. The figure: $270,365,000.

The gallery is open from 9 a.m. until 1 p.m. As you approach the Board at the foot of LaSalle St., notice Ceres, the goddess of grain, immobile in stone on the top of the 43-floor building.

YOU'RE probably the veteran of many a march around the Art Institute, but the galleries are still exciting for the wife and mother on her day off.

Make your tour a relaxing one this time. Have a leisurely luncheon in the main dining room (with a candle keeping your carafe of coffee hot).

The museum store, a museum in itself, has for sale imitation antique jewelry, Dutch tiles, notebook paper, prints, vases, pewter plates and candle holders as well as books. Christmas cards are on sale this month.

INTERESTED in the mystery of how a large newspaper is put together and published? Join a guided tour at the Sun-Times/Daily News building. These begin at 9:30 and 10:30 a.m. and 2 and 4 p.m. Monday through Friday. Reservations are necessary.

Across the street, the Chicago Tribune conducts hour-long tours at 9:45 and 11:15 a.m. and 12:45, 2:15 and 4 p.m.

The success of your day in town depends partly on not doing too much, so plan a leisurely schedule.

And don't forget to take snapshots of your family to look at during spare minutes!

Talk On Youth Friday

The October meeting of St. Peter Lutheran Church PTL will be held at 8 p.m. Friday, Oct. 14 in the school cafeteria.

The subject, "Youth - A Sign of the Times", will be discussed by Mr. Sonnenberg, the newly installed youth counselor. Sonneberg will direct his speech to today's and future parents of teen-agers, the church's role and a general understanding of teen-agers.

Entertainment will be provided by the Junior HI Girls Glee Club under the direction of Miss Judith Schroeder.

Refreshments will be served after the meeting.

For Fresh Smooth Look

Most women can't think of anything worse in terms of appearance than make-up that isn't fresh and smooth.

There's an easy way, though, to prevent unsightly cracking of make-up; touch the fingertips to the fine lines under your eyes on several occasions during your evening out.

The technique keeps the skin moist and smooth in the place where make-up is most likely to betray you.

Univ. Women To Hear Talk On Turkey

A speaker from Turkey and a skit entitled, "The Story of Fellowships" will be the program for the Thursday, Oct. 13 meeting of the American Association of University Women. A coffee hour begins at 7:45 p.m. with the meeting following at 8:30 p.m.

Miss Ipek Aksugar, an AAUW international fellow from Turkey, will address the group. Miss Aksugar is a recipient of the AAUW Fellowship Fund, which the AAUW is supporting this year with a used book fair.

Members will also view an exhibit from the Assoc. Fellowships offices in Washington.

A skit will be enacted by members attired in period costumes. Mrs. James Roman and Mrs. Edward Fenimore are directing the skit. The cast includes Mrs. Thomas Lally; Mrs. John Riecss; Mrs. W. C. Weed; Mrs. Edwin Upland; Mrs. Fred Hohenhorst; Mrs. Murray Campbell; Mrs. Donald Diersen; Mrs. Robert Kocher; Mrs. William Dillion; Mrs. Frank Swanson, and Mrs. Garrett Duel.

Books of all kinds are still being sought for the Annual Book Fair to be held Nov. 18 and 19 at Randhurst.

Co-chairmen Mrs. Francis Egan and Mrs. Loren Korte and other AAUW members have been working all summer collecting books, records, and sheet music.

PERSONS wishing to donate any of these articles may call or send a postcard to Mrs. Egen, 910 N. Princeton, Arlington Heights, 392-5882 or Mrs. Korte, 821 N. Harvard, Arlington Heights, 392-2615.

Arrangements to donate items may also be made by contacting Mrs. Beaver Waring, 308 S. Hi-Lusi, Mount Prospect, 392-0245; Mrs. Charles Bolline, 118 S. DOCTOR SAYS

What Cure For Eczema?

W. G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Q — My daughter has eczema. Doctors have tried several remedies but nothing helps. Is it just nerves or can it be cured?

A — Eczema is found in both infants and adults and in some victims it lasts a lifetime but with skillful treatment it can be controlled. The greatest obstacle to successful treatment is difficulty in finding the cause which varies widely in different persons. In many infants the cause is an allergy to milk, eggs or orange juice. When milk is the cause a milk substitute made from soybeans should be used and, when orange juice is the cause, synthetic vitamin C should be given. In any case the offending food must be scrupulously avoided.

A doctor in London has found that sensitivity to gluten (wheat protein) is a frequent cause of eczema and, by eliminating all wheat and wheat products from the diet, he has cured some stubborn cases that had been present for over 20 years.

The next problem in chronic eczema, and most cases become chronic, is to determine how much of the itching eruption is due to the underlying cause, how much is due to overtreatment with creams or lotions to which the victim may be sensitive and how much is due to the inevitable scratching.

Nerves are not a direct cause but the disease may cause nervous tension which increases the scratching thereby setting up a vicious cycle. In order to break such a cycle aspirin is often effective in stopping the itching.

Wet dressings to soften and remove crusts followed by the application of a coal tar cream often brings about marked improvement.

Q — Is it harmful for a man with gout to drink beer?

A — Alcohol will not affect your gout but it does damage your liver unless used in moderation — not more than two or three bottles of beer a day and preferably not every day.

Dist. 214 Sets Policy On Exchange

Board members of High School Dist. 214 have approved a policy permitting teachers of the district to participate in teacher exchange programs with the approval of the superintendent. The district will pay their regular salary during the period of absence from the district. The programs will be limited to one year.

High School Dist. 214 includes Arlington, Prospect, Forest View, Wheeling, Elk Grove High schools and John Hersey High School, scheduled to open in 1968.

Supt. Dr. Edward Gilbert recommended adoption of the policy.

"I feel this is part of broadening the experience of the students in the district," said Gilbert.

He said the district would accept a teacher from a foreign country in exchange for a Dist. 214 teacher.

KEITH WEISS, an art instructor at Prospect High School, has expressed an interest in the program offered by the U.S. Office of Education through the Department of Health, Education and Welfare. Weiss has asked for permission to apply for the International Education and Cultural Exchange Program.

"I have seen the value of the American Field Service Program and I have talked to teachers who have participated in an exchange program. They were enthusiastic about the advantages and felt the students had a good opportunity in having a teacher from another country," Weiss said.

He would like to teach in England and said the Department of Health, Education and Welfare accepts 90 teachers a year. The program covers an exchange with Canada, the United Kingdom and Sweden.

Gilbert said any exchange program would also provide for a teacher from another country to teach the same subject for a year in the district.

He said the administration is considering programs involving exchange of teachers with school districts in other parts of the U.S.

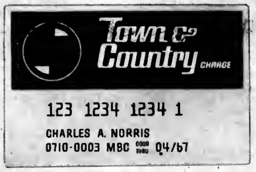
The sign of good things to come for our customers.



This is the symbol of a brand new service soon available to local merchants, and to our personal banking customers.

It represents our affiliation with the Midwest's largest charge card system, to be launched in time for the Christmas shopping season.

The Town and Country card will be carried by more shoppers. Honored by more merchants. Issued by more banks than any other charge card in the world.

For merchants, Town and Country will offer major benefits. A substantial increase in sales and profits. Elimination of bookkeeping, credit, and collection problems. Immediate cash for all sales. Increased customer goodwill. Support from a continuing merchandising program.

Our personal banking customers will be issued, at no cost, cards bearing the name of our bank. Town and Country will set up an automatic charge account at almost all retail stores. One bill each month for all charge purchases will simplify the card holder's record-keeping and help him manage his money wisely.

Watch for more details about Town and Country charge cards.

We are proud to announce the following Arlington Heights merchants are participating in the Town and Country Charge Card program as of today. Everyday additional merchants are joining Town and Country.

Ted Lambert, Forest View Topple Prospect Harriers

BY BOB CASTERLINE

Forest View, led by long-legged Ted Lambert, romped past Prospect's varsity cross-country team yesterday at home, 18-41.

The Falcon harriers grabbed first, second, fourth, fifth, and sixth to nail down the win, allowing only Steve Holmes of Prospect to crash the top five. Holmes took third with a time of 10:25 while Lambert grabbed top honors with a 10:01 clocking.

LAMBERT'S TIME was only one second off the course record of 10:00 which he set himself against Wheeling earlier this season.

Cliff Kahnlohe of Forest View dashed home second, just one second ahead of Holmes.

Dick Appleton, Joe Branka, and Oscar Pequeno, all of Forest View, took fourth, fifth, and sixth respectively, and Prospect's Owen McBride jogged in seventh. Buck Jones of Forest View placed eighth, edging out Prospect's Joe Wilcox and Chuck Forbes, who took ninth and 10th.

PROSPECT TOOK three out of the next five places. Falcon Joe Joyce finished 11th, just ahead of Prospect's LeRoy Rateike. Ernie Troutman of Forest View finished 13th and Prospect's Dave Baker and Bruce Oswald grabbed 14th and 15th.

Prospect reversed the situation at the frosh-soph level. The Knight second-yearman took nine out of the first 10 places to swamp the second-year Falcons 17-46.

Dave Proudfoot of Prospect led the field with a 10:56, and Dick Paulson of Prospect finished second.

DOUGH BACH of Prospect came in third, but Bob Bell, a Falcon freshman, grabbed fourth to prevent Prospect sweep. Bill Treece, Tom Klinkner, and Keith Matthews rounded out the top seven.

A Prospect coach, Dick Kinneman, had mixed emotions about the outcome of the sophomore meet. Kinneman, who directs the Knight frosh-soph team, has a son, Mike, who is a Falcon sophomore. Mike finished third among the Forest View entrants, taking 13th in the over-all competition.

Forest View's Ted Lambert dashes home first in yesterday's Forest View-Prospect cross-country meet. The long-legged senior harrier star finished the 1.9-mile race in 10:01 -- just one second off the course record.

Cliff Kuhnlohe of Forest View finishes second to give the Falcons a one-two finish in yesterday's cross-country meet against Prospect.

Cards Capture 9th Win

Arlington's unbeaten varsity cross-country team ripped off its ninth straight victory yesterday, taking the first five places in a triangular meet with East Leyden and Glenbrook South at Glenbrook.

The Cardinals scored 15 points on the one-through-five finish. East Leyden was second with 49 and Glenbrook third on 70.

Junior Dave Dieters led the Cardinal parade into the chute, taking first place in 10:09. Another junior, Rory Cassidy, was second, followed by a third junior, Rich (Stork) Saxton.

Greg Busch, the Cards' senior captain, finished fourth and sophomore Tom Swanson took fifth.

Larry Malcolmson, another senior, dashed home seventh.

Al McKay and Ken Malcolmson finished one-two at the sophomore level to spark the Cards to an 18-55-69 victory over East Leyden and Glenbrook in that order.

McKay's winning time on the two-mile course was 11:21.

The Cardinals' next opponent is Maine West. Both are unbeaten and the meet is being billed as a championship battle.

Prospect's Steve Holmes glides along in second place in yesterday's harrier showdown with Forest View.

Maine W. Is Too Much For 'Cats

Maine West's varsity and frosh-soph harriers proved too strong for Wheeling's cross-country team, posting perfect victories over the Wildcats at both levels, 15-50 and 15-48.

Phil Smith was the top varsity finisher for Wheeling, taking eighth place on the Maine West course in 11:01. Len Eaton of Wheeling came in ninth, followed by teammate Bill Martin in 10th.

Steve Mykytiak of Wheeling placed 11th and Jim Weber rounded out the top five Wildcats.

Triple Crowners

NEW YORK (UPI) – Rogers Hornsby and Ted Williams are the only players ever to win baseball's Triple Crown (batting average, home runs, runs batted in) on more than one occasion. Hornsby won in 1922 and 1925 and Williams in 1942 and 1947.

Hall of Fame pitcher Walter Johnson made four wild pitches in one inning on Sept. 21, 1914.

Irish Eye Tar Heels, Talbot

North Carolina, with a record of two wins and one loss, will invade South Bend, Ind., Saturday, hoping to snap Notre Dame's gridiron victory string at three.

Coach Jim Hickey's Tar Heels will be directed by the Atlantic Coast Conference's "Mr. Everything" quarterback Danny Talbot. Talbot was the ACC's "Athlete of the Year" in 1965 and its leading offensive performer with a total of 1,481 yards to his credit.

THIS YEAR he has sparked the Tar Heels to a 10-7 conquest of arch-rival North Carolina State and a 21 - 7 surprise over rugged Michigan. An opening loss to Kentucky is the only smudge on North Carolina's record.

In three games, Talbot has completed 30 of 53 passes for two touchdowns and has gained 110 yards on the ground. He also handles the punting, field goal, and extra point duties for the North Carolinans.

SIX DIFFERENT Tar Heels have latched onto at least one Talbot pass this season. Included in the receiving corps are halfbacks Tom Lampman and Dave Riggs, ends Charlie Carr, Bob Hume and Bobby Knott, and fullback Mark Mazza.

"I think we have an exciting and capable club," says Coach Hickey. "Last year we often made the big play, but we didn't have the offense to keep the ball in critical situations."

LIKE NOTRE DAME'S two previous opponents, Purdue and Army, North Carolina presents a defense that has been very stingy so far. The Tar Heels have been scored on only twice in their last two games, and they have permitted the enemy 623 yards on the ground in three outings.

Notre Dame is way ahead in the series statistics between the two schools. The Irish have won 12 of the 13 games they played against North Carolina. Last year the teams battled on even terms for three quarters before Coach Ara Parsehian's gang busted loose in the final period for a 17-0 triumph.

Prospecting

WITH DALE HOFMANN

THOUGHTS WHILE waiting for the kickoff...

The bet is still on, but the stakes may have changed. Recently we accepted a challenge from Elk Grove High School Principal Donald Thomas who wagered that 700 of his students would turn out for the Grenadiers' next home football game against the Maine South junior varsity team.

If the crowd didn't show, we were supposed to get a free meal at the Elk Grove cafeteria. If it did, we were to buy Dick Calisch, the school's humanities department chairman, a subscription to the Arlington DAY.

Yesterday Calisch called to report that he already has a subscription to the paper, and he has had one for a long time. We're still saving our appetite for the feast. Dr. Thomas, it's your move.

PALATINE High School paraded its homecoming court around the gridiron last week before the varsity game between Prospect and the Pirates, and it was a comely group indeed. Almost as cute were two of the long-locked males who chauffeured the parade cars. We can't decide whether the drivers were the girls' dates for the dance that night or also-rans in the queen balloting.

HERE'S ONE you can use to put down one of your know-it-all relatives. Those gobs of crepe paper mounted on sticks that you see the cheerleaders waving at football games are not pom-poms. A pom-pom, according to Webster, is a fully automatic carriage-mounted 37 millimeter gun firing explosive shells and used by both sides in the Boer War." And a pom-pom girl is politely defined as a pickup.

What you are seeing at games is pom-pons with the accent on the "n".

About this prediction business. We collaborate with Mr. Casterline and the spirits at the end of every week to decide who the prep winners will be. Factors like school colors, music, and cheerleaders' volume rarely enter the discussion. It's all very scientific.

OCCASIONALLY there is disagreement in the sports department. Then we compromise. Last week Mr. Casterline was sure Maine West would drub Forest View, and Prospect would dismantle Palatine. I saw it the other way around. So we decided to go with Forest View over Maine West as I suggested, and Prospect over Palatine as Mr. Casterline prophesied. The result was unfortunate.

If we had compromised the other way, the sports department would be demanding three-day weeks and personal secretaries by now. We even toyed with calling the Elk Grove-Deerfield tie but decided that would be too dangerous.

IN ANY EVENT, last week's misfortune amounts only to a slump, and everyone has those. The Dodgers would probably clobber the Orioles five out of the next six if there were a next six.

Keeping that World Series debacle in mind, it's easy to see that we're still way ahead of the national experts in the prediction game. We're much too clever to give 8-5 odds on anything.

Hardly anyone noticed, but one of the longest unscored-upon strings in area football history was snapped last week. It happened in the Mount Prospect Midget League where the Bantam Division Hawkeyes gave up a touchdown for the first time in 11 games played over two seasons. And not a high school scout around for miles.

THE QUOTE of the week was made by Baltimore Oriole hero Frank Robinson when he was asked what he hit for the Birds' game winning home run in the final match of the World Series. "Right handed," said Robbie.

Speaking of Robinsons, Prospect High School halfback Bob Robinson, who is also a first-string outfielder on the Knights' baseball team, has acquired a rather unusual nickname. His friends call him "Rivers".

How come? "Well," said a teammate, "You have heard of Brooks Robinson, haven't you?"

Arlington High School and Maine West may decide two Mid-Suburban League championships this week. The league's only undefeated football teams will meet at Arlington Friday, but everyone knows that.

Not so widely heralded is the Cardinal-Warrior cross-country meet scheduled for Thursday on the Maine West course. Neither harrier team has tasted defeat in league action so far, and the winner of that crucial test should go all the way. An individual battle will highlight the affair, as Arlington's record-busting Dave Dieters duels the Warriors' Lee Labadie.

A TEASER for professional basketball fans: What was the name of the short-lived Chicago team that was coached by Abe Saperstein?

Illini 11 Respects Indiana Unit

A frequent comment about Illinois' football schedule has been about the toughness of its first four opponents, Southern Methodist, Missouri, Michigan State, and Ohio State. That estimation could be stretched at least to opponent number five, Indiana, according to Illini assistant coach Jim Brown, who scouted the Hoosiers.

"This is a much improved team over the one we beat last year," Brown says. "It doesn't make as many mistakes as it did a year ago. It has much more continuity of attack. The players know what they're supposed to do out there and they really go after it.

INDIANA, with a 1-0-1 conference record, feels it has as good a chance as anybody at the Big Ten title and Rose Bowl. The crowd was really behind the team in last week's 7-7 tie against Minnesota, and will probably be even more spirited for our game, since it's homecoming.

"That tie against Minnesota seemed almost like a victory for Indiana. The Hoosiers were behind 7-0 at halftime, but completely dominated the second half and scored in the last quarter. Indiana outgained the Gophers 215-66 on the ground and 357-243 overall.

"ANOTHER REASON for Indiana's improvement this year is the quarterbacking and passing they're getting from Frank Stavroff," Brown continued. "Stavroff, was a part-time regular last year, and the experience apparently helped him greatly. He's an exceptionally accurate passer -- he completed 10 of 15 against Minnesota -- and could rank high in the nation this season on passing percentage. He has excellent receivers in split end Bill Couch, tight end Al Kamradt, and halfback John Ginter.

"AND WE'RE going to see another tough fullback, just as we did in Ohio State's Paul Hudson last week. Frank Krivoshia broke a school rushing record when he gained 141 yards in 30 carries against Minnesota."

NU Lettermen Slate Annual Reunion Affair

Two of the greatest names in Northwestern coaching history – Lynn "Pappy" Waldorf and Arthur "Dutch" Lonborg – will headline the annual reunion weekend of the Northwestern N Men's Club, Nov. 4-5.

THE WEEKEND festivities will center around reunions of the 1941 Wildcat football team and the 1931 and 1933 Big Ten championship basketball teams. They will be honored at a dinner Friday evening at the Orrington Hotel and between halves of Saturday's game against Minnesota at Dyche Stadium.

Waldorf coached the Wildcat football teams from 1935 through 1946, leading the 1936 team to an undisputed Big Ten championship. His total of 49 victories ranks him first among Northwestern football coaches. In his student days he was an All-American tackle at Syracuse University. Pappy was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame earlier this year. He left Northwestern to become head coach at California, and in 1949 sent his Bears to the Rose Bowl game against Northwestern, losing to the Wildcats, 20 to 14.

LONBORG WAS head basketball coach of the Wildcats from 1928 through 1950. His initial team in 1928 became the first in Northwestern basketball history to compile a victory total in double figures. Only once in the next decade did a Lonborg team fail to have a win total in double figures. His 1931 and 1933 teams were Big Ten champions, and his career coaching record was 234-205. In his playing days he was a basketball, football and baseball star at the University of Kansas. At Northwestern he also served as assistant football coach.

Punt Returner

BALTIMORE (UPI) – Alvin Raymond of the Baltimore Colts set a National Football League mark in the 1965 season by returning 41 punts. He picked up 403 yards on the runs, far short of the record 555 yards gained by Bill Grimes returning punts for the 1950 Green Bay Packers.

2,405 No to 896 Yes

Voters Reject Park Bond Issue

BY MAXINE TYMA

Voters said an emphatic "no" Saturday to the Arlington Heights Park District defeating its referendum by an almost 3 to 1 vote.

Official figures reported by the Board of Park Commissioners Saturday night are 896 "yes" votes to 2,405 "no" ballots.

The $1,750,000 referendum was proposed for the development of eight park sites. Major improvements would have included two swimming pools in two community parks and six neighborhood parks with recreation equipment.

"We are disappointed that the people did not believe the issue was as important as we thought," said Park Board President Charles Cronin Saturday night.

"Our job as a park board is to study the needs of the district and to present them to the public. It is their choice and apparently they did not feel the parks are necessary at this time. Wa will have to do the best we can with the present facilities," Croain said.

Official results by precinct polling places are:

Precinct 1, Greenbrier School: 336 yes to 28 no.

Precinct 2, Hasbrook Park: 117 yes to 638 no.

Precinct 3, Pioneer Park: 70 yes to 649 no.

Precinct 4, Dunton School: 204 yes to 132 no.

Precinct 5, Faith Lutheran Church: 31 yes to 195 no.

Precinct 6, Recreation Park: 93 yes to 715 no.

Precinct 7, Ivy Hill School: 45 yes to 48 no.

There were 17 absentee ballots.

Only two precincts approved the referendum for park development.

Thomas Thornton, director of parks, said the total number of votes represents the highest number of ballots cast on a park district issue.

PARK BOARD officials cite last year's approval for land purchase as a major step in achieving their final goal of park development. A land purchase referendum of $465,000 was approved in 1965 by a 564 to 257 vote.

"Apparently the people weren't ready for this now," said Cronin. "All we could do was give them a chance to let us know how they felt."

Saturday's referendum was the fifth time this year voters in Arlington Heights have been asked to approve an issue which would mean a tax increase. A five per cent utility tax also was imposed on village residents to pay for storm damage.

SEPT. 24 voters defeated a referendum to increase the School Dist. 25 tax rate by 33 1/2 cents.

The district has planned to apply for a federal grant to help finance the development if the referendum was successful.

Board Drops Case Against Former Cop

BY JACK A. VANDERMYN

Claiming "lack of jurisdiction," the Mount Prospect Fire and Police Commission dismissed charges Friday morning against former patrolman George Mucciante.

The charges against Mucciante, a nine-year veteran on the force who resigned Sept. 15, were filed by Village Trustee Robert Teichert.

Teichert charged that Mucciante violated Rule 15, Section 12, sub-sections 3 and 25 of the rules and regulations of the board by making statements concerning the affairs of the department without permission of the chief of police.

P. Randolph Bateman, president of the commission, called the hearing to order at 9 a.m. Bateman was flanked by commissioners Henry Szala and John Kilroy as he read an opening statement that in effect dismissed the charges against Mucciante -- but left little doubt to the commission's feeling about the guilt of the former patrolman.

Jack M. Siegel, a municipal attorney who handles special legal matters for the village, served as the commission's special attorney.

Village attorney Robert Moore represented the chief of police and Trustee Teichert.

IN HIS opening statement, Bateman said, "Charges against Mucciante were brought as a result of statements allegedly made by George Mucciante on Sept. 6, 1966, while he was still a member of the police department.

"These statements were reported in The Prospect Day edition on Sept. 6. If these statements were in fact made by Mucciante, it is clear they touch upon the affairs of the department and were made without the consent of the chief.

"It is also clear that the statements . . . would, at least in my judgment, constitute conduct unbecoming a police officer of this village," Bateman said as he read a lengthy prepared statement.

Bateman said that he believed the statements made by Mucciante, which were critical of the police department leadership, the village political structure and the fire and police commission, were, "highly political and must be suspect."

BATEMAN said that the charges came, "from a man who was a member of this department for nine years and never made an eligibility list for any position beyond that of patrolman."

Because Mucciante resigned from the police department legal counsel advised the fire and police commission that they did not have jurisdiction in the matter.

Mucciante was not represented by counsel at the hearing. Prior to the start of the hearing, Mucciante spoke briefly with Siegel, seeking a postponement of the proceedings because his attorney, Richard McPartlen, could not be present.

In dismissing the case against Mucciante, Bateman said, "it should not be construed that the conduct of Mucciante reflects any credit upon himself or his professional standing as a police officer, or that the charges, if substantiated, would not be ample and substantial basis for discharge.

"We are, however, bound by law in these matters and it is the obligation and intention of this board to comply in all respects to the letter and the spirit of the statute under which it operates," Bateman said.

Bateman closed the five-minute hearing by ordering that the board, on its own motion, dismiss the proceedings, "for lack of jurisdiction."

COMMISSIONERS Szala and Kilroy voted with Bateman and the legal order dismissing the charges was signed.

After the hearing, Mucciante said that he looked upon the verdict as a victory. "I believe my record is now clear," he said.

Mucciante said that he resigned from the police department to go into business for himself. He is opening a pizza restaurant at Central and Wolf Rds. in Des Plaines.

"I believe this is a victory for all policemen in the village," Mucciante said. "By his remarks, it is obvious that I would not have gotten a fair hearing before Bateman.

"He had the case all cut and dried. But I showed up to stand up for my rights and to protect my record as a police officer," Mucciante said.

ABOUT the letter he wrote to the newspapers upon his resignation, Mucciante said, "The letter was not a knock against the board of fire and police commissioners as individuals, but against the board president, P. Randolph Bateman. No officer could receive fair and impartial treatment from this man. It is apparent that he prejudged the case from the beginning."

Bateman, Szala and Teichert all made statements after the hearing. Kilroy declined to comment.

Bateman said: "It is most unfortunate that this technicality of jurisdiction prevents us from demanding public examination of Mucciante and his outrageous statements, especially to find out who wrote them for him.

"I have no choice but to act within the law, even when, as in this case, the law seems to stand in the way of obtaining a fair and just result.

"The fact that I was included in this man's wild charges makes it extremely difficult to push my personal feelings aside and act in an impartial manner. But this is what I must do.

"It is an understatement to say that I am not satisfied with the conclusions reached in this matter, but I would be even less satisfied if we were to ignore Mucciante's rights and proceed in an improper manner. We would then be using a wrong to cure a wrong.

"This is the first time in the nine-year history of this commission that a hearing has been held. One good thing has come out of this mess. The commission is now fully familiar with all procedures in handling formal charges.

"I can assure you that we will not lose jurisdiction again should a similar situation arise," Bateman said.

SZALA SAID, "Although this finding of 'no jurisdiction' makes moot a further discussion of this case, it is my hope that this action sweeps Mucciante's naivete into a wastebasket along with the attempts of some people to use our police department as a political football.

"On the other hand, it is difficult to refrain from answering a malicious attack upon the integrity of this commission by this ex-officer who has never seen fit to give it the opportunity to act upon his alleged grievances.

"Legally, the question of jurisdiction was a close one. It was only when all doubts were resolved in favor of the accused that this decision was reached. This should make it obvious to Mucciante that this commission will not stoop to his level and allow personal feelings to interfere with its sworn duty.

"Mucciante, however, should not feel smug about this finding. His slanderous remarks against members of this commission could easily place him at the short end of a civil suit where the real punishment to him could easily exceed any censure we could pronounce as an official body.

"It is foolish for me to get too disturbed by Mucciante's diatribe since the late election returns made it obvious that the only person to believe his letter is the one who wrote it for him," Szala said.

Szala reference was to the defeat of a referendum to change the present form of municipal government from village to city.

MEMBERS of the commission have privately stated that they believe Mucciante was used as a tool of the Representative Government Assn proponents of the change in government.

Teichert, who filed the charges against Mucciante after two other police officers resigned and leveled blasts at the village, said, "As a lawyer, I must accept the commission's decision to abide by the law. I understand their legal predicament and I have respect for the position they have taken. It certainly must be frustrating to them.

"It is equally frustrating to me and to the citizens of Mount Prospect. Our rights before the fire and police commission must also be respected. If the Mucciante case has uncovered procedural weaknesses in the enforcement of rules and regulations, then they should be corrected immediately.

"This, at least, would assure us in the future that such unwarranted attacks and abusive statements would not be without a remedy in the people," Teichert said.

When he originally filed charges against Mucciante, Teichert said he did so to bring the allegations made by the policeman out into the open.

HAD THE board taken jurisdiction in the case, its only recourse against Mucciante would have been to dismiss him from the force rather than accept his resignation.

Teichert said that he did not feel that a policeman who made such charges, without substantiating them, should be permitted to serve as a police officer in the future.

A smiling George Mucciante leave Mount Prospect village hall after hearing the fire and police commission dismiss charges against him. The commission said they lacked jurisdiction to try charges of conduct unbecoming an officer filed by Robert Teichert.

Group to Study District 57

Frank Jantac, chairman of a citizens group formed to advise the Dist. 57 board of education on long-range plans for the district, has released a timetable of meeting dates for three sub-committees.

The head of the Citizens Advisory Committee said the meetings are open to the press. He compared the work of sub-committee members to the debates of legislators.

Four sub-committees have been selected from the 66-member citizens group, described by William A. Krampert, Dist. 57 board president, as "blue - ribbon representatives of the community."

Dist. 57 schools include Busse, Central, Fairview, Gregory, Lincoln, Lions Park, Sunset Park and Westbrook schools.

The citizens committee is charged with reporting to the board Oct. 31 on specific recommendations for "planning for sound and orderly development within the school district."

The sub-committees have been organized to correspond with the main parts of a long-range study of the district's projected enrollments, facilities and finances.

THURSDAY an enrollment sub-committee met to check the figures supplied by the administration regarding the projected school population in 1970.

The sub-committee, headed by Mrs. Roland C. Becker, 119 N. Emerson, plans to draft its report Thursday.

A building sub-committee, chaired by Eugene J. Trandel, 201 S. Kenilworth, will meet for the first time tonight, as will the finance sub-committee, whose chairman is H. D. Gulliksen, 510 N. Russell.

The two sub-committees will meet jointly Thursday.

Jaatac has set Oct. 20 as the deadline for draft recommendations from each sub-committee.

If there are any minority recommendations, he directed that the number of members supporting them be submitted.

The final forms of the reports are to be presented to the citizens group Oct. 24 for general approval.

Pending changes the three reports are expected to be completed Oct. 27. After printing they will be brought to the board of education at a special meeting Oct. 31.

President Krampert told the members of the citizens committee last week how he had selected them.

He said each board member was asked to submit names of residents whose experience and interests qualified them for the task.

PERSONS whose names appeared more than once and who represented a cross section of the community were selected he said.

Representatives from seven homeowner and civic associations were included in the committee, Krampert added.

Two board members, a former board member, and members of the district's administration staff were put on each sub-committee.

Following is a list of the members of the Citizens Advisory Committee according to the sub-committees on which they serve:

Building Sub-committee: W. K. Abbott, Robert E. Anderson, A. J. Bootz, George R. Brauchle, Don B. Carson, Steven L. Caruso, R. K. DiVall, Robert Ferguson, T. Z. Grafton and Edward Hofert.

Also, William C. McElligatt, Mrs. C. A. Nelson, Fred Reimann, Robert E. Spotswood, Ralph E. Walberg, Robert T. Wood and Malcolm Young.

Finance Sub - committee: W. T. Ames, D. A. Bartlett, John C. Busenhart, George R. Busse, R. W. Gewecke, Lester Brown, Mrs. Charles R. Green, David C. Hanna, Reg-

2,405 No to 896 Yes

Voters Reject Park Bond Issue

BY MAXINE TYMA

Voters said an emphatic "no" Saturday to the Arlington Heights Park District defeating its referendum by an almost 3 to 1 vote.

Official figures reported by the Board of Park Commissioners Saturday night are 896 "yes" votes to 2,405 "no" ballots.

The $1,750,000 referendum was proposed for the development of eight park sites. Major improvements would have included two swimming pools in two community parks and six neighborhood parks with recreation equipment.

"We are disappointed that the people did not believe the issue was as important as we thought," said Park Board President Charles Cronin Saturday night.

"Our job as a park board is to study the needs of the district and to present them to the public. It is their choice and apparently they did not feel the parks are necessary at this time. We will have to do the best we can with the present facilities," Cronin said.

Official results by precinct polling places are:

Precinct 1, Greenbrier School: 336 yes to 28 no.

Precinct 2, Hasbrook Park: 117 yes to 638 no.

Precinct 3, Pioneer Park: 70 yes to 649 no.

Precinct 4, Dunton School: 204 yes to 132 no.

Precinct 5, Faith Lutheran Church: 31 yes to 195 no.

Precinct 6, Recreation Park: 93 yes to 715 no.

Precinct 7, Ivy Hill School: 45 yes to 48 no.

There were 17 absentee ballots.

Only two precincts approved the referendum for park development.

Thomas Thornton, director of parks, said the total number of votes represents the highest number of ballots cast on a park district issue.

PARK BOARD officials cite last year's approval for land purchase as a major step in achieving their final goal of park development. A land purchase referendum of $465,000 was approved in 1965 by a 564 to 257 vote.

"Apparently the people weren't ready for this now," said Cronin. "All we could do was give them a chance to let us know how they felt."

Saturday's referendum was the fifth time this year voters in Arlington Heights have been asked to approve an issue which would mean a tax increase. A five per cent utility tax also was imposed on village residents to pay for storm damage.

SEPT. 24 voters defeated a referendum to increase the School Dist. 25 tax rate by 33 1/2 cents.

The district has planned to apply for a federal grant to help finance the development if the referendum was successful.

Board Drops Case Against Former Cop

BY JACK A. VANDERMYN

Claiming "lack of jurisdiction," the Mount Prospect Fire and Police Commission dismissed charges Friday morning against former patrolman George Mucciante.

The charges against Mucciante, a nine-year veteran on the force who resigned Sept. 15, were filed by Village Trustee Robert Teichert.

Teichert charged that Mucciante violated Rule 15, Section 12, sub-sections 3 and 25 of the rules and regulations of the board by making statements concerning the affairs of the department without permission of the chief of police.

P. Randolph Bateman, president of the commission, called the hearing to order at 9 a.m. Bateman was flanked by commissioners Henry Szala and John Kilroy as he read an opening statement that in effect dismissed the charges against Mucciante -- but left little doubt to the commission's feeling about the guilt of the former patrolman.

Jack M. Siegel, a municipal attorney who handles special legal matters for the village, served as the commission's special attorney.

Village attorney Robert Moore represented the chief of police and Trustee Teichert.

IN HIS opening statement, Bateman said, "Charges against Mucciante were brought as a result of statements allegedly made by George Mucciante on Sept. 6, 1966, while he was still a member of the police department.

"These statements were reported in The Prospect Day edition on Sept. 6. If these statements were in fact made by Mucciante, it is clear they touch upon the affairs of the department and were made without the consent of the chief.

"It is also clear that the statements . . . would, at least in my judgment, constitute conduct unbecoming a police officer of this village," Bateman said as he read a lengthy prepared statement.

Bateman said that he believed the statements made by Mucciante, which were critical of the police department leadership, the village political structure and the fire and police commission, were, "highly political and must be suspect."

BATEMAN said that the charges came, "from a man who was a member of this department for nine years and never made an eligibility list for any position beyond that of patrolman."

Because Mucciante resigned from the police department legal counsel advised the fire and police commission that they did not have jurisdiction in the matter.

Mucciante was not represented by counsel at the hearing. Prior to the start of the hearing, Mucciante spoke briefly with Siegel, seeking a postponement of the proceedings because his attorney, Richard McPartlen, could not be present.

In dismissing the case against Mucciante, Bateman said, "it should not be construed that the conduct of Mucciante reflects any credit upon himself or his professional standing as a police officer, or that the charges, if substantiated, would not be ample and substantial basis for discharge.

"We are, however, bound by law in these matters and it is the obligation and intention of this board to comply in all respects to the letter and the spirit of the statute under which it operates," Bateman said.

Bateman closed the five-minute hearing by ordering that the board, on its own motion, dismiss the proceedings, "for lack of jurisdiction."

COMMISSIONERS Szala and Kilroy voted with Bateman and the legal order dismissing the charges was signed.

After the hearing, Mucciante said that he looked upon the verdict as a victory. "I believe my record is now clear," he said.

Mucciante said that he resigned from the police department to go into business for himself. He is opening a pizza restaurant at Central and Wolf Rds. in Des Plaines.

"I believe this is a victory for all policemen in the village," Mucciante said. "By his remarks, it is obvious that I would not have gotten a fair hearing before Bateman.

"He had the case all cut and dried. But I showed up to stand up for my rights and to protect my record as a police officer," Mucciante said.

ABOUT the letter he wrote to the newspapers upon his resignation, Mucciante said, "The letter was not a knock against the board of fire and police commissioners as individuals, but against the board president, P. Randolph Bateman. No officer could receive fair and impartial treatment from this man. It is apparent that he prejudged the case from the beginning."

Bateman, Szala and Teichert all made statements after the hearing. Kilroy declined to comment.

Bateman said: "It is most unfortunate that this technicality of jurisdiction prevents us from demanding public examination of Mucciante and his outrageous statements, especially to find out who wrote them for him.

"I have no choice but to act within the law, even when, as in this case, the law seems to stand in the way of obtaining a fair and just result.

"The fact that I was included in this man's wild charges makes it extremely difficult to push my personal feelings aside and act in an impartial manner. But this is what I must do.

"It is an understatement to say that I am not satisfied with the conclusions reached in this matter, but I would be even less satisfied if we were to ignore Mucciante's rights and proceed in an improper manner. We would then be using a wrong to cure a wrong.

"This is the first time in the nine-year history of this commission that a hearing has been held. One good thing has come out of this mess. The commission is now fully familiar with all procedures in handling formal charges.

"I can assure you that we will not lose jurisdiction again should a similar situation arise," Bateman said.

SZALA SAID, "Although this finding of 'no jurisdiction' makes moot a further discussion of this case, it is my hope that this action sweeps Mucciante's naivete into a wastebasket along with the attempts of some people to use our police department as a political football.

"On the other hand, it is difficult to refrain from answering a malicious attack upon the integrity of this commission by this ex-officer who has never seen fit to give it the opportunity to act upon his alleged grievances.

"Legally, the question of jurisdiction was a close one. It was only when all doubts were resolved in favor of the accused that this decision was reached. This should make it obvious to Mucciante that this commission will not stoop to his level and allow personal feelings to interfere with its sworn duty.

"Mucciante, however, should not feel smug about this finding. His slanderous remarks against members of this commission could easily place him at the short end of a civil suit where the real punishment to him could easily exceed any censure we could pronounce as an official body.

"It is foolish for me to get too disturbed by Mucciante's diatribe since the late election returns made it obvious that the only person to believe his letter is the one who wrote it for him," Szala said.

Szala reference was to the defeat of a referendum to change the present form of municipal government from village to city.

MEMBERS of the commission have privately stated that they believe Mucciante was used as a tool of the Representative Government Assn proponents of the change in government.

Teichert, who filed the charges against Mucciante after two other police officers resigned and leveled blasts at the village, said, "As a lawyer, I must accept the commission's decision to abide by the law. I understand their legal predicament and I have respect for the position they have taken. It certainly must be frustrating to them.

"It is equally frustrating to me and to the citizens of Mount Prospect. Our rights before the fire and police commission must also be respected. If the Mucciante case has uncovered procedural weaknesses in the enforcement of rules and regulations, then they should be corrected immediately.

"This, at least, would assure us in the future that such unwarranted attacks and abusive statements would not be without a remedy in the people," Teichert said.

When he originally filed charges against Mucciante, Teichert said he did so to bring the allegations made by the policeman out into the open.

HAD THE board taken jurisdiction in the case, its only recourse against Mucciante would have been to dismiss him from the force rather than accept his resignation.

Teichert said that he did not feel that a policeman who made such charges, without substantiating them, should be permitted to serve as a police officer in the future.

A smiling George Mucciante leave Mount Prospect village hall after hearing the fire and police commission dismiss charges against him. The commission said they lacked jurisdiction to try charges of conduct unbecoming an officer filed by Robert Teichert.

Group to Study District 57

Frank Jantac, chairman of a citizens group formed to advise the Dist. 57 board of education on long-range plans for the district, has released a timetable of meeting dates for three sub-committees.

The head of the Citizens Advisory Committee said the meetings are open to the press. He compared the work of sub-committee members to the debates of legislators.

Four sub-committees have been selected from the 66-member citizens group, described by William A. Krampert, Dist. 57 board president, as "blue - ribbon representatives of the community."

Dist. 57 schools include Busse, Central, Fairview, Gregory, Lincoln, Lions Park, Sunset Park and Westbrook schools.

The citizens committee is charged with reporting to the board Oct. 31 on specific recommendations for "planning for sound and orderly development within the school district."

The sub-committees have been organized to correspond with the main parts of a long-range study of the district's projected enrollments, facilities and finances.

THURSDAY an enrollment sub-committee met to check the figures supplied by the administration, regarding the projected school population in 1970.

The sub-committee, headed by Mrs. Roland C. Becker, 119 N. Emerson, plans to draft its report Thursday.

A building sub-committee, chaired by Eugene J. Trandel, 201 S. Kenilworth, will meet for the first time tonight, as will the finance sub-committee, whose chairman is H. D. Gulliksen, 510 N. Russell.

The two sub-committees will meet jointly Thursday.

Jantac has set Oct. 20 as the deadline for draft recommendations from each sub-committee.

If there are any minority recommendations, he directed that the number of members supporting them be submitted.

The final forms of the reports are to be presented to the citizens group Oct. 24 for general approval.

Pending changes the three reports are expected to be completed Oct. 27. After printing they will be brought to the board of education at a special meeting Oct. 31.

President Krampert told the members of the citizens committee last week how he had selected them.

He said each board member was asked to submit names of residents whose experience and interests qualified them for the task.

PERSONS whose names appeared more than once and who represented a cross section of the community were selected he said.

Representatives from seven homeowner and civic associations were included in the committee, Krampert added.

Two board members, a former board member, and members of the district's administration staff were put on each sub-committee.

Following is a list of the members of the Citizens Advisory Committee according to the sub-committees on which they serve:

Building Sub-committee: W. K. Abbott, Robert E. Anderson, A. J. Bootz, George R. Brauchle, Don B. Carson, Steven L. Caruso, R. K. DiVall, Robert Ferguson, T. Z. Grafton and Edward Hofert,

Also, William C. McElligatt, Mrs. C. A. Nelson, Fred Reimann, Robert E. Spotswood, Ralph E. Walberg, Robert T. Wood and Malcolm Young.

Dancing Alone Is No Fun

Rolling Meadows square dance caller Merrill Tibbits stepped up to the microphone last week in the Kimball High School gymnasium.

"Swing your partners," he said. Nothing happened.

"Do-si-do. . .," he called out a bit louder. Still nothing.

"Promenade home. . . ," he tried again. Noting that he was getting no response, Tibbits decided to call it a night.

Tibbits had been scheduled to hold the first square dance class for the Rolling Meadows Park Dist. but nobody had shown up.

Jack Fogel, director of the district, said that next week Tibbits will try again.

Rented Racer Just Dust Cloud

When Arlington Heights policeman Jack Weber saw a speeding car on Palatine Rd. near Buffalo Grove Rd. Friday evening he gave chase.

That is about as far as it went.

The car, a new Ford Mustang GT 350, ran away from the squad car in a cloud of dust. Weber tried to follow but lost sight of the car near Palatine and Milwaukee Rds.

Two motorcycle policemen Michael Schenkai and Gernid Inch, called by Weber to help in the chase, saw the car moving west on the frontage road along Palatine Rd.

They turned to pursue, but were left in the dust.

Police said the black car had the distinctive twin gold stripes that identified it as a rented car.

An agent for the rental firm told police the model could reach a speed of 140 miles per hour.

Officers said they could not estimate the speed of the car during the chase, but none of the officers got close enough to get a license number.

Home Trains Unemployed

The Magnus Farm, a nursing home at 801 E. Central Rd., Arlington Heights, has been approved as a participant in the On - the - Job Training Program under the Manpower Development and Training Act.

Twelve unemployed workers will be hired by the nursing home and trained for a period of eight weeks.

The 12 workers will receive $3,150 in wages during their training period.

Rumsfeld Suggests Reforms

Rep. Donald Rumsfeld (R-Ill.) recommended four congressional reforms Friday at a meeting at the Southminister United Church, 906 E. Central Rd.

The reforms which have been recommended by the Joint Committee on the Organization of Congress of which Rumsfeld is a member are: creation of a House Ethics committee, elimination of the practice of voting by proxy in committee and subcommittee meetings, permission for televising and broadcasting committee hearings and the removal of postmasters and rural letter carriers from politics.

RUMSFELD said the Democratic leadership in Congress has delayed considering these reforms.

"It would be a serious act of obstruction to waste the Joint Committee's efforts through the inaction of the Democratic leadership" he said.

He spoke before a joint meeting of the Adult Couples Club of the Southminister United Presbyterian Church and the Young Married Couples Club of the First Presbyterian Church.

A Bad Weekend For Frank

A 21 - year - old Rolling Meadows man had two encounters with Arlington Heights police over the weekend.

Early Saturday morning Frank Sweeney, 4107 Owl, was arrested on charges of driving while intoxicated and driving with a revoked license.

He was taken into custody after police chased him from Palatine and Arlington Heights Rds. where they said he ran through a stop sign to Palatine and Rand Rds.

Sweeney was free on bond and a court date of Nov. 7 is set.

SUNDAY police received a complaint that two men were causing a disturbance in front of a tavern at 710 E. Kensington.

Sweeney and a companion, John Young, 18, of 7 N. Dryden, were arrested and charged with public intoxication.

Sweeney will answer all charges Nov. 7. Young is to appear in court, Oct. 19.

JUDGE OBERMILLER

'Spanking Judge' Slated to Speak

Judge William J. Obermiller from Lake County, Indiana, will address the first meeting of the Randhurst Council of PTAs Wednesday at 8 p.m. in the Busse School auditorium, 101 N. Owen St., Mount Prospect.

He has been called the spanking judge because of his method of punishing youthful offenders.

Judge Obermiller has appeared on many national television shows and has written articles for Readers Digest, Parade, Guidepost and other publications.

He will speak on "Are You Afraid of Your Children?"

The judge was selected as "outstanding man of the year" in the Hammond area and he has received the "distinguished citizen's award" in Indiana.

Water Found To Be Safe

Water reported as appearing rancid Thursday was found safe Friday.

John Schultz of the Cook County Health Department said samples of water taken from an area on the south side of the village proved that the water "was not contaminated."

Art Linnemann, 1200 Linnemann Rd., reported on Wednesday to Police Lt. Fred Hedlund, Mount Prospect's health inspector, that the water coming from hydrants had a bad odor.

Lt. Hedlund found the water line serving Linneman's residence is the same line for Robert Frost School. He advised Principal Leonard Gnrasha that pupils should not drink the water until a health and safety check was completed.

THE WATER line is operated by the Utility Sewer and Water Co. Mount Prospect Village Manager John Mongan reported a test of the water Wednesday showed the water was contaminated.

A second test of the water, on Thursday, he said, was negative. "The water was OK," he said.

Schultz said discolored water could come from sediment in the water lines and does not represent a public health problem.

MERCHANT OF THE WEEK

The gentleman at the left is shown enjoying one of his favorite habits which has, over many years, become his trademark.

To most Mount Prospect citizens, George L. Busse needs no introduction. They know what part his firm and family have played in the development of their thriving community.

George L. Busse is president of the realty firm bearing his name. Mr. Busse's father founded the firm in 1926 when he decided to develop a farm between School Rd. and Mount Prospect Ave.

Mr. Busse is a member of the Northwest Suburban Board of Realtors, and plays an active and influential role in continuing the growth of Mount Prospect.

Following in Mr. Busse's footsteps is his son, George R. Busse.

Women See Books for Sale

Contact Mrs. Beaver Waring, 308 S. Hi Lusi or Mrs. Charles Bolline, 118 S. WaPella in Mount Prospect if you have any used books to donate to the American Association of University Women book sale.

The next meeting of the group will be October 13 at Pioneer Park. Miss Ipek Aksugar, an AAUW international fellow will be the main speaker.

Proceeds from the book sale are used for the fellowship fund of which Miss Aksugar is a recipient. Members will also view an exhibit from the Association Fellowships offices in Washington.

Thacker Jr. High Commemoration

A commemorative plate on Thacker Junior High School will be available to area residents this month.

The plate will be sold by members of the Thacker Junior High School Adult Council as a service project.

The Thacker building served as the only high school for Maine Township for approximately 30 years before it was changed to a junior high school.

The plate is a 10-inch, high glass china ornament with a gadroon border and gold trim. It is inscribed with pictures of the original Maine Township High School and the present Thacker Junior High School building. At the end of the school year the Thacker building will be demolished.

THE PLATE WILL be sold for $2 and will be displayed Oct. 17 through 22 in several Des Plaines stores and banks.

It will be available Oct. 17 at "Parent Orientation Night" at Thacker Junior High School, 1557 Thacker St., Des Plaines. Plates will be sold Oct. 18 and 19 from 4 to 5 p.m. in the junior high school and Oct. 22 from 8:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. on the corner of Praire Av. and Lee St. in Des Plaines.

Thacker Junior High School, the original Maine Township High School, was constructed in 1902 at a cost of $15,000. At the end of the first year there were 50 students.

Mrs. Richard Cameron (left) and Mrs. Frances Peterson, both of Des Plaines, display the Thacker Commemorativa plate which will be sold by members of the Thacker Junior High School Adult Council. The plate is inscribed with pictures of the original Maine Township High School and the present Thacker Junior High School. A descriptive text of the history of the schools is on the reverse side.

Fire Prevention Week Includes Displays, Contest

Monday was the first day of Fire Prevention Week.

In Mount Prospect it will be observed each night with a demonstration of fire - fighting and fire prevention displays in the fire station, 112 E. Northwest Highway.

Friday the Fire Department will conduct a demonstration at Lions Park.

Scheduled as part of Fire Prevention Week activities Friday is a water fight by citizens' groups and the crowning of a Junior Fire Chief and a Fire Prevention Queen.

The Chief and queen will be selected from winners in a Fire Prevention Week poster contest that closed Sept. 30. Pupils competed in various grade levels. From each school a Fire Captain will be named.

THE TOP honors will go to those the judges believe produced the finest Fire Prevention Week posters.

Winners in the contest will receive free movie tickets.

The Junior Fire Chief will receive a helmet and badge; the Queen will receive a crown.

They both will be authorized to ride with the Fire Department on parades.

During this week the demonstrations at 7 p.m. behind the fire house will feature Fireman Gilbert Wooten in a variety of exhibits.

He will show, for example, how one thin piece of newspaper can be used to extinguish a flash fire on a stove.

The station will be open for inspection and firemen have set up several booths to illustrate common household fire hazards and methods of combating house fires.

Other demonstrations slated by the firemen include a rescue operation, rope slides, use of the aerial ladder, the "stokes" basket and films.

Available from the department are "I" stickers, which can be posted on homes to indicate an "immobilized" person whom the firemen must rescue should there be a fire.

Lt. Gerald Fox of the Mount Prospect Fire Department, along with Gailee Urban of Randhurst, judge posters submitted by school children for Fire Prevention Week. Fire Chief Edwin Haberkamp looks on. The trophy at the right will be awarded to the school that wins the poster contest three years in a row.

4 Injured

Four persons were injured Sunday in a three-car accident on Illinois 83 south of Golf Rd. Mount Prospect policemen and firemen assisted Des Plaines officers at the scene.

Injured were Mr. and Mrs. Howard O. Berg, 301 S. We-Go Tr., Mount Prospect, and Miss Barbara Settle and Miss Pamala D. Mulin, both of Elmhurst.

Fall Theme For Homemaker Meet Wed.

Mrs. Warden Blair will review the book "And Then There Were Eight" at the Mount Prospect Junior Woman's Club reciprocity night at 8:15 p.m. Oct. 12. Mrs. Blair, a graduate of Northwestern University school of speech where she was lyricist for the Waa Mu Shows, has just completed a three act play for children for the Horwich Youth Center.

The meeting at the Mount Prospect Community Center will have a fall theme with Mrs. A. Arras social coordinator for the evening. Hostesses will be Mrs. Robert Foley, Mrs. Phillip Leone, Mrs. Robert Lerch, Mrs. Charles Livingston, Mrs. Donald Loew, Mrs. M. Lady, and Mrs. Robert Maginnis.

Festival at Forest View

"Fall Festival" week activities are underway at Forest View High School.

Wednesday candidates nominated by the senior class for Fall Festival Queen will be presented to the student body at a special assembly.

Candidates are: Laurie Barish, Gail Connelly, Adrienne Hanparian, Terri Hysell and Kathy Washburn. Nominated for their escorts are: Robert Arnold, Frank Cavello, Thomas Chilton, Richard Gillespie, and Barton Tarman. All are from Mount Prospect.

Friday will be color day when each student may show school spirit by wearing black and gold, the Forest View colors.

The coronation of the queen will be held at a special assembly Friday afternoon. Mrs. Pat Kopp and the cheerleaders will be in charge of the coronation activities.

Friday night s bonfire will be held in the stadium pit area. A mixer will be held after the bonfire and pep rally.

The football game on Saturday will match the Forest View Falcons against Palatine High School. Between the junior varsity and varsity games there will be a cross country meet.

Mary Lee Inzerello, Miss Illinois, will be introduced at half-time Saturday. Miss Inzerello graduated from Forest View in 1964.

The Fall Festival activities will conclude with a student dance Saturday, sponsored by the Letterman's Club.

Westbrook PTA Seeks Sale Items

The Westbrook School PTA is holding a White Elephant Sale Saturday afternoon as a fund-raising drive.

Seven household items have been selected for the sale. Mrs. Anthony John Gatto, in charge of the sale, asks that old ice skates, galoshes, raincoats and snowsuits, Halloween costumes, books and small games be donated.

The items may be brought to school this week and stored until the sale. Persons wanting to help in the arrangements Friday from 3:30 to 5 p.m., or at the sale Saturday from 1 to 5 p.m., may call Mrs. Gatto at CL 9-1684.

Scouts Set to Answer Questions

In order to answer the question "How Can I Join the Scouts or Cubs?" the North Star District of the Northwest Suburban Council of the Boy Scouts of America has set aside Wednesday as a "School Night for Scouting."

Officials of several packs, troops and explorer posts will be on hand at the schools where the Scouts meet. Youths are encouraged to visit the school nearest their homes, accompanied by at least one parent.

Following is a list of the schools where boys may interview scouting officials between 7:30 and 9 p.m.:

--Gregory School, 400 E. Gregory St., Mount Prospect.

--Lions Park School, 300 E. Council Tr., Mount Prospect.

--Lincoln Jr. High School, 700 W. Lincoln, Mount Prospect.

--High Ridge Knolls School, 588 S. Dara James St., Des Plaines.

--MacArthur Jr. High School, 720 N. Schoenbeck Rd., Prospect Heights.

--Walt Whitman School, 133 S. Wille, Wheeling.

--Eugene Field School, 51 St. Armand Ln., Wheeling.

Square Dancing Lessons

Classes and dances for the beginner as well as the experienced square dancer will be featured at the Square Dance Center, 1622 N. Rand Rd., Arlington Heights.

Monday nights will be devoted to instructions for beginners held under the guidance of veteran caller Arden Johnson, assistant recreation professor at Purdue University.

Advanced level dancing and instruction will be held at the center on Tuesday evenings. Round dancing, the ballroom style of square dancing, will be featured on Wednesdays and Thursdays.

On weekends, the center will have top square dance callers to lead the festivities and to let the dancers practice what they have learned in class.

Boys Keep Police Busy

Sunday three boys were detained by police for throwing firecrackers on Hatherleigh Court. Police said a duck was injured by the missiles.

Four juveniles were brought into the police station after police caught them throwing flares at Albert and Council Tr. Saturday two boys were reported to juvenile officers for throwing rocks at Chicago & North Western Railway trains.

Publicity Aide For Campaign

C. Ramon Greenwood, 24 N. Donald, Arlington Heights, has been named to the publicity and advertising committee for the 1966-67 Christmas Seal campaign sponsored by the Tuberculosis Institute of Chicago and Cook County.

Greenwood, public relations director for Morton International Inc., is assigned to the committee's metropolitan newspaper coverage.

Park Launches Fall Program

Six men's teams registered Thursday in the fall volley ball league of the River Trails Park District.

The teams will play in the gym of the River Trails Jr. High School, 1600 Wolf Rd., Mount Prospect, beginning at 8 p.m.

Monday a woman's gym night of exercises and volley ball begins at Feehanville School, 1400 E. Kensington Rd., Prospect Heights. Both adult programs cost $8 for 10 weeks.

In another adult program, Mrs. June Riemenschneider of Arlington Heights will be giving folk guitar lessons for 10 weeks beginning Monday.

Classes will be from 9 to 10 p.m. From 7:45 to 8:45 the same lessons will be available to youngsters. Both classes will be conducted in the cafeteria of Feehanville.

SATURDAY a general recreation program for third through sixth graders begins from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. at both Euclid School, Euclid and Wheeling Rds., and Indian Grove School, 200 S. Lee St., Prospect Heights.

Included will be arts and crafts, athletics, a trip to the children's theater at Old Orchard Country Club and group singing.

Children in the sixth through eight grades may participate in flag football - a version of touch football where a player is tackled when a handkerchief in his rear pocket is taken -- at the junior high school or at Feehanville.

The first game is scheduled Saturday at 9:30 a.m.

Registration is continuing for square dancing at Indian Grove School for pupils in the fifth through seventh grades.

Lessons in dancing are conducted from 4 to 5:30 p.m. every Tuesday.

The River Trails Park District maintains offices at 1400 E. Kensington Rd.

Palatine Issues Parking Ultimatum

Palatine Village President David W. Yeats has asked the Chicago & North Western Ry. to reverse its cancellation of leases on parking lots owned by the railroad or take over the community's entire commuter parking system.

The leases were revoked last month after the village which operated the lots increased commuter parking rates from 25 to 50 cents.

In revoking the leases, I. Robert Ballin, a C & NW vice president, described the increase as "exhorbitant."

"As a major property taxpayer in Palatine, we feel, after examining an audit of the village's parking revenues and expenses, that a 25-cent fee should be adequate to pay for paving improvements and make possible future acquisitions for parking facilities if it were not for what we believe to be extremely high "administrative" and "enforcement" costs charged to parking lot operations."

HE SAID the railroad decided to turn the parking lots over to a private firm to operate at the 25-cent rate only after Palatine failed to respond to compromises.

The decision split the commuter parking system since the village continues to operate lots it owns at the 50-cent rate.

In a letter to Ballin dated Oct. 7 Yeats said he had offered to drop the rate back to 25 cents if the railroad would abate all rental on the lots and pave them as required by Palatine ordinances.

He said it is impossible to operate a public and private systems side by side.

"Either you should reconsider our original offer, or since you are convinced that a 25-cent fee is sufficient for all operating costs and allowance for acquiring additional parking facilities as they are needed, you should take over the entire commuter parking system and make provisions as necessary for expansion of the system as growth requires it," Yeats said.

THE RAILROAD threatened to retaliate when Arlington Heights increased parking rates from 25 to 50 cents on lots owned by the village.

When contacted last week Ballin said the C & NW is still considering retaliatory action but has not as yet decided what action to take.

In Mount Prospect last week, the village and railroad officials reached a tentative lease agreement based on the 25-cent rate.

James Ackley, new principal of Indian Grove School, 200 S. Lee St., Prospect Heights, will welcome parents at an open house in the school from 8 to 9 p.m. Wednesday. Parents will be introduced to the curriculum of their children's classrooms while teachers explain plans for the school year.

William J. Brinkworth, 546 S. Dryden, Arlington Heights, has joined the Chicago Corp. as a vice president.

Brinkworth formerly associated with Douglas Securities, is a member of the Investment Analysts Society of Chicago.

Smorgasbord

The Rifle Squad of Arlington Post 981, Veterans of Foreign Wars, will hold a smorgasbord and dance Saturday at the V.F.W. Clubhouse, at Yale and Northwest Hwy.

Woman Reports Purse Theft

Mrs. Irene Weidner, 1034 S. Pine, Arlington Heights, told Rolling Meadows police Saturday that her purse was stolen from a laundromat at 3260 Market Plaza.

The purse contained identification and $25 in cash, she said.

Explorer Scout Joins Council

Vern Gongol, 305 S. Vail, Arlington Heights, has been elected to the 12-man Regional Explorer Delegate Steering Committee, according to the Northwest Suburban Council of the Boy Scouts of America.

Gongol, a senior at Arlington High School, will assist in the co-ordination of scouting activities in a four-state area.

Safety Award For Hospital

Forest Hospital, 555 Wilson Ln., Des Plaines, has received a safety award certificate for an outstanding accident prevention record during the 1965-66 insuring period. Presenting the award was the Argonaut Insurance Co., the hospital's insurance carrier.

Thieves Busy, Work on Case

The theft of a case and a half of assorted liquor was reported to Arlington Heights police Saturday.

George Sullivan told police his home at 415 S. Windsor had been entered through an attached garage and the liquor taken from the basement. Nothing else in the house was disturbed, he said.

Sidewalk Opinions; 2-Year Talkathon

Two years ago Oct. 20 Hilton L. Remley, 730 E. Euclid, wrote a letter to the village complaining that a contractor working on the rebuilding of N. Beverly Ln. had driven a bulldozer across his lawn and sidewalk.

The bulldozer cracked the sidewalk in four places and the cement driveway in one, he said.

Remley didn't receive a reply to the letter. Nor did he to letters written the next May 30, nor June 14.

On June 26, 1964, he received a reply from Village Manager L. A. Hanson which said, according to Remley, that the letters were not answered because they weren't sent to a specific department.

A TEAM from the village engineering department surveyed the sidewalk and found the damage to be only slight. Engineer George Anderson said it is impossible to tell if the damage was caused by a bulldozer or if it simply cracked because of age.

Best said he made several attempts to communicate with Remley but that each time a meeting time and place were arranged Remley didn't show.

Remley said that in August, 1964, a man from the engineering office informed him that his sidewalk needed repair.

"I told him that I was well aware of the condition but could not see paying for damage done by the contractor, to city property," Remley said.

He fired another letter off to the village and settled down to a quiet winter. This summer he renewed his efforts.

REMLEY claims that after three visits to village hall and three phone calls the only concrete action he received was a form to sign agreeing to pay one-half of the repairs on the cracked sidewalk and all repairs on the cracked driveway.

"Boy, do I have a gripe . . ." he wrote last week in a letter to The Day. Remley's gripe is apparently a classic case of poor communications.

The village engineering department maintains that it inspected the sidewalk at least three times and made numerous attempts to contact Remley.

Anderson said the village has no way of knowing that the bulldozer damaged the sidewalk.

VILLAGE Manager Hanson said the village must be wary of such claims. On some projects the village takes pictures of property that might get damaged by consturction or repair work.

"We had one guy in here demanding that we replace his driveway because it was cracked by workers on a sewer project," he said.

"We showed him the before pictures and one taken after the work was finished. The driveway was cracked before the work started. The pictures ended the argument."

Hilton L. Remley, 730 E. Euclid, points to cracks in his sidewalk that he says were made by a bulldozer two years ago.

Northwest Comm. Hospital Conducts Tours

Getting acquainted at the Northwest Community Hospital "Girl Friday" reception are (from left to right): Mrs. Mildred Siakin of Elk Grove Village, receptionist for Dr. Jerry Levin, Mrs. Shirley Hubert, R.N. of 814 W. Palatine Rd., Arlington Heights, nurse for Dr. Martin Meissenheimer of Prospect Heights; Mrs. Margaret McDonough, R.N. of Palatine head nurse in the hospital emergency room, and Mrs. Jean Nelson of Elk Grove Village, medical secretary for Dr. Hector Vazques of Hoffman Estates.

"Telephone voices" had an opportunity to meet face to face at Northwest Community Hospital last week.

Staff members sponsored a seminar, reception and tour for steff doctors' secretaries, office nurses and receptionists.

More than 50 persons attended panel discussion and participated in a question and answer period in the hospital cafeteria Wednesday.

The theme of the afternoon was "Better Communications - the Key to Co-operative Effort." Administrator Alan B. Campbell said the program, was planned "so that we can work together towards the common objective of improving service to our patients through better communication between the hospital and the doctor's office."

Participating on a panel on "Interpreting Hospital Policy and Procedure" were: Mrs. Dawn Berngen, chief admissions officer; Mrs. Jean Daich, R.N., operating room supervisor; Mrs. Cecelia Wyant, R.N., head nurse on the surgical floor; Mrs. Margaret McDonough, R.N., head nurse in the emergency room; Mrs. Agnes L. Pearson, accounting assistant; Mrs. Demi Mourafetis, chief medical record librarian, and Mrs. Harriet Abernethy, medical staff secretary.

A question and answer period was conducted by Leonard L. Genung, assistant administrator. Refreshments were served and tours of the hospital were conducted by staff members.

Campbell said that since so much interest was shown in the reception it may be an annual event at the hospital.

Nurses To Attend Program

The Northwest Nurses Roundtable will present a program for all registered nurses in the area at 8 p.m. Wednesday, Oct. 19, at Northwest Community Hospital, 800 W. Central Rd., Arlington Heights.

"Trends in Nursing Education" will be discussed by Mrs. Florence Finette, chairman of the department of nursing at De Paul University in Chicago.

Mrs. Finette is on the executive committee of the American Nurses Assn., the steering committee for the department of baccalaureate and higher degree programs of the Illinois League for Nursing and the advisory committee of the Illinois Department of Mental Health.

The Northwest Nurses Roundtable is comprised of members of 14 nurses groups in the northwest area. Groups include Arlington Heights: Des Plaines; Elk Grove; Glenview; Hanover Park; Hoffman Estates-Roselle; Mount Prospect; Northbrook; Palatine; Park Ridge; Rolling Meadows; Streamwood; Tri-City, and Wheeling - Buffalo Grove.

Educational Night Held in Rolling Meadows

Dr. James Harvey, dean of students of Harper Junior College, outlined the program of the new junior college in Palatine when he addressed the fourth annual post-high school Educational Night at the Sacred Heart of Mary High School, Rolling Meadows.

Sponsored by the high school's Parents Council, the Education Night aimes to acquaint high school sophomore, junior and senior students with the requirements and programs of institutions and organizations available to them after graduation.

Attending the Education Night were representatives from 50 colleges, universities and businesses.

Property Transfers

A total of 27 real estate transfers were recorded in Wheeling Township last week.

Prices are indicated by $1.10 in federal real estate stamps for each $1,000 in market value.

Cite Volunteers At Hospital

Junior volunteers contributed more than 8,300 hours of service to Lutheran General Hospital during the past year.

A special certificate for over 500 hours was presented to Joanne Rank, 706 Glenshire, Glenview, Keren Mitchell, 1932 Penfold Place, Northbrook and Peggy Scheuneman, 1040 Second Avenue, Des Plaines. They also received gold pins.

Ten junior volunteers received silver pins for 250 hours of service and bronze pins were awarded to 43 students for 100 hours.

Director of volunteer services, Miss M. Burrows said, "Young boy and girl volunteers bring to the hospital a warmth and enthusiasm that is needed. In offering their services they not only help their community and the patients in the hospital but they also help themselves by learning to assume community responsibilities and to care for the welfare of their fellow man."

Scouts to Hold Chili Supper

Boy Scouts in Troop 36 will hold a chili supper from 5 to 8 p.m. Saturday in the cafeteria of MacArthur Jr. High School, Palatine and Schoenbeck Rds. Admission is $1 for adults and 50 cents for children. There will be door prizes.

Auto Skids, Woman Dies In Accident

A 25-year-old woman was killed yesterday when she was thrown from her car and pinned under another auto on rain-slick streets.

Dead is Mrs. Elizabeth Kotyk. Police did not learn her last address immediately but were checking listings in Arlington Heights and Des Plaines.

Police said Mrs. Kotyk was south bound in Arlington Heights Rd. near Cedar when her auto spun on the wet pavement. The car careened in front of an auto driven by Harry F. Buerger, 38, of 241 Greenbrier.

The woman was thrown from her car and under the Buerger auto.

Doctors at Northwest Community Hospital said she died from a broken neck.

POLICE SAID Mrs. Kotyk had seat belts in her car, but she had not used them.

Sgt. Joseph Ostermann of the Traffic Division said, "If she had only been wearing seat belts she would probably be alive now with only internal injuries."

Buerger complained of back pains. He was treated at Northwest Community Hospital.

Richard Veres, 28, of 615 N. Gibbons, the driver of a third car involved in the accident, was not injured.

Mrs. Kotyk is survived by her former husband, Nikolas Kotyk, of 1675 S. Arlington Heights Rd.; an infant son; her father, John Deze of Cincinatti, and her grandfather, George Deze of DeWitt, Iowa.

Funeral arrangements are incomplete at Haire Funeral Home.

Laseke Rejects 25-Cent Raise In Garbage Pact

BY BILL PETERSON

Laseka Disposal Co. said, an added 25 cents a month for garbage pick up is not enough, during a spirited round of contract negotiations with village officials yesterday.

The negotiations brought forth several new developments, including a "lease back" arrangement under which the village would buy equipment and lease it to Laseke.

In a meeting with the village board's finance committee Laseka refused to accept a three - year contract that would set garbage rates at $2.75 a month, an increase of 25 cents over present rates for twice weekly backdoor pick up.

Laseka had asked for a 65-cent increase.

E. J. Urbanski, Laseka general manager, said the firm had hoped for a 50-cent offer. But he and two other Laseke officials refused to make an official counter offer to the village's proposal until they study it.

They said two provisions would make their decision easier.

--A five - year contract instead of a three - year.

--A clause in the contract that would enable it to renegotiate rates whenever labor costs increase.

Uncertain labor costs has made bargaining almost impossible in recent weeks, Harold Laseke, owner of the firm, said.

He said the proposed 65-cent increase is based on an anticipated increase in labor costs of 10 cents an hour, or about $5 a man each week.

Union negotiators, however, have refused the 10 - cent an hour increase and are now asking from 15 to 18 cents, or about $14 a man each week.

"Until we know what the Teamsters union is going to do we're stuck," he said.

TRUSTEE John Walsh said the village board would have to study the five - year contract and esculation clause proposals before making any commitments.

The village asked the disposal company to consider two new proposals.

--One would require Laseke to use a village operated garbage dump is and when one is established and refund any savings the company receives from using the dumping grounds to the village.

--The other, discussed behind closed doors, involves a "lease back" arrangement under which the village would buy equipment and lease it to Laseke. Trustee Thomas Hanlon, who did not attend the negotiations, said he received this information from Laseke, attorney Paul Knott.

Village Manager L. A. Hanson reviewed Laseka's budget and chopped off $9,000 which he said is unjustifiable. Of this, $5,800 was budgeted for advertising and promotion, $1,200 for contributions and $2,000 for professional services.

LASEKE officials protested Hanson's action but Trustee Walsh cautioned: "We've tried to be fair. If we go into your budget item by item I'm sure you'll come out much worse.

"We've been very liberal. We haven't touched your office and subscriptions and there's a lot of fat in them," he said.

Walsh said the disposal company and the village would both benefit from the dumping proposal.

Manager Hanson said he will investigate the feasibility of the proposals and attempt to get them on the village board's agenda as soon as possible.

WHO WILL pay for a garbage rate increase is still undecided, although current plans call for the increase to be added to homeowner's garbage bill.

Hanson said there has been some "informal discussion" about the village absorbing the increase in its contingency fund.

Trustee Says Village May Buy Equipment

The village of Arlington Heights may go into the garbage business, or at least the garbage equipment business, a village trustee said yesterday.

Trustee Thomas Hanlon said Paul Knott, attorney for Laseke Disposal Co., told him there has been discussion about a "lease back" arrangement under which the village would buy garbage collection equipment and lease it to Laseke.

Hanlon, who was dubbed the "garbage expert" when he ran for election on the village board because of his complaints over Laseke's service, was not at the meeting called to negotiate Laseke's contract for village garbage service.

He said his employment in Chicago prevented him from attending, although he said he had asked the committee several times to keep him informed on contract negotiations.

School Dist. 214 has used a "lease back" arrangement in a new contract for bus service. Taxing bodies do not pay licensing fees and are able to save money in equipment purchases.

Mayor Locks Resignation in Safe

Fire Marshal's Letter Too Hot

BY MEL MILES

A cloak of mystery surrounds the resignation of Rolling Meadows City fire marshall Jerry Howell.

Mayor William Miseska announced Howell's resignation at Tuesday night's city council meeting, but refused to read the letter Howell had submitted.

Miseska followed the announcement of the resignation with a suggestion that the council study the possibility of repealing the city's fire marshall ordinance.

Yesterday afternoon Miseska said that he'd rather drop the subject when asked about the contents of Howell's letter.

"LET'S JUST say that he went about things in the wrong manner by making statements to the press without the consent of the council," Miseska said.

The statements Miseska referred to were printed in a Rolling Meadows newspaper (not The Day) after Howell had delivered copies of his latest council reports to the newspaper.

Howell in his home at 2301 School Dr., Rolling Meadows, said the statements attributed to him in the newspaper were "twisted."

"This boils down to politics," Howell said as he sat in the kitchen of his modern home.

"I'm a professional fireman and I've been one for 10 years," he continued.

"I CAN'T see playing politics with something like fire protection," he said.

When asked to reveal the contents of his letter of resignation Howell refused, saying, "I think it is up to Mr. Miseska to reveal to the public and press the contents of the letter."

He did, however, point out that the letter had been addressed to the mayor and the citizens of Rolling Meadows.

Aldermen contacted for comment on Howell's resignation refused to say anything for publication but several of them said Howell had "stepped on too many toes" during his one-year tenure.

"Sure I stepped on toes," countered Howell. "I was hired to do a job and I did it with no special consideration for anyone," he said emphatically.

HOWELL is presently employed as a fireman for the village of Skokie, a post he has held for seven years. Prior to that, he was a member of the Chicago Fire Patrol for three years.

Howell talks about fire protection as if it were a religion with him. He is a walking encyclopedia of facts, figures, and ordinances.

"Did you know," he asked, "that when I was appointed the city didn't even have a fire inspection report form?"

Howell said that he definitely believes that Rolling Meadows should have a full-time, professional fire department and cites many surrounding cities and villages with smaller populations that have full-time departments.

"Look, I'm not knocking the present volunteer department," he stressed. "They're doing a good job . . . but is it good enough?"

"Let me illustrate the difference between someone with professional knowledge of fire protection and someone who is a complete amateur," Howell said.

"Immediately after I was appointed I inspected the newly-opened Meadows Theatre. Do you know what I found? I found only two fire extinguishers on the premises, one of them an empty dry chemical type and the other a rejected soda-acid extinguisher."

"That's not all," Howell said. "The exits did not comply to the ordinances and the stairways were not lighted.

"WHO WOULD have found these things . . .? Where was the fire protection district's inspector?" he asked incredulously.

Contacted after the meeting with Howell, Miseska was asked again to reveal the contents of the letter.

"I would rather that you do not put me in this position," he replied.

When the request was repeated, Miseska flatly refused. Asked whether he had the legal power to withhold the contents, Miseska quipped.

"I don't know about the legality of it, but I imagine the letter could get lost easily enough."

ASKED whether he thought the public was entitled to know the reasons for Howell's resignation in as much as it is footing the bill for Howell's $500 annual salary, Miseska replied:

"I've been advised by the city attorney that I do not have to reveal the contents of the letter, but I will check with him again tomorrow and if he says that I have to release it, then I will."

Miseska, scheduled to leave today for a 10-day hunting trip, concluded, "This letter could cause a lot of heat and hard feelings and I don't think any useful purpose would be served by making it public."

Pending a decision by city attorney Don Rose, Miseska said the letter would be held under lock-and-key by Gertrude E. Darnall, the Rolling Meadows city clerk.

"If Mr. Rose decides that I am legally forced to divulge the letter's contents, I promise you I will instruct Mrs. Darnall to act for me in my absence and release the letter to the press," Miseska said.

"I may add, however, that I will do so with great reluctance."

Zoning Approved For New Library

A change in the Village Zoning Ordinance was approved last night by the Plan Commission to make way for the construction of the Arlington Heights Memorial Library.

The change will allow construction of a library in any residential or business district. Previously, the ordinance allowed such a building in only one of the six residential districts.

The land on which the new library is to be built would not legally comply with zoning laws without the amendment.

Also at the meeting, the commission approved an amendment to allow taverns as permitted uses in B-2 and B-5 business districts.

The commission reported many taverns exist in certain downtown areas but no provisions are made for their operation under the ordinance.

The commission legalized existing uses of certain areas which have been annexed into the village. Most of the property is located along Algonquin Rd. east and west of Arlington Heights Rd.

The commission re - zoned land to conform to present use. Land annexed into the village automatically becomes R-1 residential until action is taken to re-zone it.

Bedroom Fire Loss Is $300

An estimated $300 damage was caused yesterday by a fire in a bedroom at 316 E. Euclid.

Firemen said the blaze was reported at 6:20 p.m. by Mrs. Jack Berry. Clothing and a rug in the bedroom were damaged and there was heavy smoke in the house.

School Vandals Cause $400 Bill

Two break - ins at Palatine Schools in Community Consolidated School Dist. 15 will cost taxpayers approximately $400.

Vandals entered the Marion Jordan School Sept. 29 and broke windows, ripped a telephone from the wall, destroyed a vending machine and damaged walls and doors. Approximately $5 in cash was taken.

Oct. 1 vandals broke into the Stuart R. Paddock School through a trap door on the roof. A telephone was ripped off the wall, a safe in the main office was burglarized and door frames were damaged. An estimated $60 was taken.

"The damage to the doors and the property far exceeds the amount of money taken," said Supt. E.S. Castor.

HE SAID the inside doors of the classrooms and offices are not to be locked and teachers and office workers are instructed not to leave money in the buildings.

"If persons want to break in for money they will find a way but the loss of doors and windows is a large one for us to stand," Castor said.

Parking Law Delays Bank Expansion

BY JIM ROSS

Expansion plans of the First Arlington National Bank are stalled while bank and village officials try to agree on parking requirements.

Talks between the Plan Commission and bank officers were continued last night until Oct. 26 so a parking lot agreement can be studied.

The proposed lot at 210 and 216 N. Arlington Heights Rd. would be used to provide parking as required by village ordinances governing the central business district. The bank, located at 14 E. Campbell, is planning to expand its quarters.

Two questions on the issue pertain to the distance of the lots from the bank and a recommendation by Village Attorney Jack Siegel that the agreement contain a 99 - year indenture of the property.

On the question of distance, Siegel said the property lies within the required 1,000 feet of the bank.

At last night's meeting, John Best of the Engineering Department said he had measured the distance in a straight line when he gave the figures to Siegel.

"I have been made aware, however, that the ordinance reads that the distance shall be measured as the walking distance," he said. "That would make it closer to 1,500 feet."

The question of distance is to be discussed further.

DOUGLAS W. Dodds, executive vice president of the bank, expressed opposition to the indenture proposal.

Siegel suggests that the village require that the land be used as a parking lot and nothing else for 99 years, or for as long as the main bank building is used for banking purposes.

"If we plaster the downtown area with a lot of 99 - year indentures," Dodds said, "We will ruin it."

Dodds said he visualizes the downtown area as a prime spot for office buildings in the future.

"What if the bank later finds land on which to build a parking lot closer to the main building?" he asked. "Then if the other land is under this 99 - year restriction, it will sit idle while it could be used for building purposes."

COMMISSION Chairman Harold Carlson said that perhaps a provision could be included in the agreement that if another location is found, the indenture could be dropped.

Dodds said he does not feel the indenture is necessary.

"I have told you, in word and letter, that we are going to put a parking lot on that land," he said. "Certainly you have enough to believe that this is what we intend."

"I don't believe anyone," Carlson said. "I sat on this commission a few years ago and heard you say that you would not build a second story on the bank building. Then you took us to the State Supreme Court and denied that you did. I will need more than a word or a letter in this matter."

Dodds and Siegel are to confer on the wording of the proposed agreement before the Oct. 26 meeting.

The bank wishes to have a settlement soon because the building commissioner will not issue permits to begin construction until the question is settled.

Council Warns Against Bogus Check Passer

Harold Bell, executive director of the Arlington Heights Chamber of Commerce, has issued a memo to chamber members warning against a bogus check passer.

Bell explained that the checks, drawn on the Bank of Rolling Meadows and in the name of Kathleen A. Kerns, are made out to cash and endorsed by a man about 35 years old who uses fictitious identification.

Merchants were urged to notify the Arlington Heights police if an attempt is made to pass a bogus check in their place of business.

Bethel 107 Seeks Paper In Fund Drive

The fall paper drive by Palatine Bethel No. 107 of the International Order of Job's Daughters will be held Oct. 14, 15, and 16.

Anyone wishing to take papers directly to truck will find it in the exit parking lot of the Palatine Park on Chicago Ave., just west of the Northwest Hiway.

The queen will be crowned during a special assembly Friday.

At Prospect High

Tomorrow's Big Day For Knight Students

The code of the Knight will be the theme of the Prospect High School "Knightimes" week of activities.

Five seniors have been nominated for queen of Knightimas. They are Charli Kreusch and Linda Olson of Arlington Heights and Barb Kasting, Lynda Greco, and Cindi Gosch of Mount Prospect. Nominated for their escorts are Tom Lundstedt and Bob Tobia of Arlington Heights and Ernie Rogers, Rodney Jena and John Phillips of Mount Prospect.

A special coronation assembly will be held tomorrow to crown the queen. The Mellowtones will perform and a narrator will begin an oration on the symbol of the Knight.

The sword carried by the Knights represents the sword of service and support of student government, class activities, clubs and athletics. Chosen to symbolize the sword of service will be Lynda Greco and Bob Tobia.

Prospect's sword of sportsmanship will be carried by Charli Kreusch and Tom Lundstedt and represents protection from unfairness, dishonor and prejudice.

Carrying the banner of knowledge will be Cindi Gosch and Rodney Jena to signify a Knight's ability to apply the good and the wise skills.

LEADING the seniors as the spirit of their class will be Barbara Kasting and John Phillips.

Linda Olson and Ernie Rogers have been chosen to extend a challenge to the student body to wear a powerful sword of service, to bear a sturdy shield of sportsmanship and to carry a banner of knowledge proudly.

After the coronation of the Knightimes Queen and the court will retire to a special float constructed by the Student Council committee headed by Doug Bober.

The queen and her court will take part in the parade Saturday and will tour the football field with the other floats during football game halftime. The queen and her court will reign at the Homecoming Dance sponsored by the Varsity Club on Saturday.

Cabbages and Things

–By Catherine O'Donnell

If you want to learn how to properly care for Christmas cactus dial 392-3060. If you don't happen to have a Christmas cactus handy but that begonia in the window is drooping just dial CL 3-6460.

Both number belong to the University of Illinois cooperative extension service located at 201 N. Dunton.

The first number was answered by a recording. The recording is changed at noon every day.

Yesterday the hint on care of cactus gave way to care of your lawn for this weekend.

The recordings include household hints or tips on how to diminish the bug population. It's all part of a fascinating service that not too many resident know exists right here in Arlington Heights.

Visitors to the office are welcome. The free service consists of expert advice on horticultural and entomological matters that crop up or buzz around to puzzle plain people who aren't even sure of what the words mean.

Richard DeLano is the assistant farm advisor for the bureau which has been in Arlington Heights for many years. He is trained to answer all questions pertaining to the growth of plants, grass and trees.

He can tell you or send a pamphlet to tell you how to water a geranium during the winter, how to control the moisture in a greenhouse, what to do about a shrivelling lawn and where to send a branch of your elm tree for disease diagnosis.

He also knows how to germinate flower seeds, how to select the proper tree for the Illinois climate and how to protect a tree against construction work. That means telling you how to build a house around a beautiful tree that sits in the center of the new lot on which you'd like to build.

He can look at a leaf and know what kind of a plant you've been carefully nuturing in your garden. (This fact alone should settle many arguments and doubts in non - green thumbers who can't tell the dahlias from the milk weed.)

MRS. JUNE Burns who is the secretary to DeLano as well as to etomologist Stanley Racheski, can remember only once when DeLano was puzzled. A woman requested information on a lobster plant. DeLano had never heard of that and she never did send in a leaf.

In the exploding population of the world of entomology over which Racheski presides, the local bugs are given their comeuppance.

Mrs. Burns said there is one in the lab now that was sent from Michigan. It is almost unidentifiable because it is rare in Illinois.

"It's from the aphid family," said Mrs. Burns.

Mrs. Burns graciously answered the numerous questions a curious columnist asked. DeLano and Racheski were out of the office checking in other parts of their territory which includes all of Cook County.

The Michigan bug is different because it has white fuzz on its tail.

Entomologist Racheski receives all sorts of bugs from people who want to know what they're swatting. Anyone sending in bugs should be careful to mark the envelope HAND STAMP. The bureau has received some pretty well flattened specimen after a trip through the post office's automatic stamping machine.

The most popular request that Racheski receives is for help in ridding a property of bees or hornets.

One woman wanted to know how to get rid of moles which were creating a swiss cheese affect on her front lawn. Mrs. Burns, who was on duty that day, suggested a cat. That also is a suggestion given to rid a house of field mice who try to enter homes at this time of the year to stay warm.

A third man in the office is associate farm advisor Merlin Heyen whose duties lie chiefly with farmers, soil and their growing problems. He is also the local advisor the 4 H Clubs, whose next achievement program incidentally is scheduled for Miner Junior High school on Nov. 17.

Mrs. Burns pointed out that in Des Plaines there is a home economic office that offers household hints that range from freezing foods to tailoring a suit. The number there is VA 4-2879.

As a matter of fact, there shouldn't be a plant, bug, garden or household problem in the county. It is a very remarkable service.

Publisher Joins Hospital Board

JOHN E. STANTON

John E. Stanton, president of the Day Publications and editor and publisher of The Prospect Day and Arlington Day, has accepted an appointment as member of the Northwest Community Hospital board of trustees.

A. C. Buehler, chairman of the hospital board, said he was most pleased to have such a distinguished journalist as a member of the hospital board of trustees.

The Northwest Community Hospital, located on Central Rd., serves the communities of Arlington Heights, Barrington, Mount Prospect, Prospect Heights, Rolling Meadows and adjacent areas. Opened with 109 beds in late 1960, it was recently expanded to 223 beds.

On Feb. 4 of this year the 10,000 child was delivered at Northwest Community Hospital.

Stanton was managing editor of the Chicago Daily News, which he joined in January, 1945, as copy editor. He advanced to night copy desk chief and then to night editor. He became feature editor in 1958, assistant managing editor in 1960 and managing editor a year later.

AS AN editor he played a major role in winning national honors for his paper, including both typographical and news awards. He was also a key figure in the handling of stories that brought two Pulitzer prizes to the Daily News.

Stanton began his newspaper career in his hometown of Pittsburgh as a reporter for the Pittsburgh Press. He also worked for the now defunct Pittsburgh San-Telegraph before going to the Morgantown Va., Dominion-News as city editor. He returned to the Pittsburgh Press as a copy editor before joining the Daily News.

He and his wife, Jo. have two grown children. They live at 2111 E. Gregory in Arlington Heights.

Soil Test Opens Way For School

A soil test report for the foundation of an addition to MacArthur Jr. High School was found satisfactory by the Dist. 23 board of education and bids for the excavation and foundation have been let.

The board accepted the report from architects Alexander, Borkon, Westphal & De Young and directed them to proceed with drafting final building plans.

The addition is planned to house 10 classrooms, two science rooms, home economics and shop rooms. It is being financed from a $600,000 bond issue passed by the voters last year.

The board agreed to take its own survey of the heating facilities of the MacArthur school to see if the present boiler will be sufficient for the addition or if each classroom should be electrically heated.

Dist. 23 includes Anne Sullivan, Betsy Ross and John Muir schools.

Schlickman Named to Credit Post

State Rep. Eugene F. Schlickman (R-Arlington Heights) was named this week to the Illinois Legislature's Republican Committee on consumer credit legislation. The appointment was made by Sen. W. Russell Arrington (R - Evanston). majority leader of the Illinois State Senate.

Schlickman said be believes the consumer credit committee is going to have one of the toughest jobs facing the legislature this session.

"It's going to be our assignment to investigate and review proposals for effective interest rate limits and other possible restrictions on consumer charges."

Schlickman said the GOP committee is determined to come up with legislation tuned to curb credit abuses currently being foisted on the public, while protecting the honest businessman.

Pupils to Transfer To Muir School

The boundaries for the John Muir School has been expanded by the Dist. 23 board of education effective Monday, Oct. 24.

Pupils living in the area of the school district bounded by Willow Rd. on the north, Wheeling Rd. on the east, Euclid Rd. on the south and Illinois 83 on the west will attend the new school.

The board approved the new boundary last Monday and directed Dist. Supt. Louis Pansino to inform parents by letter. Announcement in the press was withheld until Pansino's letter was mailed.

The board's action came after Pansino reported that the enrollment of the district totals 1,418. He said 1,128 of these children are occupying classroom space designed for 1,000 students.

Five new classrooms of the Muir School at Drake Terr. and Oak St., Pansino continued, have been completed and are ready for use. Children living within the new boundaries will use these facilities.

THE NEW school -- built in the form of four hexagonal pods -- includes a multipurpose room, a resource center, two kindergarten rooms and 10 classrooms.

Provision have been made for children who wish to eat a cold lunch at school.

Pansino, in his letter to Dist. 23 residents, explained that the same educational materials presently available are used at the Muir school.

The programs and team teaching plan in operation at Muir are similar to those at the district's two elementary schools, Anne Sullivan and Betsy Ross, located at Palatine and Schoenbeck Rds.

The district also operates the MacArthur Jr. High School.

Dennis Olsen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Olsen, 1520 E. Wing, Arlington Heights, is sworn in as a recruit in the U.S. Navy. Olsen, a graduate of Prospect High School, is given the oath of allegiance by Comdr. W. E. Copeland, 1517 E. Miner, Arlington Heights.

Obituaries

Eugene L. Mitchell

A funeral mass for Eugene L. Mitchell Sr., 63, of 431 E. Merle Ln., Wheeling, will be offered Saturday at 10 a.m. in St. Joseph the Worker Church in Wheeling.

Mr. Mitchell is survived by his wife Gertrude H.; two sons, Eugene L. Jr. and John A., both of Glenview; eight grandchildren, and a brother James of Denver.

Visitors may call at the Lauterburg & Oehler Funeral Home after 7 p.m. tonight.

Mr. Mitchell was a salesman for the Mosler Safe Co. in Chicago for more than 15 years.

Indiana's Spanking Judge Impresses PTA Audience

BY BRUCE CUTLER

William J. Obermiller, the Whiting (Ind.) "spanking judge," addressed more than 100 parents at the Randharst Council PTA's first meeting last night and made such an impression it was recommeded he speak to policemen.

Judge Obermiller, who relied on his experiences in court to illustrate the decline of the inner strength of America, was mentioned by Mount Prospect Police and Fire Commissioner Henry Szala as the kind of man who should be asked to address policemen.

Sgt. Joseph Bopp of the Mount Prospect police department agreed.

The judge explained to the packed audience in Busse School, Mount Prospect, how he earned the title of "spanking judge."

"Children today," he said, "aren't ashamed to go to court. They walk up the front steps. They don't sneak in through the back.

There were several youths for whom I ruled the punishment was to be spanked by policemen on the front steps of the court house.

"They said this would destroy the dignity of the court," he continued, "and I'll succumb to that. But as least they know that the court is not fooling around and that we're the boss."

HE SAID spanking was done only by the hand. "What really hurts is the pride of the youths spanked," he observed.

The judge gave several incidents from his court trials to emphasize the effect of parents who handle their children in a stern fashion.

"Parents," he said, "are flopping miserably on their faces in the raising of their children in an age of abundance."

He said children expect to see their parents "as King and Queen of the household -- not as weekend golfers -- who continue their education by reading good books."

After displaying the weapons of delinquent children, Judge Obermiller commented that there are "more jungles in America than in Africa."

HE TERMED teachers the "highest citizens, above doctors, lawyers and dentists."

Selfishness, callousness and dependance, he said, have sapped America's inner strength and has led the nation to a decline.

Among public officials at the meeting were School Dist. 57's board of education president, William A. Krampert, and Supt. Eric A. Sahlberg.

Publisher Joins Hospital Board

John E. Stanton, president of the Day Publications and editor and publisher of The Prospect Day and Arlington Day, has accepted an appointment as member of the Northwest Community Hospital board of trustees.

A. C. Buehler, chairman of the hospital board, said he was most pleased to have such a distinguished journalist as a member of the hospital board of trustees.

JOHN E. STANTON

The Northwest Community Hospital, located on Central Rd., serves the communities of Arlington Heights, Barrington, Mount Prospect, Prospect Heights, Rolling Meadows and adjacent areas. Opened with 109 beds in late 1960, it was recently expanded to 223 beds.

On Feb. 4 of this year the 10,000 child was delivered at Northwest Community Hospital.

Stanton was managing editor of the Chicago Daily News, which he joined in January, 1945, as copy editor. He advanced to night copy desk chief and then to night editor. He became feature editor in 1958, assistant managing editor in 1960 and managing editor a year later.

AS AN editor he played a major role in winning national honors for his paper, including both typographical and news awards. He was also a key figure in the handling of stories that brought two Pulitzer prizes to the Daily News.

Stanton began his newspaper career in his hometown of Pittsburgh as a reporter for the Pittsburgh Press. He also worked for the now defunct Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph before going to the Morgantown Va., Dominion-News as city editor. He returned to the Pittsburgh Press as a copy editor before joining the Daily News.

He and his wife, Jo. have two grown children. They live at 2111 E. Gregory in Arlington Heights.

Soil Test Opens Way For School

A soil test report for the foundation of an addition to MacArthur Jr. High School was found satisfactory by the Dist. 23 board of education and bids for the excavation and foundation have been let.

The board accepted the report from architects Alexander, Borkon, Westphal & De Young and directed them to proceed with drafting final building plans.

The addition is planned to house 10 classrooms, two science rooms, home economics and shop rooms. It is being financed from a $600,000 bond issue passed by the voters last year.

The board agreed to take its own survey of the heating facilities of the MacArthur school to see if the present boiler will be sufficient for the addition or if each classroom should be electrically heated.

Dist. 23 includes Anne Sullivan, Betsy Ross and John Muir schools.

Schlickman Named to Credit Post

State Rep. Eugene F. Schlickman (R-Arlington Heights) was named this week to the Illinois Legislature's Republican Committee on consumer credit legislation. The appointment was made by Sen. W. Russell Arrington (R - Evanston), majority leader of the Illinois State Senate.

Schlickman said he believes the consumer credit committee is going to have one of the toughest jobs facing the legislature this session.

"It's going to be our assignment to investigate and review proposals for effective interest rate limits and other possible restrictions on consumer charges."

Schlickman said the GOP committee is determined to come up with legislation tuned to curb credit abuses currently being foisted on the public, while protecting the honest businessman.

Pupils to Transfer To Muir School

The boundaries for the John Muir School has been expanded by the Dist. 23 board of education effective Monday, Oct. 24.

Pupils living in the area of the school district bounded by Willow Rd. on the north, Wheeling Rd. on the east, Euclid Rd. on the south and Illinois 83 on the west will attend the new school.

The board approved the new boundary last Monday and directed Dist. Supt. Louis Pansino to inform parents by letter. Announcement in the press was withheld until Pansino's letter was mailed.

The board's action came after Pansino reported that the enrollment of the district totals 1,418. He said 1,128 of these children are occupying classroom space designed for 1,000 students.

Five new classrooms of the Muir School at Drake Terr. and Oak St., Pansino continued, have been completed and are ready for use. Children living within the new boundaries will use these facilities.

THE NEW school -- built in the form of four hexagonal pods -- includes a multipurpose room, a resource center, two kindergarten rooms and 10 classrooms.

Provision have been made for children who wish to eat a cold lunch at school.

Pansino, in his letter to Dist. 23 residents, explained, that the same educational materials presently available are used at the Muir school.

The programs and team teaching plan in operation at Muir are similar to those at the district's two elementary schools, Anne Sullivan and Betsy Ross, located at Palatine and Schoenbeck Rds.

The district also operates the MacArthur Jr. High School.

Some Day

. . . by Frank E. Von Arx

Dear Kid:

Too bad you do not know how to spell your name because the editor is very sticky about printing letters from people who do not put their name at the bottom.

Your letter is good, considering it might be true, like you said, that you are a 16-year-old Prospect High School student who does not have long hair and wears decent shoes besides being a football player.

Even without a signature we can determine that you are probably a boy, but if the football Knights of Prospect do not win soon we may never know for sure. The fact that you wear good shoes and short hair means you are a noncomformist.

What caught our eye about your letter was the red ink and the fact that you think children should be taught how to behave at home. This is a unique idea that will not get you far in government work.

You say that if kids "cut up" in school it only reflects on their parents and their upbringing at home. You are pretty old-fashioned for 16 years. Where have you been since kindergarten when the nation went through the great social revolution?

Your second idea about spending more taxes on schools is another story. It shows a liberal tendency you should try to control. You think schools will become overcrowded if people do not spend $2 more a year in taxes. You say people who do not want to spend this sum of money do not belong to our suburbs.

Now listen to this, kid. That tired old man in the corner of the living room reading the newspaper is your father. Go ask him to see his tax bill. That $600 figure is for the schools. Twist his arm for $2 and see what you get.

People in the suburbs are not cheap when it comes to schools, a fact you may notice with a short ride into the country in any direction. It no longer is a question of $2 because that does not buy pencils. It is a question of how many more hundreds and how soon.

And by the way, kid, if you keep spelling discipline without the "s" you are going to end up being a reporter or an editor and then you will be in real trouble.

"On nice days like this, I always spend some of my lunch hour in the park with the poor office workers!"

Vantage Point

. . . by Jack Vandermyn

The Chicago Crime Commission has introduced what is perhaps the boldest set of legislative recommendations ever proposed to battle organized crime in Illinois.

Released to co-incide with the commission's observances of Chicago Law Enforcement Week, it reflects a carefully considered program to make some real progress against syndicate crime.

Daniel Walker, chairman of the legislative committee of the commission, said that the legislation is aimed directly toward organized crime and toward the professional criminal -- the person who flagrantly makes his living by disobeying the law.

There are seven specific points in the legislative package:

--A bill providing for permanent motor vehicle registration.

--An amendment to the law which would permit eavesdropping with the consent of one party to the conversation.

--A bill to require registration and licensing of pistols and revolvers.

--A bill to outlaw gambling-type pinball machines.

--A bill requiring advance notice of intended use of an alibi defense at a criminal trial.

--Amendments to the unlawful use of weapons statute to eliminate conflicts created in the last session of the general assembly.

--A bill permitting revocation of liquor licenses where gambling stamps have been issued.

THERE IS no question about the intent of the Crime Commission to render the professional criminal ineffective through the passage of this legislative program.

The question is whether the Illinois General Assembly will consider the legislation on the basis of its use in fighting organized crime -- or its affect on the ordinary citizen who might find himself in trouble with the law.

Many prominent lawyers and criminologists worked on the Crime Commission's legislative proposal. They included such experts in the field as Dean John Ritchie, Northwestern University School of Law, Dean Phil C. Neal, University of Chicago School of Law and State Rep. Adlai E. Stevenson III.

JUST WHERE this legislative program will lead is hard to determine at this point.

There is little question that the Republicans will capture control of the Illinois Senate -- but control of the House is still very much a question.

It is apparent that neither political party will control two-thirds of the house as was the case with the Democrats last year.

But the Republicans could control the house by two or three votes -- and lose the speaker of the house seat to the Democrats -- as has happened before in the crazy world of Illinois politics.

THE REASON it happened before -- and the reason it could happen again -- is the so-called "West Side Bloc." This was a group of legislators who alledgedly let their votes go to the highest political bidder and respected no party lines.

There will be blocksters back in Springfield in 1967, as things now appear to be shaping up. This means that a constructive anti-crime program could get sidetracked.

We hope this is not the case. Before endorsing the proposals of the crime commission, however, we want to take a closer look at them and make certain that they do in fact render the professional criminal ineffective.

Legislation to further hinder individual rights is not the answer to the syndicate crime problem in Illinois.

Prospect Christian Church

Friendly and Personally Interested

BY BETTY AINSLIE

An architect's drawing of the way Prospect Christian Church will look when future expansion plans are realized.

Four "R's" define the purpose of Prospect Christian Church at 302 E. Euclid Ave. in Prospect Heights: to Reach those who have never heard the Gospel of the New Testament Scriptures; to Restore those who have lost contact with Christ; to Refine Christian already active in work of Christ's church and to Recreate the New Testament church in the life of the congregation.

Donald B. Marshall, the young, vitally concerned pastor of this steadily growing church came here from the Christian Church at Ladoza, Ind. last June.

"Prospect Christian church is conservative in theological thinking and is moving ahead swiftly since its beginnings with only 20 members. We now number well over 200 and our Church School is 150. We have a wonderfully friendly working congregation and they have succeeded in making their minister feel at home," the pastor said.

"Jack Ross, a student at Lincoln Christian College in Lincoln, Ill., spent weekends here while the church was getting started. Carl Moorhous was the first full time minister and spent four years here, followed by Richard Jorgensen who left recently to become Alumni Director at Lincoln Christian College," he said consulting a paper in front of him on which he'd written some notes.

THE sanctuary can be viewed through a large window in the Pastor's study. The backdrop on each side of the Baptistery is a fiberboard painted black with random stripes of light wood forming an interesting and restful pattern. A silver cross hangs over the Baptistery and white globe lights suspended on long chains hang from a wooden beam ceiling.

"This is our first unit building," said the pastor. "This part will eventually become our youth building. The architect who designed this is a member of our congregation, Charles Cedarhole from Mount Prospect. You may see a picture of our future expansion plans in the church lobby."

"Something which is a little different about our church is that we support missionaries directly and not through a Mission Board. We attempt to be evangelistic in that we go out seeking people."

DON MARSHALL

"Each Christian Church is self governing. The congregation elects elders and deacons to administer to the spiritual and physical aspects of this church," Pastor Marshall explained.

A MAN whose name is easily remembered by the rest of the elders because of a coincidental resemblance is Darell E. Elder, a school principal in Arlington Heights. Jim Jacobs is chairman of the Church Board and also chairman of the Deacons. Jacobs heads the foreign language department at Wheeling High School.

"You know, we've people from 22 different suburbs in our congregation so we cover rather a wide area," Pastor Marshall said.

A youth group of junior and high school age meets for fellowship, games and a bible lesson twice a month. Two couples act as sponsors, Mr. and Mrs. Dean Berry of Arlington Heights and Mr. and Mrs. Ben Wolfe of Chicago.

"Transportation is our big problem for our young people. They come from families scattered over many suburbs and it is sometimes hard for the young to get to the meetings."

The adult choir is directed by Mrs. Esther Huston of Des Plaines. A youth Choir is led by Miss Sarah Ward.

"We are in the process of organizing a men's club which will start later this year," the pastor said.

PASTOR Donald Marshall was born in Wichita, Kan., and graduated from Manhattan Bible College in Manhattan, Kan., where he met his wife Shirley. They have three children David, 10, Stephen, 8 and Brenda 4. He took additional work at Kansas State University, the University of Arkansas and Lincoln Christian College.

What is Christian Church? According to their bulletin for prospective members Prospect Christian Church is friendly, personally interested in all, biblically centered, steadily expanding, undenominational and autonomous, a church aware of the need for Christian Education. A church rapidly and busily doing the Lord's work in this community.

The Sunday School known as Bible School is superintended by O. M. Mutchmore from Palatine who is a high school coach.

"We are fortunately blessed in having a number of teachers in our congregation -- fifteen I believe -- and they do a marvelous job here," said Pastor Marshall.

Prospect Christian Church has communion every Sunday and believes Baptism is part of the plan of salvation which the bible teaches.

The adult Bible School department has two classes which meet not according to age but interest. One studies life's problems and applies bible principles to help meet them. The other takes a scriptural passage and discusses it.

THE WOMEN'S ORGANIATION is called Christian Workers and Mrs. Carolyne Ross is the president and Mrs. Richard Dudia of Des Plaines is assistant. This is a mission study group with a varied program for their second Wednesday of each month meeting.

Untie Apron Strings

It's hard enough for a young person to change the world, but when his parents are dead set against it, it's almost impossible.

According to Jack Hood Vaughn, director of the U. S. Peace Corps, "parental distress" has accounted for fully a third of the drop-out rate in the corps.

"There's too much momism," he complains, adding that popism is no small factor, either.

Parents typically have one of two fears -- that daughter won't be safe in a strange land or that son will miss a chance for a good career if he invests two years in the corps.

Young women volunteers, answers Vaughn, report they feel safer overseas than they do on the streets of many American cities. They seem to find relief from the social pressure of having to view every escort as a potential husband. And they "discover what they really are and not what they ought to be like."

As for males, they are being increasingly sought by business, are receiving more financial help for advanced study and often revise their career plans while abroad.

Of the 11,000 volunteers who have returned from service in the five-year history of the corps, 40 per cent have gone back to school for graduate work.

The parents of America "have nothing to lose but their apron strings," says Vaughn, if they would just let their children make up their own minds about the Peace Corps.

Letters to the Editor

He's On Ogilvie Team

Editor:

By way of your good paper I should like to express my appreciation for having been made an official part of the organization to promote the election of Richard B. Ogilvie to the presidency of the Cook County Board of Commissioners. As vice-chairman for the six Northwest townships of the county, it will be my pleasure to work closely with Sheriff Ogilvie and his general chairman for the area John H. Bickley Jr.

A salesman, it is said, is no better than his product. This, if true, should put all of us who are dedicated to putting this fair, free, fearless and capable man at the head of our county government in the "best" salesman category. We who have been appointed to do the hard work and spend long hours in this campaign believe that all the voters of Cook County agree that the Republican Party has selected the best possible man for this important post.

As a personal note, I can say that Richard B. Ogilvie has, since the June primary, been the one Republican to do the most to heal the breaches and close the Republican ranks for a unified effort in November.

No job promises, no promises of political support in years to come have been made by Ogilvie. He only points to the need for unity and guarantees to do his best at the head of our county government. For those of us who are sincere adherents to Republican philosophies and principles, this is enough.

I look forward to working with John Bickley Jr., the six township chairmen and the host of others who make up the Ogilvie volunteers for Northwest Cook County.

Adieu, Inferiority Complex

A New Dress Boosts Tourist's Morale, Finally

It's five o'clock in Paris, and you're sipping espresso in a sidewalk cafe on the Champs Elysees.

Before you, there's a procession of people who look like extras in a 1940's musical - back in the days when movies featured only beautiful people.

There are young women in soft pink suits of wool with turtle-neck silk blouses.

There are gray-haired businessmen stepping along confidently, carrying umbrellas and briefcases.

There are matrons, their smoothly coiffed hair shining in the fading sunlight, poodles trotting along beside them.

There are young men and teen-aged boys, carrying flowers for their girls.

But then, there's you, too.

You're sure you're the only thing in sight that isn't attractive. You feel like the literal version of the ugly American.

PARIS, as I discovered on a vacation last week, is a fine place to develop an inferiority complex.

The complex gets a good start at Orly Field, where you get off your plane clutching six pieces of hand luggage, a purse, an Italian straw hat and three Swiss chocolate bars.

Your clothing is rumpled beyond recognition, and the wind has destroyed your hair-do. The chocolate bars have partially melted, and little almond clusters are stuck to your gloves.

Think you can recover your poise when you get to your hotel, huh?

You take the smashed clothing out of your suitcase and whip out the handy travel iron. It doesn't work on the Continental electric current, even with that converter your husband remembered to bring.

Inquire about the cost of having your clothes pressed, then.

Having abandoned that extravagant notion, you go sightseeing and try to forget your appearance.

IT WOULDN'T be so hard, forgetting, if everybody else in Paris didn't look so ... well, you know. Probably there are other messy tourists, but you never see any.

If you haven't been away from home too long, you still have the comfort of nice shoes you bought for the trip. But a couple of hikes from your hotel to the Eiffel Tower to the Louvre to Notre Dame and back again will fix the shoes.

In the process of those hikes -- which you take because your husband thinks 50-mile walks keep him fit -- you're likely to discover the fashion houses of Paris.

Christian Dior, for instance. You can get a lovely scarf there for only $30.

But you'll never get inside the door, because your crafty spouse will think of other things to do, excursions designed to take a woman's mind off shopping.

EACH day in Paris, you feel a little more unkempt. Finally, you demand a visit to a designer's lair to buy a dress that will make you beautiful.

Your husband trots along, supposedly to help you make a selection -- but actually to make sure you don't buy anything too expensive.

After three or four unsuccessful stops (there are few price tags in the windows of Paris designer shops), you find a place that offers styles within your price range.

With heady pleasure, you find a little frock in the window and ask to try it on.

But your inferiority complex gets a boost again as you discover that in Paris you wear a dress two sizes bigger than at home.

AT LAST ... There's one that's just perfect, and it doesn't cost too much, either.

You bolt from the fitting room and model for your husband, who pronounces it "lovely" -- after checking the price, of course.

You spend an inordinate amount of time posing in front of the mirror (after all, you're chasing an inferiority complex!) and a small plump man joins your husband in admiring the dress.

The small plump man is the designer, it seems, and he's pleased to make a sale.

So he smiles and says:

"American women are tres chic."

Adieu, inferiority complex.

Feeling plain, anyone? Visit Paris. It's a fine place to turn into a swan.

Day AT HOME

PUMPKIN PIE

Why Wait? Enjoy Pumpkin Pie Now

Don't wait until Thanksgiving to serve pumpkin pie. Serve it now. Brisk fall days and pumpkin pie go together.

This recipe makes a creamy custard pie delicately seasoned with cinnamon, ginger, allspice and cloves.

Everyone will enjoy it more if they're not stuffed with a Thanksgiving dinner.

PUMPKIN PIE

9-inch unbaked pastry shell
2 cups canned pumpkin
2 eggs, well beaten
1 cup granulated sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon ginger
1/4 teaspoon allspice
1/8 teaspoon cloves
1-1/2 cups milk

Make fluted edge of pastry about 1/2-inch high on rim of pie to prevent filling from spilling over. Stir pumpkin into beaten eggs. Blend salt and spices with sugar. Mix into pumpkin. Gradually stir into milk until well mixed. Pour into pastry shell. Bake in hot oven (450 degrees) for 10 minutes; reduce heat to moderate oven (350 degrees) and continue to bake for 30-35 minutes. To test pie, insert a knife into the center of the pie, when it comes out clean, pie is done. Makes one 9-inch pie.

Host Wife of V.P. At Luncheon Tues.

MRS. HUMPHREY

Mrs. Hubert H. Humphrey, wife of the Vice President, and Mrs. Paul H. Douglas, wife of the U. S. senator from Illinois, will be guests of honor at a luncheon Tuesday, Oct. 18 at Arlington Park.

Mrs. Humphrey will campaign in the suburbs for Sen. Douglas, a long-time friend and fellow Democrat of her husband's.

The luncheon will begin at noon at the Post and Paddock. Hostesses from the northwest area are Mrs. John T. Jarecki of Arlington Heights, Mrs. Richard Dowdle of Elk Grove Village, and Mrs. Clifford J. Hermanson and Mrs. Kevin Gillogly of Mount Prospect.

The event was planned by Mrs. William G. Clark and Mrs. Walter J. Cummings Jr., women's division co-chairmen of Citizens for Douglas.

Sen. Douglas is opposed by Republican Charles H. Percy, a Kenilworth industrialist.

Mrs. Douglas is a former Congresswoman.

Rummage Sale, Convention Are Meeting Topics

A rummage and white elephant sale will be highlights tonight of the first fall meeting of the Double Dydee Mothers of Twins Club.

The meeting will be held at the Lauterburg and Oehler Funeral Home, 2000 E. Northwest Hwy., Arlington Heights.

Today also marks the beginning of a three-day convention of the Illinois Organization of Mothers of Twins Clubs. Inc. in Springfield.

FOURTEEN LOCAL club members will attend. They are Mrs. Robert Berg, Mrs. Harold Chamberlain, Mrs. Robert Collignon, Mrs. John Emmel, Mrs. Joseph Gruspier, Mrs. Robert Krysiak, Mrs. Robert Lindsay, Mrs. Ted Olson, Mrs. Donald Nellessen, Mrs. John Pugsley, Mrs. William Remer, Mrs. Severin Roiland, Mrs. George Quade and Mrs. Howard Werling.

Convention delegates are Mrs. Remer, Mrs. Krysiak, Mrs. Lindsay and Mrs. Roiland. Alternates are Mrs. Chamberlain, Mrs. Gruspier, Mrs. Nellessen and Mrs. Pugsley. Mrs. Collignon is a candidate for recording secretary.

Information may be obtained by calling Mrs. Harold Chamberlain, FL 8-1757. Persons wishing to form a new club may contact Mrs. Edward Dojutrek, 8241 W. Berwyn, Chicago.

Local club meetings are held the second Thursday of each month, October through June, at Lauterburg and Oehler.

Initiate 400 Blue Birds

Nearly 400 Arlington Heights and Buffalo Grove youngsters joined the Camp Fire Girls organization as Blue Birds in recent ceremonies at Pioneer Park.

About 100 Blue Birds were graduated into Camp Fire, a division for older girls, at the same time.

The ceremonies, held Oct. 4 and 5, were directed by Mrs. Warren Prince of Arlington Heights.

Speakers were four Horizon Club maidens -- Gail Conway, Sue Kendall, Susan Kost and Barbara Roth. They discussed highlights of their Blue Bird days and the Camp Fire program.

DOCTOR SAYS

Windpipe Stoppage

W. G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

An object doesn't have to be edible to wind up in a child's mouth. Once in his mouth, he may swallow it or aspirate it into his windpipe. Smooth objects, such as coins, peach pits and buttons may cause discomfort as they travel down the esophagus but once they enter the stomach they have clear sailing and there is no need to worry about them.

If, on the other hand, a needle, straight pin, tack or open safety pin is swallowed, you should call a doctor at once.

The real hazard, however, is the inhalation of a foreign body. More than half of the victims of such an accident are under four. A child may be eating peanuts when an older brother tickles him. As he starts to laugh a nut lodges in his windpipe. Another child grabs a bead from his sister, pops it into his mouth and starts to run. As his sister gains on him he gets winded, takes a deep breath and the bead goes down the wrong way.

On Halloween a boy put some dry beans in his mouth to blow through a bean shooter. He inhaled one and it passed his windpipe and lodged in a bronchial tube. In a few days it absorbed moisture, swelled to twice its normal size and cut off the passage of air to a part of his lung. When it was finally removed it had sprouted and started to grow.

Before the bronchoscope 90 per cent of all persons who aspirated a foreign body died. Now the death rate is less than 1 per cent. The bronchoscope can locate many non-metallic foreign bodies (cherry stones, plastic bullets, food particles) that cannot be seen in an X-ray.

Please send your questions and comments to Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of this paper. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

Allen Says Maine W. To Be Toughest Foe

"Maine West will be by far the toughest team we've faced this year," said Coach Al Allen of Arlington High School's varsity football team yesterday.

Allen's unbeaten Cardinals, who survived a squeaker with Wheeling 7-0 last weekend, will face their second - straight unbeaten league foe at home tomorrow at 8 p.m.

MAINE WEST is 3 - 1 overall, having lost an early season non - league decision to Maine South. Warrior victims include Peoria Central, Forest View, and Prospect.

If Arlington is to win its fifth straight game, Coach Allen says they'll have to show vast improvement over last week's showing against Wheeling. "That was one of the very poorest games an Arlington team has played since I came here to coach," said Allen. "We didn't block, we didn't tackle, and we didn't move well at all. And that's what the game is all about," he added.

"NOW DON'T misunderstand," said Allen. "We're not taking anything away from Wheeling. They have a really good football team. But we should have scored five times instead of once. We played only good enough to win. Actually, you might say we played only good enough to avoid losing."

Allen pointed to one rushing touchdown nullified by a penalty, two deep penetrations halted by fumbles or penalties, a scoring pass called back due to a penalty, and pass play where the receiver would have scored if he had followed a phalanx of blockers instead of swerving away from them.

"THESE WERE mistakes that kept us from breaking the game open," explained Allen, who added, "We weren't in danger through most of the game, and we didn't feel any real pressure until they began their late - game march. Even then we knew they would have to score a touchdown and a conversion to tie us, and score again to beat us. It's to the boys' credit they held the way they did, but again, we only played tough when we had to," mourned the coach.

Things may be more mournful for the Cardinals after tomorrow's engagement with the Warriors. Despite their 3 - 1 record, the Westerners are made of the stuff of champions.

"THEY'RE A powerful team, and they're aggressive," said Allen. "They don't pass much, but their passing is dangerous because they hit you with it when you don't expect it. They don't do a lot of different things with their offense, but what they do, they do very well."

Maine West operates out of the winged - T formation, but has been known to employ some single wing plays, too. The Warrior coach, Ken Olson, is one of the state's most respected "sly old fox" coaches, and is expected to pull out of all stops to knock off the high - flying Cardinals.

A junior - varsity tilt is slated for 6 p.m. before the varsity clash, which is scheduled for approximately 8:15 p.m.

Lions Stress Faster Start For Marian Catholic Test

Joe Gliwa has a problem this week that only a track coach would really understand.

Gliwa is the head man of a St. Viator varsity football team that will be seeking its second Chicagoland Prep League conquest Saturday against Marian Catholic at Arlington High School.

And like a track coach, Gliwa is working on his charges' starts.

"I KNOW MARIAN is a big team with a lot of boys over 200 pounds in the line and a backfield that averages around 180," Gliwa said. "I also know that they move pretty well for their size, and that they are primarily a running ballclub. But most important I know that they have the kind of team that can kill you if they get a lead."

Therein lies the rub. Gliwa's Lions have been a notoriously bad first-half team. For instance St. Viator walked all over St. George in its league opener last week 26-0. But the score read 7-0 at the end of the half.

THE LIONS dumped Marist 14-0 the week before that, and all 14 points came in the third period. They never did get going against Argo, falling 16-0, and they got all of their points after intermission in a 9-6 season opening win over Glenbrook South.

In other words, St. Viator has totalled 49 points this season, and only seven of them have been scored before the third period.

"WE HAVE BEEN working very hard on holding onto the ball this week," Gliwa said. "That means two things. We plan to play a little more ball control. And we have to cut down on the fumbles. It has been fumbles and big penalties early in the game that have been killing us."

Gliwa regards Saturday's match as the first big loop test for the Lions. "St. George surprised us in some ways," he said, "But we figured their lack of depth would hurt them later in the game.

"WE STILL haven't hit our peak," Gliwa went on, "But we are getting better with every ballgame. Our young backs have been picking up confidence with experience, and they are going to make us go."

Gliwa said he would start John Wendell and John Cook at halfbacks, while Phil Tuminaro handles the fullbacking chores and Bob Stevens goes at quarterback. But he said he expects to substitue freely in the backfield as he has all year.

Halfback Larry Snyder is the only regular who will be out of action Saturday. The varsity game is slated for 8 p.m. at Arlington High School.

John COOK

ST. VIATOR HALFBACK HAS BEEN NAMED THE DAY PUBLICATIONS' ATHLETE OF THE WEEK FOR HIS STARRING ROLE IN THE LIONS' 26-0 WIN OVER ST. GEORGE. JOHN LED THE RUSHING ATTACK WITH 90 YDS. IN TEN TRIES AND SCORED TWO TOUCHDOWNS. THE 168-POUND SENIOR SET UP VIATOR'S FIRST TOUCHDOWN WHEN HE BROKE LOOSE FOR 36 YARDS, CARRYING DEEP INTO ST. GEORGE TERRITORY. INCLUDED IN HIS TEN CARRIES WERE GAINS OF 11, 20, AND 36 YARDS.

St. Viator Gridder Cook Is DAY's Athlete of the Week

St. Viator High School halfback John Cook has been named the DAY Publications' Athlete of the Week for his starring role in the Lions' 26-0 romp over St. George.

The plucky speedster led Viator's rushing attack by carrying the pigskin 90 yards in ten tries and scoring two touchdowns. Cook's scoring raids came on runs of two and five yards.

THE 168 - POUND senior also set up St. Viator's first touchdown late in the second quarter when he broke loose for a 36-yard gallop that carried the Lions into St. George territory. Kevin Coulter climaxed that drive on a 40-yard sprint.

Cook collected three of St. Viator's 13 first downs last week. Included in his ten carries were gains of 11, 20, and 36 yards.

ALL AREA athletes are eligible for Athlete of the Week recognition, and the Day invites its readers to submit nominations. They may be made anonymously, but must be submitted before 5 p.m. Mondays at our Arlington Heights office.

They may be made in writing, in person, or by telephone and the number of nominations for a single candidate will not affect the selection.

Our Arlington Heights office is at 217 S. Arlington Heights Rd., and the telephone number is 255-7200.

5 Area Harrier Teams In Maine W. Dist. Meet

Five of six area schools will be tossed into the same pot when Illinois High School Association District cross-country action opens Oct. 29.

Arlington, Forest View, St. Viator, Elk Grove, and Prospect are all members of a 25-team field slated to compete at Maine West High School.

WHEELING High School's harriers will compete in the 24-team meet at Mundelein High School.

Maine West, with a home-course advantage, is the ruling favorite in its meet. Arlington and Evanston are given the best chances of pulling an upset.

EACH SCHOOL will enter 10 boys in the meet, with only seven allowed to run. The first five finishers for each school will figure in the team scoring.

The winning and second-place teams, plus the top five finishers in the meet, qualify for the state finals, which are scheduled at Urbana Nov. 5.

York High School of Elmhurst is the defending state champion.

TEAMS ENTERED at Maine West include Arlington, Forest View, St. Viator, Elk Grove, Prospect, Fenton, Maine West, Elgin, Elgin Larkin, Evanston, St. George, Glenbrook North, Glenbrook South, Conant, Lake Park, Notre Dame, New Trier West, Fremd, Palatine, Maine East, Maine South, Niles East, Niles North, Niles West, and New Trier East.

In addition to Wheeling, the Mundelein district field includes Antioch, Barrington, Crown, Dundee, Crystal Lake, Deerfield, Grant, Grayslake, Highland Park, Warren, Lake Forest, Lake Zurich, Libertyville, McHenry, Mundelein, Carmel, North Chicago, Stevenson, Round Lake, Wauconda, Waukegan, Woodstock, and Zion-Benton.

A TOTAL of 290 schools have entered teams in the 12 district meets, in addition to the Chicago Public League schools.

Falcon Harriers Blank Glenbrook

Forest View posted a perfect 15-47 varsity cross country triumph yesterday over defending Central Suburban League champion Glenbrook North on the Spartans' home course.

Senior Ted Lambert sparked the Falcons to their second dual-meet victory in two days, covering the two-mile-plus route in 10:37. Yesterday's performance also marked Lambert's second individual win in a row.

LAMBERT was followed by four other Falcon teammates before the first Glenbrook North runner entered the chute. Dick Appleton nosed out Cliff Kuhnlohe in a battle for second place, as both finished with identical times of 11:03. Oscar Pequeno was only one second behind the Forest View pair, finishing fourth in 11:04.

Joe Branka rounded out the top five in 11:06. Bucky Jones and Ernie Troutman captured seventh and eighth places in 11:21 and 11:22 respectively.

FOREST VIEW'S sophomore harriers found the Spartans to be less hospitable hosts though, as they bowed 21-39 for their twelfth dual-meet setback against a single triumph.

Freshman Bob Bell captured individual honors for the underclassmen with an 11:48 clocking, but the Brookers ran away with the next four places. Falcons finished first, sixth, ninth, eleventh, and thirteenth in the meet.

COACH JOHN Heenan's varsity charges will risk their 10-3 dual - meet record Saturday when they meet Palatine at 1 p.m. on the Falcon course.

Ooops!

The DAY'S sports department has had better weeks.

Tuesday's edition of this newspaper erroneously reported that Wheeling High School will play at Niles North Saturday.

The game is slated at Wheeling's stadium, with the junior varsity tilt varsity game following at approximately 2:15 p.m.

Yesterday's "Prospecting" column was also in error when it reported that Arlington and Maine West will hold their varsity country meet today at Maine West at 4:15 p.m.

The meet will be held at Pioneer Park in Arlington Heights tomorrow at 4:30 p.m.

Keeping Score

WITH BOB CASTERLINE

NOBODY ASKED ME, BUT . . .

The Wisconsin game is the only one that matters as far as the Northwestern University football coaching staff is concerned. They'd rather win that one than any other single game all season.

Their personal feud with the Badgers dates back to Ara Parseghian's reign at NU, and is now all out of proportion to the real or imagined insult or snub that started the fuss in the first place.

Last year Northwestern was favored to win at Dyche Stadium, but lost by two touchdowns to an inferior team. There was talk after the game that the Wildcat coaches "choked" in their preparation for the game and their conduct during the action itself.

Saturday's clash at Madison will provide a showcase for a year's frustration among the coaches. It could be the wildest Big 10 game of the year. And they say there's no spirit in college football. Phooey.

NOBODY ASKED ME, BUT . . .

A few weeks ago we chided the Arlington High School marching band for not staying around for both halves of the Cardinal grid contests. At their next home game, against Conant, the Marching Cards stayed, played, and did a great job.

The question now, is, did they stay only because it was homecoming or have they really caught the Cardinal spirit? Tomorrow's home game against Maine West will tell us.

Speaking of bands . . . there is no question in our minds that Wheeling has the sharpest high school marching unit we've ever seen.

Their precision marching, their skillful playing, and their crisp, uniform good looks put them a cut above any other prep unit and even many college bands.

Their talented showing gives the other bands in the Dist. 214 area a worthwhile goal to shoot for.

NOBODY ASKED ME, BUT . . .

The Day sports staff has been subjected to some criticism for what some Arlington students have described as ignorance of the school's spirit.

Comments and letters from these people have said that school spirit was great after Saturday's win over Wheeling. They're quite right. It was outstanding. Now, how about a little enthusiasm for those high-flying Cardinals BEFORE the games? Anyone can cheer a winner.

NOBODY ASKED ME, BUT . . .

Sometimes a whole football team will reveal a single personality. For instance, Wheeling's squad reflects the same virtues and vices you might find in a rough-hewn but good-natured dock worker.

They work hard, they play hard, and they'd probably be fun to know.

Arlington, though, is a more impersonal team. They remind you of so many commuters being disgorged from the 5:45 train, all dressed neatly and conservatively and carrying brief cases. Not too many smiles, not much conversation -- just very businesslike.

Prospect's team is like a crusty old lady, very grand and once quite rich, who has fallen on hard times.

She doesn't quite believe her grandeur has decayed, and so she puffs right along expecting things to go her way again any moment.

FOREST VIEW is a young team, showing the eagerness and the errors of youth at the same time. The Falcons remind you most of a Tom Sawyer kind of kid. Pretty decent all around, but still inclined to make a little mischief if the opportunity arises.

St. Viator's football team is perhaps the most interesting, because it is the most difficult to pin down. Not skilled or polished enough to be called a machine, but too good to be called rag-tag, the Lions are like a young man in a business. They show flashes of brilliance that renew your faith in them just when their immaturity was beginning to wear your patience.

They're something out of an old King Arthur movie, capable of being courtly and gentle, with bowing and good manners, but still capable of brawling in the dirt with a villain.

Prep Halftime Show . . . Horns and Hello's

The game belongs to the gridders, but halftime is the band's. Wheeling High School's prize-winning outfit shows its stuff last week at a crucial showdown between the Wildcats and Arlington. Tubas don't make touchdowns though, and Wheeling bowed to Arlington 7-0 despite the musical encouragement offered by the Wildcat Band.

Drum majors are as much a part of a Saturday afternoon football spectacle as quarterbacks are. Bob Johnson is the man who struts ahead of Wheeling High School's Wildcat Marching Band.

Halftime for cheerleaders is a chance to say hi to the fans in the other stands. Here Prospect High School's spirit sparkers offer their greetings to a capacity homecoming crowd at Palatine. The girls and the team will play host to Conant next week, as both squads try to snap losing streaks at four and escape the conference cellar.

Talent Bank Entertains With 'Brigadoon' Excerpts

Members of Best Off Broadway players Talent Bank entertained at the annual dinner party of the Masonic Temple in Palatine. Talent Bank has provided entertainment for several years at these annual dinners.

A performance of "Brigadoon" featured Jeannette Tomiello, Mt. Prospect, and George Palmer, of Palatine in the romantic leads. As Fiona and Tomny they sang "Almost Like B e i n g In Love" and "Heather On The Hill".

Phyllis Locker, Arlington Heights, danced the role of Jean and in the role of Charley was Jim Sprinkle, Palatine. As Charley he sang "I'll Go Home with Bonnie Jean".

Art Dern of Roselle was cast as Jeff a fellow New Yorker while Betty, Jane Martin, Elk Grove Village, played the flirtatious Mag and sang "Me Mother's Wedding Day". Lundie, the narrator of this tale of fantasy and delight, was Jerry Batz, Palatine.

The piano accompaniment was provided by Frank Pitchford, Arlington Heights. To add to the Scottish theme of Brigadoon there was a piper and dancers from a south side Chicago school.

Best Off Broadway players have just about covered the British Isles in musical comedy having done Fiolans' Rainbow, Brigadoon and this fall they will offer My Fair Lady.

Many of those that appear in Talent Bank are regular performers in Best Off Broadway musicals.

Talent Bank offers varied entertainment or condensed musicals to any group. For information, call Vern Karst FL 8-0598.

Before and After Dark

Found, Adventures In Good Eating

BY SONIA JOHNSON

Adventures in eating, either at home or elsewhere, are often difficult to find. But . . . we found one!

A small dining room, secreted off busy Bourbon Street at Pheasant Run, THE SMUGGLERS' COVE, with its fish nets on the walls, old bottles, oars, anchors, portraits of pirates, and the little thatched hut in one corner, is where diners enjoy tropical drinks from the Caribbean with names like the Fog Cutter, Scorpion, Pieces of Eight, Ports O'Call. These are made with fruit juices, Rum and a little voodoo.

The food served is something old buccaneers might have dreamed of, Stake of Salem, fired with brandy, Whiskey Chyken, flared with bourbon, and Drunken Lobster, soaked in Vodka and staggering.

We had the latter, and it was out of this world! It is mixed with mushrooms, diced tomatoes, parsley, a dash of wine and served on a bed of wild rice. We watched the preparation at our table, and doubt that it can be duplicated at home!

Bring an appetite you have saved for several days because we missed Islander Egg Roll, Green Turtle Soup, Brandied Ice, and left most of the delicious salad with their special Buccaneer's dressing. That lobster was just too much!

LUNCHEON for the ladies is often, these days, accompanied by a fashion show on Wednesdays. We attended one at ANDY'S COW PALACE in Palatine.

The fashions were interesting, and evidently synthetic furs are in, coming in all shades and styles. They are attractive, comfortable and light weight. The fashions at Andy's are provided by a different shop each week, and these were from Betty and Bob's.

Of interest to us were the original miniature oil paintings grouped on the walls. Imported from Europe, many of them are excellent, and are for sale!

The name of this spacious and comfortable dining place came from (for those who haven't been there) an old friend of the proprietors', who assisted and encouraged them in establishing the business, Andy Sellas, a lover of farm animals and founder of Mid City Dairy Company.

ANDY'S has a pleasant atmosphere, and on weekends, there is a combo for dancing.

FOR FISH on Fridays we went to THE COACH LITE INN in Rolling Meadows, and wondered why they hand't called it The Red Barn. It is rustic and spacious, except when crowded! Tables are made of cross cut huge elm trunks, polished and varnished to great beauty.

A three piece combo, THE DOWNBEATS, plays music for dancing and listening on Fridays. It was nice music - neither too loud, nor too jumpy.

Now the food! Because I had promised a friend, I tried the fish, and it was excellent perch, done just right. However, I also sampled the specialty which is Egg Plant Parmesian, and it was so good that, although I love it, I passed the spaghetti up. My husband said the steak was also very succulent.

Because the prices are reasonable, and the food is sufficient and good, we noted a large number of family diners with children from tots through teens. It is evidently a popular spot.

AN ORDINARY door in the lower level of the O'Hare Inn opens into Henrici's GOLDEN BARREL, a surprisingly large and elaborately rustic dining room complete with band stand, dance floor, subdued atmosphere and attractive Golden Girl waitresses.

The entertainment consists of a four piece group, RENO TONDELLI at the piano - organ, MEL FAVOURS on bass, DICK BORDON excellently handling the drums, and CHARLIE McFADDEN on the sax.

Charlie also does a beautifully haunting flute background for certain numbers, and the affect is unusual and really something to hear.

THE GOLDEN GIRLS do several group dance numbers, and TRACEY SOMMERS, (a very shapely gal in gorgeous costume) does a dance solo. Featured for the next few weeks is JO ANN HENDERSON, who really knows how to put heart into a song. She can do anything, from belting a number with gusto, to a tender, sweet melody. This gal is a real artist!

For those who like a simple menu, the GOLDEN BARREL serves only prime rib, cut and done just the way you want it.

You start off with a Golden Gambol (tall, cool rum drink), go on to shrimp cocktail, a magnificent piece of beef, baked potato, crisp salad, accompanied by a special wine, and finish with Viennese pudding and a large mug of coffee laced generously with brandy.

After dinner you can take a few spins around the dance floor or just sit still and wait for the up-coming floor show.

DENNIS BREIT, manager and emcee, told us he has great plans for expanding everything!

THE MARK V QUARTET, who have appeared from Las Vegas to Dayton and from Toronto to Juarez, are holding forth with swinging Dixieland on picturesque Bourbon Street at Pheasant Run in St. Charles. The group, specializes in instrumentals, vocals and comedy. Bourbon Street, an authentic replica of the New Orleans street, is open for cocktails, listening and dancing nightly except Sunday and Monday.

Bill Hayes Joins Staff Of WFLD

BILL HAYES

Bill Hayes, Chicago-born star of television, radio, Broadway, records and nightclubs, has joined the staff of WFLD, channel 32, Chicago.

Hayes, who made his professional debut as a singer and actor in the late 1940s, will make his first official channel 32 appearance as host of the "Miss Teenage Chicago Pageant" to be televised Friday, Oct. 21. The event, part of a nationwide contest, will be sponsored by the Chicago Daily News.

As soon as the new WFLD studios adjacent to Marian Towers are completed early in 1967, Hayes is expected to have his own variety show. Until then he is scheduled for several special programs.

THE ANNOUNCEMENT of Hayes' signing was made by Sterling C. (Red) Quinlan, president of WFLD.

Hayes said he has already started planning the format of his 1967 show. "It will be daytime entertainment in color with the emphasis on music, discussion, interviews and special guests," he said.

Both Quinlan and Hayes said they were pleased with the arrangements that brought the entertainer back to the city in which he started his professional career.

"Bill and I have been talking about this for quite some time but it wasn't until now that both the station's schedule and his were clear," Quinlan said.

HAYES got his big break in 1949 in the wild Olsen and Johnson revue "Funzapoppin." When the show was in New York, Hayes was spotted by pioneer television producer Max Liebman who turned him into an idol of television viewers on Sid Caesar's "Show of Shows." From 1950 to 1954 Hayes appeared more than 120 times in the weekly series.

Since that time, the singer has appeared on hundreds of television and radio programs, on the concert stage, Broadway and in nightclubs. He has also made more than 60 records, his top disc "The Ballad of Davey Crockett" selling more than 2 million copies.

Prior to joining WFLD, Hayes completed a tour of the East Coast singing a lead role in "Camelot."

'Any Wednesday' At Candlelight

"Any Wednesday," the Muriel Resnik Broadway hit comedy, will continue through the month of October at the Candlelight Dinner Playhouse in Summit.

Jo Seiwert, in the leading ingenue role, is co-starred with Michael Arquette, son of Cliff (Charlie Weaver), Peter Harris, New York actor and Judith Haviland.

The Candlelight dinner-play policy offers the audience a fixed charge for a meal and the show plus dancing.

Reservations for all performances may be made by telephone to GL 8-7373. Performances start at 8:30 Tuesdays through Fridays, and 6 and 10:45 on Saturdays and at 7:30 on Sunday evenings.

Kappa Alpha Theta To Hear Mrs. Persons

The Northwest Suburban Alumnae Club of Kappa Alpha Theta will hold a meeting celebrating its tenth anniversary Oct. 20 at 1:00 P.M. at the home of Mrs. H. T. Chilton J., 1103 W. Lonnquist, Mount Prospect.

Guest speaker at the meeting will be Mrs. Roger C. Persons, former chairman of the speakers bureau of the League of Women Voters.

Annual Fall Dance

Republicans All Set to Roar

Professional entertainment will provide a break in an evening of dancing at the annual fall dance and buffet supper sponsored by the Regular Republican Organization of Elk Grove Township on Friday, Oct. 21.

Charles Kimball of Mount Prospect, has engaged the Gary Giocomo Revue. They will present "On Broadway Tonight", a half hour program of song and dance.

Giocomo and his troupe are known in Chicago supper clubs. He has been a member of both the Broadway and Las Vegas casts of the musical comedy "Bye Bye Birdie" as well as the New York touring company.

"Republicans Roar" is the theme of this year's dance. Cartoons of circus characters, elephants, pennants and balloons will create a carnival atmosphere in the Elmhurst Country Club. The Villagaires will provide music for dancing beginning at 9:00 p.m.

MRS. GEORGE R. Busse of Mount Prospect, general chairman of the event said this week, "The excitement of an election year has been reflected in the enthusiasm of the committee workers and in the general response to ticket sales. The dance promises to be a social as well as a financial success for the organization."

Another feature of the evening will be a drawing for a vacation for two to Winding River Ranch in Colorado plus $100 travel expenses courtesy of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Busse of Mount Prospect. Also to be given is an oil painting by local artist Christl Hansen.

SPECIAL guests from the Republican slate of candidates who will attend include Congressman and Mrs. Donald Rumsfeld; State Senator and Mrs. John Graham; and Ray Page, candidate for re-election as state superintendent of public instruction, and his wife.

Also present will be Harris Rowe, candidate for state treasurer; Homer Fields, candidate for assessor of Cook county; and Floyd Fulle, candidate for re-election to Cook county Board of Commissioners.

Two local candidates for the Illinois General Assembly will also attend: Eugene Schlickman of Arlington Heights, who is seeking re-election as representative from the 3rd district, and David Regner of Mount Prospect, a candidate for his first term from the same district.

Invitations have also been sent to Republican committeemen from neighboring townships by Elk Grove committeeman Carl Hansen.

Tickets for the dance and midnight buffet are still available from ticket chairman Mrs. David Regner, 910 S. See Gwun, Mount Prospect, 259-1464.

Seek Funds For Trip

Mrs. Lynn Chapin (left), director of the Coronet Drill Team, makes the first contribution for the Coronet Official Tag Day. Saturday, Oct. 15, Coronets will be tagging Arlington Heights residents for contributions to help send them to the 1967 national competition in New Orleans in August. Coronets (left to right) are Betsy Mirs, 16, of 1204 W. Northwest Hwy.; Liz Hughes, 17, of 410 S. Lincoln; Penny Mayers, 16, of 304 N. Salem, and Nancy Douglas, 16, of 407 S. Beverly, accept the donation. The drill team placed third in the nation this year. Mrs. Chapin says the money raised will be used for transportation and equipment for the national competition in August.

Beauty and the Beast

Campus beauty Nanette Ruthsam of 905 N. Patton, Arlington Heights, and Keith Rievertn of Morrison, Ill., were paired for the Western Illinois University "Beauty and the Beast" contest sponsored by Alpha Phi Omega. Proceeds from the contest and dance were donated to the United Service Organizations.

In Dist. 23

Board President Hails 'New Era'

Robert LeForge, president of the board of education in Dist. 23, has taken a "president's corner" on the editorial page of The Reporter the board's publication mailed to district residents.

Dist. 26 includes Anne Sullivan, Betsy Ross, MacArthur and John Muir schools.

Le Forge writes in the recent issue of The Reporter that the opening of the John Muir School "ushered in a new era" because it "is the first of at least three which will be run on a neighborhood basis.

"This means transportation to the school will be on a minimum basis and there will be no hot lunch program offered in the building.

"The school day has been arranged so that the students will be allowed time enough to go home for lunch--much as schools operate in other nearby towns and all over the city of Chicago."

LeFORGE observes that "it has always been the feeling of those connected with the education of youngsters that the school system should be run on a partnership with the family unit.

"The lunchtime break, long enough to allow children to get home and back, is a manifestation of that attitude.

"The child gets a period in the middle of his school day to see his mother, communicate his problems or happenings and enjoy a little family fellowship with a better, more leisurely mean than is possible in a school cafeteria.

"Such a situation," LeForge writes, "brings him back to class feeling better both physically and psychologically. This will of course promote a better climate for learning in the second half of the school day.

"The advent of the neighborhood school also reduced the amount of transportation required in the district. This cuts down on administration expenses and also gets the children some fresh air and exercise in their walk, or bicycle ride, to school."

LeForge concludes by observing that "The John Muir School is only the first in the district" and that the board of education hopes "that acceptance of these ideas and policies by the citizenry will be so widespread that the community will want and welcome the other neighborhood schools which the board has in its long-term plans."

Troop 129 Promotes Scouts

Boy Scout Troop 159, sponsored by St. Simon's Episcopal Church, has promoted several scouts to new ranks and positions.

Daniel Stauder, Mitchell Higdou, Patrick Stearns, Robert Immen and John Reitmeyer have been promoted to Life Scouts.

David Brask, Steven Turner, George Knight, Keith Johnson, Paul Chaffee and Richard Mertz have been promoted to Star Scouts.

Mark Carlson, Rex Miller, James Stearns, William Cochran and John Ernst have been promoted to First Class Scouts. Michael Warns, Kevin Harrinton, Gary Knight, Jeffrey Hianeburg and Gary Miller have been raised to the rank of Second Class Scouts.

Tenderfoot Scouts inducted into the troop are Michael Wenzel, Thomas Noerenberg, Thomas Klein, David Fahrion, Lawrence Deger and Michael Reitmeyer.

PROMOTIONS to new positions were awarded to Paul Hoppe and John McDonald, instructors; Charles Dickinson and James Gilfillan, junior assistant scout masters; John Cavers, Mitchell Higdon, and Michael Merritt, warrent officers; Robert Sim, senior patrol leader, and Robert McDonald and Robert Massey, assistant senior patrol leaders.

Plaques for past services were awarded to Paul H. Chaffee for his service as scout master in 1965: William L. Sullivan for serving as executive committee chairman in 1965, and to Raymond A. Sklencar for past services to the troop.

The "Order of the Arrow" camp awards were presented to Scout Master Andrew Turner and Scouts, Robert Swim, Robert McDonald, and Robert Massey. The award is given for extensive participation in scout camp-out activities. Past winners of the award are former Scout Master Thomas Dickinson and Scouts, Raymond Sklencar and John McDonald.

LWV To Hear Candidates

Sen. Paul H. Douglas and challenger Charles H. Percy will address the annual program conference of the League of Women Voters.

Attending the all-day event Oct. 19 at the Pick-Congress Hotel, Chicago, will be Mrs. Ernest Beal, Mt. Prospect; Mrs. Harvey Baron, Mt. Prospect; Mrs. Earl Burdsall, Prospect Heights; Mrs. Richard Schlott, and Mrs. Frank Moore, both of Arlington Heights.

The women are members of the Arlington Heights League of Women Voters, and Mrs. Moore is president of the local league.

Douglas and Percy have agreed to answer questions after their prepared addresses. Each has been allotted an hour's time.

CURRENTLY League members are studying U.S. relations with the People's Republic of China, U.S. foreign economic policies, economic opportunity programs, and management of water resources. Both candidates will be asked to direct attention to these areas.

"What is Ahead in Springfield--A Focus on State Government" will be the subject of the 10 a.m. opening session. Participating will be Charles Cleveland, political editor of the Chicago Daily News; Edward Lindsay, vice president of Lindsay-Schaub newspapers, Decatur; and Mrs. Audrey Weaver, city editor of the Chicago Defender.

A Lucky Day For Four Carriers

Four Rolling Meadows teenagers have been named winners in The Day Carrier Contest.

John Sawicki, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Sawicki of 2906 Groise, won first prize, a Schwinn bicycle. John is an eighth grader at Carl Sandburg Jr. High and likes to play football and basketball.

Russell Hitzeman, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred. O. Hitzeman of 2303 Dove, was awarded second prize, a tape recorder. He also is in the eighth grade at Carl Sandburg.

Third prize, a Polaroid camera, went to Don Holthe, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Holthe of 3403 S. Owl. Don races model cars as a hobby.

Fourth prize went to Pam Fahn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Fahn, 3303 St. James. She received a wrist watch.

Announce Managers For New Penney Store

ELDON O. RAY

MIKE ROBINSON

ROBERT BITTNER

Eldon O. Ray has been named as manager of the new J. C. Penney store which will open Oct. 20 at the Golf Mill shopping center.

Ray has been with the Penney organization for over 25 years and has served as manager of stores in North Dakota, South Dakota, Indiana and Illinois.

Mike Robinson will assist Ray and will serve as the new store's assistant manager. Robinson has been with Penney since 1952 when he began his career as a stock clerk.

Two merchandise managers have also been appointed to round out the new store's staff. They are Robert Bittner, who has served at several Chicago stores and has been with Penney since 1960, and Harold O'Keeffe, who has managed departments in Penney stores in Wisconsin and Iowa. O'Keeffe has been with the Penney chain since 1959.

The appointments were announced by R. E. Erickson, district manager for the Penney Co.

HAROLD O'KEEFE

Rolling Meadows Bank Joins Credit Plan

The Bank of Rolling Meadows will issue multipurpose Charge-It cards to all its customers this fall, making it possible for them to charge purchases at hundreds of area stores before Christmas, Hubert G. Watson, bank president, said.

Watson said he chose the Charge-It plan because it gives the cardholder the immediate convenience of statewide credit.

Charge-It offers the choice of making a lump sum payment of all monthly purchases at no charge, or payments over a period of months for a small fee.

The family credit card with the Bank of Rolling Meadows behind it will be a boon to the consumer public, Watson said, because purchases at any store will all be listed on one monthly, itemized statement, requiring only one payment and providing a concise and graphic view of spending patterns.

Businessmen and merchants participating in the Charge-It plan with Bank of Rolling Meadows have the advantages of a charge program for their customers without the risk or cost of running their own credit operation.

HUBERT G. WATSON

Charge-It is an integral part of the Midwest Bank Card plan and more than 50 banks in the Chicago metropolitan area are expected to become Charge-It affiliates.

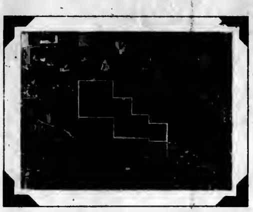
This is our baby picture

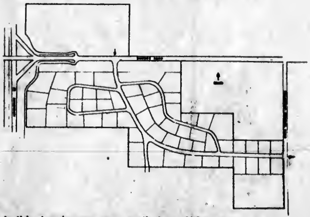


It takes a lot of planning to raise a baby. Our infant, Arlington Industrial and Research Center, is no exception. As a matter of fact, we have spent years nursing this project.
In the coming months, our center will be growing. It will receive its nourishment from various industries requiring a planned site in a strategic and prestige Chicagoland location.
Arlington Industrial and Research Center . . . with more than 350 acres of planned and developed property . . . has facilities for your offices, plants and warehouses.

2

A drawing of our plans

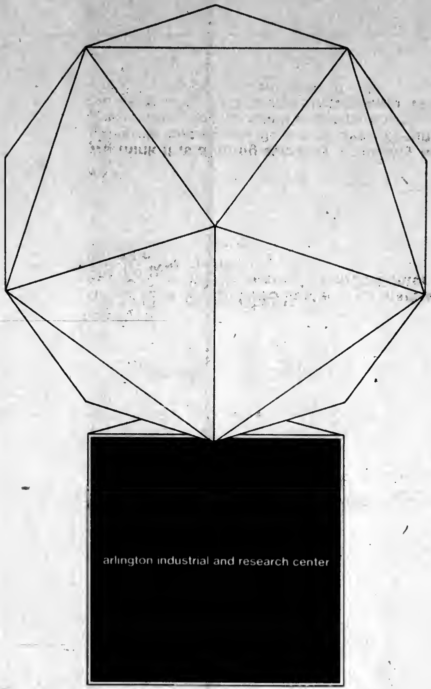
These are our plans. We feel they contain all the important elements necessary to design an excellent industrial and research center.



In this drawing you can see that our 350 acres, located on new Interstate 61, has all the identification and accessibility required for a successful center. What you can't see are our four-lane paved roads, complete underground utilities (including electrical and telephone cables) and landscaped parkways. Incidentally, O'Hare International Airport and other major expressways are nearby. Although we don't show it on the map, our plans call for construction of a unique multiple use building offering tenants offices, warehouse and manufacturing facilities.

3

a symbol



Our symbol, constructed in steel and marble, at Arlington Industrial and Research Center. It is an Icosahedron.
Definition:

Icosahedron (i-kos-a-he-drun), n.; pl. -drons. 1. A geometric figure composed of twenty equilateral triangles. 2. Entrance symbol at Arlington Industrial and Research Center.

We think it is a fitting symbol for industry and research, because of its sturdy and exacting appearance. The icosahedron seems very mathematical, yet it is rather handsome. In some ways it is much like the center itself.

College Tuition to Cost $120; Fees Set at $15

When Harper College students register for classes next September, they will pay from $120 to $128 for first semester tuition and $15 for miscellaneous fees.

The figure based on an $8 a semester hour charge was okayed last night by the college's board of trustees. Harper President Robert E. Lahti said the normal academic load will be from 15 to 16 hours.

The $240 to $256 a year tuition plus $30 in miscelleneous fees will make Harper slightly more expensive than other state supported colleges.

Resident students pay $120 tuition a year at Northern, Eastern and Western Universities and $180 at the University of Illinois Chicago Circle and Champaign-Urbana campuses.

Fee charges are higher at these institutions, making yearly totals for tuition and fees $192 at Eastern, $236.50 at Northern, $216 at Western, $250 at the University of Illinois' Champaign-Urbana campus and $273 at the Chicago Circle campus.

THESE CAN be compared with a total tuition-fee cost of about $310 at Harper. This does not take books and transportation costs into account.

"While we look high right now other colleges will probably raise their tuition, too, when they project their costs," President Lahti said.

The Harper student will still pay only a fraction of what his education costs. Lahti estimated that the junior college will spend from $1,000 to $1,400 a year on each student.

He said the students will pay approximately 25 per cent of their educational costs. The state will pay another 30 per cent and taxpayers in the college district 45 per cent.

College officials previously estimated costs to be split in thirds.

THE TAX load will be spread over four townships (Wheeling, Elk Grove, Palatine, and Schaumburg) that make up the Harper Junior College district.

Classes will open in September at the college's temporary campus at Elk Grove High School.

Lahti said arrangements are almost complete with the high school. The college board will have to pay about $75 rent for each student that attends classes.

IN OTHER action, the trustees voted a $25,000 salary to Lahti and approved approximately 50 pages of policy decisions, including faculty salary schedules.

The college president's salary was approved unanimously. A provision was removed from his previous contract that prohibited him from other income, presumely receiving payment for lectures and articles.

The salary schedule starts at $7,000 a year for instructors with a master's degree or a bachelor's degree and three years of teaching experience. It esculates to $17,150 for full professors with tenure.

The schedule provides increases based partially on merit and partially on tenure.

INSTRUCTOR salaries run to a high of $11,200. Assistent professors go from $8,050 to $13,300, associate professors from $9,100 to $15,050. Fall professors start at $10,150.

Trustee Richard L. Johnson of Arlington Heights said the college anticipates difficulty in recruiting teachers. The schedule is geared to this difficulty, he said.

"We want to establish a precedent where we can be competitive with established universities," he said.

H.H.

Kennedy To Talk at Randhurst

Several of the nation's top Democrats will bring the 1966 political campaign to Mount Prospect on Saturday as the Randhurst Shopping Center is included in Sen. Robert Kennedy's speaking agenda.

The New York senator will arrive at Randhurst at 12:30 p.m. Saturday and will speak from a platform near the water tower on Rand Rd.

Accompanying Sen. Kennedy will be Sen. Paul Douglas, a candidate for re-election, and Mayor Richard J. Daley of Chicago.

Mayor Daley's appearance in the suburbs are rare occasions.

From Randhurst, Sen. Kennedy and his contingent will travel to Chicago for several other speaking engagements.

The Randhurst appearance will be the only suburban one in a brief tour of the state by the New York Democrat on behalf of Illinois Democratic candidates.

800 Volunteers Join United Fund Campaign

More than 800 residents have volunteered to work for the one-night "U-Nite" campaign of the Arlington Heights United Fund Oct. 24.

Campaign vice president Norval B. Stephens Jr. said that he is more than pleased with the turnout.

"This is, I believe, the largest number of people ever to volunteer for any drive in Arlington Heights," he said.

This year's campaign, is unique in several ways.

The one - night concept is one of the new innovations. Rather than stretch the campaign out for a week or more, the workers have spent several months organizing and publicizing their visit to each resident in the village on "U-Nite."

ALSO NEW is the method of indexing each home on an IBM card. This will speed tabulation of contributions and keep a record of contributors.

"I have never seen a campaign which was so perfectly organized," Stephens said.

Firemen Extinguish Grease Fire

Members of the Rolling Meadows Volunteer Fire Department extinguished a grease fire in an apartment kitchen at 4877 Wilke Rd. Thursday.

Mrs. Susan Abel said that she left a pan of grease on the stove and when she opened a door the grease ignited.

The blaze was confined to the kitchen. No estimate of damage was given.

Churches Unite For Interfaith Exchange Week

The clergy fellowship of Arlington Heights has announced plans for activities during Ahead Week-1966 from Nov. 13 to 20.

Prior to the formal Ahead Week program, the fellowship will sponsor a caravan tour of the First Methodist Church, St. James Roman Catholic Church, Our Saviour Lutheran Church, and the Christian Church.

At each place of worship, members of the caravan will hear a talk on the history and tradition of the church.

Nov. 9, at 8 p.m. a clergy-doctor meeting will be held in the Northwest Community Hospital.

KICKING off the Ahead Week activities will be a visit to the Clearbrook Center for the Retarded during which the teen-aged participants will provide entertainment for the pupils of the center and will assist center personnel in maintenance duties.

On Nov. 13 at 7:30 p.m. the Presbyterian Players will present "Christ in the Concrete City" in the First Presbyterian Church.

A 22-minute film, "The Parable," will be shown in three participating churches. On Nov. 14 the film will be shown at 8 p.m. in the Southminster Presbyterian Church and on Nov. 17 at 8 p.m. it will be shown in the First Methodist Church and the Christian Church.

On Nov. 16 at the Congregational United Church of Christ at 8 p.m. a film strip will be shown dealing with the relation of the church and the arts.

During the entire week, living room talks have been scheduled between interfaith groups.

Post Office Here Says Most Mail Being Delivered

The Arlington Heights Post Office reported this morning that it does have a relatively small backlog of undelivered 3rd class mail, but all other classes of mail are being delivered on time.

Third class mail consists mainly of advertising matter, which is sent as a special rate and does not get priority service.

The Chicago Post Office is working to sort large amounts of 3rd class mail that has piled up there, and has asked for permission to destroy circulars which advertise sales that have come and gone while the mail backlog has grown.

In Arlington Heights, the Post Office has long been suffering from a shortage of help. A spokesman this morning said the 3rd class backlog here may get worse when the mail begins to flow from Chicago.

Disaster Corps to Be Organized

The Rolling Meadows Civil Defense will hold an organizational meeting Tuesday to recruit individuals for a disaster control work plan.

Sgt. William Golden of the Rolling Meadows police department, deputy director of the Rolling Meadows CD corps, said that recruits will be trained in as many facets of disaster rescue as possible.

"This will include police work, first aid, survival, disaster relief and many others," he said. "We will stress action for natural disasters, such as a tornado, a plane crash, etc. This will automatically prepare them for man-made disasters."

GOLDEN said an outline of action has been set up with local amateur radio groups.

"What we need now is people who will volunteer their time to learn how to handle a disaster. We need manpower," Golden said.

The meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m. in the youth bureau offices behind the Coach-Light Shops on Kirchoff Rd.

Girl's Complaint Closes Bar

The bar of the Arlington Heights Bowling Lanes, 8 N. Vail, was closed yesterday and the proprietor charged with contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

The action was taken after a 17-year-old girl told police she was molested by the owner, Thomas Kouros, 38, of Palatine. The girl told police that she and a 19-year-old girl friend were served drinks on the premises early Thursday morning.

Police said the two girls went to the bowling alley shortly after 2 a.m. Thursday with two boys. They said the girl told them she stayed behind when the others left at 4:30 a.m. because Kouros offered to take her home. The girl claimed she was forced into a back room and attacked, police said.

Kouros is free on $2,000 bond and is due to appear in court Oct. 24.

Frank Palmatier, acting liquor control commissioner for the village, ordered the bar closed and called a hearing for Tuesday at 8 p.m. to investigate the charges.

Woman Hurt

Sophia Splitberger, 61, of 823 N. Fernandez, complained of a sore neck Thursday after her auto was struck by a car driven by Richard Treanor, 40, of Long Grove at Arlington Heights Rd. and Olive. Treanor was ticketed for negligent driving.

3 Forest View Beauties Compete For Teen-age Title

Three Forest View High School students have been selected as semifinalists in the Miss Teen-age Chicago contest sponsored by the Chicago Daily News.

They are: Gail Connelly, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Connelly of 914 S. Maple Mount Prospect; Natalie Andrews, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard W. Andrews of 823 E. Falcon Dr., Arlington Heights, and Kim Garrity, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael J. Garrity of 2200 Bluebird Ln., Rolling Meadows.

The girls will participate in talent competition tonight in the State Ballroom of the Palmer House in Chicago. From the 60 semifinalists, 12 finalists will be chosen.

They will compete for the title of Miss Teen-age Chicago Friday, Oct. 21. The contest will be televised on WFLD-TV, Channel 32, from 8 to 9 p.m.

THE GIRL chosen Miss Teen-age Chicago will receive from the Daily News several prizes including a $2,000 scholarship, a $100 gift certificate, and an all - expense paid trip with an official chaperone to the Dallas Miss Teen-age America Pageant Oct. 29 through Nov. 5.

She will represent the city in national competition in Dallas and will compete for numerous prises, including a $10,000 scholarship.

Miss Teen - age Chicago will serve as national teen-age chairman for the 1967 Easter Seal Appeal.

The winner also will receive a guaranteed $5,000 in personal appearance fees, a 1967 Mercury Cougar, 50 shares of stock in the Dr. Pepper Co., a complete year-round wardrobe from Judy Gibbs and J.P.'s Only, division of the Puritan Fashions Corp., and 10 shares of American Airlines stock.

Semifinalists in Miss Teenage Chicago contest, sponsored by the Chicago Daily News, include three Forest View High School students (from left) Kim Garrity of Rolling Meadows; Gail Connelly of Mount Prospect, and Natalie Andrews of Arlington Heights. Tonight the girls will compete for finalist status in the Palmer House in Chicago.

16 Teams to Debate Foreign Aid Program

Debaters from 16 high schools will meet at Arlington High School Saturday at 8:45 a.m. to participate in High School Dist. 214's invitational debate tournament.

This is the second invitational tournament the district has sponsored. Sessions will conclude with an assembly at 3:30 p.m. honoring the two outstanding debate teams and the two top speakers.

During the day there will be four rounds with each round having an eight-minute construction, a three-minute cross examination period and a four-minute rebutal.

MEMBERS of the varsity debate squad at Arlington High School who will be participating are Pat Cox, Karen Richard, Doug Uselding and Lydia Wilson, all of Arlington Heights.

Only varsity squads will be debating in the tournament. Varsity debate coach at Arlington High School is Wayne Wagner and assistant coach is Mrs. Barbara Lebin.

Dist. 214 high school participating will be Arlington, Elk Grove and Forest View.

Other school entering the competition will be Holy Cross, River Grove; Downers Grove; West Leyden, Northlake; Aurora East; Aurora West; Thornton - Fractional South, Lansing; Thornton - Fractional North, Calumet City; Proviso East, Maywood; Proviso West, Hillside; Thornridge, Dolton; St. Ignatius, Chicago; Maine South, Park Ridge, and Richwoods, Peoria.

Youth Centers Need Volunteers

The two Youth Centers, sponsored by the Rolling Meadows Park District, are in need of volunteer chaperones to supervise activities.

The centers are operating on Friday nights from 7 to 9:30 p.m. Seventh graders may attend the Youth Center at Jonas Salk School and eighth graders and high school students may attend at Carl Sandburg School.

Registration fee is $2 for a half year or $3.50 for a year. Registration may be obtained at the Park District office or at the individual centers. Before membership is issued a parental consent form must be signed. Forms are available at the Park District office ar the Youth Centers.

Volunteers may arrange a schedule on a weekly, semi - monthly or monthly basis. Substitutes are also needed. Persons may request either youth center.

Park District officials said the chaperones are a definite requirement for the smooth operation of a Youth Center. Any adult interested in participating may contact the Park District office at 392-4380 or may register as a volunteer Friday night at the center.

Mrs. Walter Kimmel, state president of the Illinois Congress of Parents and Teachers, will be the featured speaker at the second annual fall conference of PTA District 37 to be held Oct. 24 at the Old Orchard Country Club in Mount Prospect. The dinner meeting will be called to order at 6 p.m. Mrs. Kimmel will speak on "Prime Time for PTA Action".

Car Hits Tree, 2 Des Plaines Girls Injured

Two Des Plaines girls sustained minor injuries Wednesday when their auto skidded on wet pavement and struck a tree at Northwest Hwy. and Yale.

Police said a car driven by Miss Mary Forkins, 19, spun in a circle before striking the tree.

Miss Forkins and her 17-year-old sister, Terry, were treated for injuries at Northwest Community Hospital.

Doll Artist To Exhibit Little People

Mrs. Martha Mills, Arlington Heights' doll artist, will exhibit her Little People of Drury Ln. today and tomorrow at the Pioneer Park Fieldhouse.

The Little People, all handmade contemporary dolls, will be shown from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. today and from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. tomorrow. Tickets are 50 cents with part of the proceeds going to the Historical Society.

This will be the fourth time Mrs. Mills has exhibited parts of her 800 piece collection here.

Big Day In Store At Prospect

Wheeling's marching band will be featured at half-time ceremonies of the Chicago Bears-Green Bay Packer football game Sunday. Dean R. DePoy, the band's director, is framed by the trumpet section of the brightly uniformed Wildcat marching aggregation.

Wheeling Marching Band at Bear Game

"Bear Down, Chicago Bears" will be played by the Wheeling High School Band as they present the half-time show at Wrigley Field Sunday when the Chicago Bears face the Green Bay Packers.

The 170-member marching unit under the direction of Dean R. DePoy will perform before much of the nation too as the show is presented on nationwide CBS television.

Wheeling's championship "Marching Wildcats" will appear in pre-game activities as well as present the entire half-time show.

THEME at half-time will be a "Salute to Chicago." The performance will be divded into two sequences, "The Great Chicago Fire" and "Chicago -- The Melting Pot of the World."

The Wildcats will march onto Wrigley Field playing "My Kind of Town, Chicago Is." Formations of the band will include Mrs. O'Leary's famous cow, an old-fashioned steam fire engine, the Chicago water tower, Marina Towers and an outline of the United States.

Musical selections will include "Chicago," "Hot Time in the Old Town Tonight," "Love Makes the World Go 'Round," "Big, Wid, Wonderful World" and "America, the Beautiful."

MUSICAL selections were arranged by John Higgins of Wheeling. DePoy's assistant director is Douglas E. Peterson.

Members of the Dist. 214 administration will accompany the band to act as chaperones. They will be accompanied by members of the Wheeling Instrumental League.

Obituaries

Eugene Mitchell Sr.

A funeral mass for Eugene L. Mitchell Sr., 63, of 431 E. Merle La., Wheeling, will be offered tomorrow at 10 a.m. in St. Joseph the Worker Church in Wheeling.

Mr. Mitchell, a salesman for the Mosler Safe Co. in Chicago for more than 15 years, died Wednesday in Holy Family Hospital in Des Plaines.

He is survived by his wife Gertrude H.; two sons, Eugene L. Jr. and John A., both of Glenview; eight grandchildren, and a brother James of Denver.

Burial will be in All Saints Cemetery in Des Plaines. Visitors may call at the Lauterburg & Oehler Funeral Home in Arlington Heights.

Freshman Co-ed

Margaret White, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Boyd White, 515 S. Pine, Arlington Heights, has started her freshman year at Kalamazoo College.

Low PTA Elects Officers

The Juliette Low school PTA unanimously elected its first president Wednesday night. He is Chui Fan Liu, 36, of 1603 S. Highland.

Mrs. Mary Robins, who headed the nominating committee, said that Liu's remarks to the approximately 65 parents present "impressed everyone."

Liu, an associate professor of chemistry at Chicago Circle Campus, University of Illinois, holds the distinction of being a parent, a teacher and president of the Parent - Teacher Assn. at his children's school.

LIU AND his wife, Nora, who both hold Ph.D.s in chemistry, have three children. Two of the children, a daughter, Faan Yeen and a son, Faan Hoan, attend Juliette Low school. Another daughter, Faan Tone, may be too young for school at the age of three, but neighbors report that she is already a good reader.

After electing its first president, the PTA members completed their selection of officers for the newly-established unit. They are:

First vice president, Mrs. Ruth Steinke; 2nd vice president, Anthony Calderone; secretary, Mrs. Rath Henkel, and treasurer, Richard Brenner.

THE NEW concept of architecture and teaching that has been instituted at Juliette Low school will be available for all to see during the week of Nov. 1.

Mrs. Robins said the school's first open house will be held that week. The parents will have meetings scheduled with their children's teachers and there will be tours through the school for others in the area who would like to see "what's new" in education.

Shirley's Helping Hand

By Catherine O'Donnell

Mrs. Shirley Mason of Verde Av. in Greenbrier is being included in the family prayers of the Lawrence Klein family of N. Belmont.

The Kleins are the parents of 6-year-old Lindy, who is mentally retarded. She is still on the list of six institutions waiting for admittance and she needs unceasing care. Mrs. Mason volunteered to take care of Lindy for three mornings a week to allow Mrs. Klein much need relief.

Shirley says she isn't a professional teacher but she loves children so she'll try to teach Lindy basic things like feeding herself.

"It's just something that I feel I have to do. I was extremely touched by the story of the little girl. I only hope that I can help."

With people like Shirley around, the world looks like a good old place after all.

Not Always Easy

One of the most interesting luncheons of the year will be held at the Post and Paddock at Arlington Park at noon on Tuesday. This item crossed the Day by Day note pad and obviously more information was needed.

A call to Mrs. Webb Everett and her secretary said to call the wifa of the state attorney general, Mrs. William G. Clark, because she is in charge.

Mrs. Clark said to call Mrs. Lee Steward because she is handling publicity. Mrs. Steward was not in but a Miss Evans povided the information.

The luncheon would serve about 1,500 women from all over the country. It will be given by the Women's Division of Citizens for Douglas and 100 hostesses will be on hand to seat the guests.

The luncheon would honor Mrs. Hubert Humphrey, wife of the vice president of the United States, and Mrs. Douglas, wife of Sen. Paul Douglas. Both ladies would speak briefly.

The same day a publicity release arrived at The Day and you would have read about it anyway.

Wake the Town

Those Viator candy bars will be all over town beginning Monday.

The chocolate covered almonds are becoming a traditional taste treat, especially for the students who are their own best customers. The candied nut sale is one of the nicest ways to prove that charity begins at home.

The profits from the sale will be used by the school for equipment in the labs, library and athletic departments. Call the school at 392-4050 and a bright-eyed young salesman will come to your door. The boxes are well packed and if hidden properly from a snack hungry household, they are marvelous Christmas gifts.

Is You Is?

Ray Herr Jr. of N. Hickory is pretty well known around the teen scene in Arlington Heights because he is a member of a combo called the Legends of Time.

He is involved in a situation that wouldn't be believed on a movie house screen. Ray graduated from St. Viator High School in June, 1965. He worked for a year to save money to go to college and he enrolled in the Central YMCA College in Chicago. He paid half of his tuition and was scheduled to begin classes on Sept. 19.

Two days before, on Sept. 17, he received a notice from his draft board telling him to report for induction Oct. 14 (today). Ray is puzzled because he thought he had to be 19 years old to be inducted and his 19th birthday was Sept. 24.

It must have puzzled someone at the draft board also because Ray received a subsequent letter that said because he wasn't 19 when the first letter was sent, he should not report for induction until Nov. 4.

Ray in the meantime attended classes for one week which meant he would forfeit part of his tuition if he quit. He called the board and explained that he was going to school. The board knew nothing about it.

He checked with the school and was told that they are holding all draft status forms so they can send them all at once. He asked the draft board if he could appeal and explain what had happened.

The answer was no.

He dropped out of school two weeks ago. Yesterday, he receied a letter from the draft board saying be did not have to report on Nov. 4 for induction if he could prove that he is in school.

He was but he isn't. Now all be has to do is convince the school that the draft board is a little mixed up and ask to be reinstated. He thinks he might just make the required number of class sessions.

This is part of the uncertainity that makes teens behave lika teens. Right now, Ray doesn't know if he's a student or a draftee.

Meanwhile adults wonder what's wrong with the teens.

Pumpkin Growers Honored

Kindergarteners at Jonas Salk School in Rolling Meadows began growing pumpkins and sunflowers in paper cups last spring.

When school let our for the summer, they took their plants home for transplanting in their back yards.

And now the harvest is in. Yesterday the former kindergartners, now all first graders, brought their pumpkins and sunflowers to school for judging in a contest that was the reason for it all.

Mrs. Bernadine Carlsen and Mrs. Jady Helfers, kindergarten teachers at Salk, had promised the budding gardeners there would be prizes for the biggest and best pumpkins and sunflowers. While working for a prize, they would also learn all about how plants grow.

Forest Preserve Plan Outlined by Semrow

A comprehensive program of forest preserve development, with many of the projects centered in the northwest suburban area of Cook County, has been proposed by Harry H. Semrow.

Semrow, Chicago's former postmaster who is seeking to be elected President of the Cook County Board on Nov. 8, outlined a forest preserve proposal that would make year-around use of the county open space facilities.

"Why shouldn't we use our forest preserves all year around," Semrow asked.

Included in his "blueprint for forest preserve development" were proposed facilities for skiing, skating, sledding, tobogganing, nature trails, bicycle paths, and horse trails.

IN THE Arlington Heights area, Semrow proposes expansion of the Palatine tract of forest preserve property to include a new golf course, boating lake and horse trail.

For the Ned Brown forest preserve facilities in Elk Grove Township, Semrow proposes additions of a new lake, boating and fishing facilities, winter sports center and a bicycle trail.

Included in Semrow's proposal is a plan announced by current board president Seymour Simon for a huge recreation-drainage lake in Elk Grove Township off Routes 58 and 53.

In the Deer Grove area, Semrow proposes additional lake facilities for fishing and boating, bike and horse trails and another winter sports center.

TO FINANCE the huge project, Semrow said that federal grants of matching funds should be sought. "All we have to do is draw up the plans, budget our share, and provide the recreational facilities."

Concerning the anticipated cost of the development, Semrow said, "We can't afford not to provide for the recreational needs of our booming populations. In a crowded urban area like ours, such expenditures are not only a wise investment, but an absolute necessity."

French Visitors

A delegation of construction officials from France recently toured tha Centex Industrial Park and Elk Grove Village. The officials, specialist in construction, financing and social and economic planning are touring the United States under the leadership of Paul Doublier, director of France's Societe Centrale Mobiliere de la Caisse des Depots.

2 Fire Calls At House

Arlington Heights firemen made two trips to an empty house at 1415 N. Belmont Wednesday.

The first alarm came at 4:08 a.m. when a garbage man reported flames in the two-story wood house.

Early Wednesday afternoon firemen were called again to extinguish a fire in the insulation of a freezer in the house.

CAMBRIDGE, an exciting new concept, where the good life begins
When you buy a home in most communities . . . you get a house and that's about all. CAMBRIDGE offers more . . . a new way of living every day of your life.
You'll find riding stables, picnic and hiking areas, lakes and skiing facilities minutes away. There are six golf courses and bowling in the immediate vicinity. Combine these with a group of wonderfully active and interesting people and you have no opportunity for boredom.
If all this sounds like a Country Club, it's close. CAMBRIDGE is across the road from Arlington Country Club and looks like an extension of it. That's because CAMBRIDGE homes are built on what was a nursery and the trees and shrubbery continue to enhance the beauty of the entire area.
New grade and junior high schools are located adjacent to the property which is surrounded by excellent shopping facilities.
Though CAMBRIDGE homes are new, their traditional design, set in this established, landscaped area, offers a feeling of a rooted community. The wide choice of 3, 4 or 5 bedroom homes range from $25,500 to just under $35,000.
CAMBRIDGE offers still more. Why not let us show you? Bring your golf clubs with you and enjoy beautiful Arlington Country Club right across the road. CAMBRIDGE is conveniently located just 35 minutes from downtown Chicago on Dundee Road (Route 68) between Arlington Heights Road and Elmhurst Road (Route 83).

Some Day

. . . by Frank E. Von Arx

A reader provided a valuable service to this newspaper by calling attention to a fine point in reporting tax rates increases from bond issues.

He graciously spent time on the telephone explaining how it works. It still is as clear as mud.

Stories on taxes have included a paragraph such as: "The estimated tax rate increase for 1966 would be $9.70 for a home assessed at $10,000."

First of all, our reader said, you do not find many homes with that $10,000 figure. $20,000 would be closer to the truth.

Secondly, the tax increase is not figured on the assessed valuation but on the EQUALIZED assessed valuation. The difference is important.

If we listened correctly, the assessments in the various counties vary and the state applies an equalizing factor in an attempt to even up things. For instance, Cook County may get an equalization factor of 1.4 while Lake County might get 1.35. The assessment figure for your property is multiplied by this equalization factor and that is what determines your taxes.

A house on the books at $20,000 would be really taxed on the basis of $28,000 if the county's equalization factor is 1.4

Don't ask how come the assessment figures are not uniform throughout the state or why this extra book work is necessary. The state is probably too busy making sure truck operators get a bargain on their license fees to bother with taxes.

The newspaper feels there should be an effort to relate the gobbledygook distributed by taxing bodies into dollars and cents facts for the taxpayer. Mills, equalization factors, comparison of rates do not mean nearly as much to Mr. Homeowner as "How much will it cost me?"

Our figures in recent referendums must be on the conservative side, but every taxpayer probably expects it to cost more anyway. If we said $30 for new parks, it should really have been around $32.50, equalized.

And some day we are going to sit down with the assessor and collector and find out what that means.

"I dunno—hey, Moose! Why DO we have handlebars like this?"

Vantage Point

. . . by Jack Vandermyn

This is the season to give ...to give, give and give.

Throughout our area, various organizations are in the process of holding their annual fund drives. Organizations soliciting funds range from civic groups selling candy to the Combined Appeal or United Fund.

Charity is one of the greatest industries in America. Millions of dollars are contributed to thousands of causes each year by Americans -- the most generous people in the world.

But somewhere along the line, even the most generous must say no -- or himself, become a charity case.

Where should this line be drawn? This is a question that each individual must answer for himself.

Those with big incomes, surprisingly, are often the least generous.

The guy who makes $75 a week is an easy mark for the cannister wielders who gather on suburban street corners almost every Friday and Saturday of the fall "season."

We have our own feeling about giving. We believe in giving the "United Way." One gift, the most we can afford, is administered and distributed to many different agencies. The cost of administration of United Funds or Combined Appeals is surprisingly low and most of our gift dollar reaches the people who need it.

ONE of the problems with united giving in the suburbs is that too many of the agencies that benefit from the combined gift are not overly active in suburban communities.

There are exceptions. United Fund money goes to Boy and Girl Scouts and to the YMCA. It helps support Salvation Army activities in suburbia, about which little is known but much accomplished.

Some of the major organizations supported by donations from the public are not members of the United Fund. They hold independent fund drives or tag days and gain a considerable amount of suburban support.

Certainly, we do not want to knock these organizations as most of them are worthy of support. There are exceptions. It is a good policy to check with an organization's administration before contributing to determine just what percentage of the funds collected are used for "administrative purposes."

A reliable organization will make financial statements available without hesitation.

If an organization refuses to provide a financial statement, listing its use of every dollar, watch out.

One reason we hesitate to put our spare quarters into cannisters on street corners is that we have no way of knowing whether the money we contribute locally will be used locally.

A GOOD criteria for making an intelligent determination is to take a close look at the solicitor. Is he a member of a local organization, well known in the community? If so, his cause is a good one or his organization would not be associated with it.

Some organizations have paid crews of "cannister packers" who invade a community on Friday and Saturday and solicit funds. Watch out for these. A good rule of thumb is, contribute if you can afford it, but contribute only to organizations with which you are familiar or to people you know and respect.

It is still a good idea to combine what you are able to give into one gift and make that gift the "United" way. This satisfies the obligation you have to be charitable -- and assures you in the long run that your charity dollar is going to be put to good use.

In the Chicago suburban area, the United Fund or Combined Appeal seeks to unite many communities into one giving body.

The thinking behind this is that many suburban residents make their living in Chicago and in the past were solicited for two gifts -- one at home and one at work. Now, they can give at work through the payroll deduction plan and their gift will go toward meeting their quota at home.

This makes sense in an inflated era when everything has gone up -- even the cost of "giving."

Fire Check

Fire Lt. David Mills (left) observes as students and teachers at St. Viator's High School pour through an exit in a fire drill held as a part of Fire Prevention Week. The building was emptied of its' more than 1,000 students in about a minute and a half, excellent time according to Mills. This week the fire department held drills in all of the village's schools. An inspector also toured each school to inspect fire prevention measures.

Post Office Offers Zip Code Help

As a part of the current campaign by the U. S. Post Office to add "zip" to the system of mail delivery, each Arlington Heights resident will be given the opportunity to find out the zip codes of often-mailed addresses.

Arlington Heights Postmaster Virginia Dodge said that letter carriers will deliver two cards to every residence. Each card will have spaces for addresses for which the householder wishes to know the zip code.

The cards then may be dropped into a mailbox or returned to the carrier. The Arlington Heights Post Office will add the appropriate zip codes and return the cards to the mailer.

"No postage is needed," the postmaster said. "In completing the cards, only the street address and city and state are required," she said. "Individual names should not be used."

POSTMASTER Dodge emphasized the importance of including a return address on the front of the cards so they may be returned after addresses have been coded.

Addresses which cannot be coded by the Arlington Heights Post Office will be sent to the particular city, then returned to the mailer.

In addition to the cards for addresses, a special notice will be sent to each resident advising him of his own zip code.

The program is part of a campaign to promote the use of the zip code in addressing mail.

Bazaar

A boutique bazaar Monday, Nov. 14 is in store for area alumnae of Sigma Sigma Sigma sorority.

The event will be held in the home of Mrs. Russell Sack, 502 N. Gibbons, Arlington Heights. Members may bring a guest.

The area Tri Sigma group is called the Chicago Suburban Northwest Alumnae Chapter.

Plan UNICEF Halloween Collection

Plans for a safe and constructive Halloween celebration were announced today by the Arlington Heights Clergy Fellowship, sponsors here of Trick or Treat for UNICEF.

The UNICEF program calls for children to solicit residents for "treats" of coins to be donated to the United Nation's Children's Fund. The donations are used to finance 500 programs for needy children and mothers in more than 100 nations.

The program won a Nobel Prize in 1965.

UNICEF trick-or-treaters will carry black and orange collection cartons bearing the organization's symbol of a mother and child.

Cartons will be distributed to youngsters by 12 area churches participating in the program.

Racing Tires, Highways

With more automobile manufacturers catering to the public's demand for racier-looking cars and with some oil companies touting the racing powers of their gasolines to the skies, it is probably only natural that many young bloods are equipping their mounts with racing tires.

This growing use of racing tires on passenger cars for street travel is a practice that should be nipped in the bud, warns one tire expert.

There are a number of major differences between a tire designed for the street and one designed for racing, points out Harold E. Mills, manager of racing tire development for Goodyear.

Probably the most important is that race tires have no rubber sidewall protection for the carcass cord. This enables them to dissipate heat generated at racing speeds -- 200 miles an hour and more -- but gives them no protection from abrasion or weathering.

A passenger car tire has thick sidewall rubber to protect the carcass from curb damage and to withstand the affects of weathering and oxidation.

Another difference is in tread design. Most race tires have a compact design to give maximum traction on a dry track. A passenger car tire must have a more open design to perform well on wet roads.

Moreover, a race tire is designed for a much wider wheel than a passenger car and for considerably higher inflation pressures. If it is mounted on a passenger car wheel, the result is a small "footprint" and abnormal tread deflection. The tire will wear out quickly.

"Take all these factors into consideration," says Mills, "and it obviously safer and more logical to equip a passenger car with conventional tires designed for high performance on the highway rather than take chances with racing tires."

Letters to the Editor

Urges Study Of The Bible

Editor:

Thank you for your editorial of October 6 (Safe Bible Issue) informing your readers that the Supreme Court has not ruled against study of the Bible when presented objectively as part of a secular program of education.

The High School in Abington, Pa., which you cite, is only one of an increasing number who are now teaching the Bible as part of their educational process. Another is Newton High School in Massachusetts, ("not as a religious book ... but as a source book for the humanities") and sixth grade students in Flossmoor, Illinois study the Bible as part of their social studies course. Units on "The Bible as Literature" are being developed for experimental use at the English Curriculum Study Center at Indiana University and experimental materials are coming from the Nebraska Curriculum Development Center at the University of Nebraska.

I believe our school administrators have the courage and foresight to include an objective study of the Bible in the local curriculums if there are sufficient requests for this from parents and students.

Without educational study of the Bible students cannot fully understand America's literature, culture, or history. The Bible should be studied in our local schools if only to offset such a cultural disadvantage.

Need Plan For Majority

Editor:

I sincerely hope Park Board President Charles Cronin's statement Saturday night did not reflect the attitude of the entire board. "...apparently they did not feel the parks are necessary at this time."

No one disputes the necessity of more park facilities. The location to benefit the majority and the type of facilities, yes.

A better attitude would be to explore the possibility that groups opposed to the present plan might have some valid points, and in fact might enthusiastically support a plan that would serve the majority.

Christmas Comes Early This Year

You may not need a coat, and the sun may be shining brilliantly, but Santa Claus is coming to town. The evidence is provided by the Women's Auxiliary of Northwest Community Hospital, which will stage its annual Christmas bazaar Friday, Oct. 21.

The auxiliary's hospital gift shop, the Pink Lady, already is decked with holiday trimmings for the event, "Boutique Noel." It will be held from 11 a.m. to 8 p.m. in the lobby of the hospital, 800 W. Central rd., Arlington Heights.

Items to be sold will feature new trends in gifts -- imported decorative pieces, art objects, blown glass in a variety of shapes and shades.

Also offered will be beaded evening bags, gloves, lingerie, jewelry, handkerchiefs, soaps and scents, household accessories and children's toys and games. The Aueiliary's cookbook, "Calculated Risks," 1966 Christmas card and a selection of baked goods will be availeble.

Proceeds will benefit the hospital's building fund.

Mrs. R. C. Brown, volunteer worker at Northwest Community Hospital, puts up a poster for the hospital gift shop's Christmas bazaar, to be held Oct. 21 in the hospital lobby.

Mrs. Robert Rich of Mount Prospect admires a coquettish doll with long blond braids to be sold at Boutique Noel, annual Christmas bazaar of the Women's Auxiliary of Northwest Community Hospital.

MR. AND MRS. SMITH

Marguerite Dalton Bride

Marguerite Grace Dalton became the bride of Donald John Smith at a recent ceremony in Our Lady of the Weyside Catholic Church.

The bride's parents Mr. and Mrs. James A. Dalton, 522 S. Dutton, Arlington Heights, gave a reception in the Holiday Inn Motel in Rolling Meadows.

The bride wore a gown of white peau de soie, which had a scooped neckline and Kabuki sleeves bordered by re-embroidered Alencon lace. She carried roses and lilies of the valley and wore the wedding ring of her grendmother, the late Marguerite Dalton, on a chain around her neck.

Judith Hoffman was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Susan Doyle of Detroit, Pamele Short and Marilou Hogate, both of Arlington Heights and the bride's sister Kathy Dalton.

THEY WORE gowns of powder, turquoise and peacock blue crepe. Their dresses had empire waistlines, scooped necklines and elbow-length sleeves. Their headpieces were made of roses and they carried bouquets of turquoise-tinted carnations.

Another sister of the bride, Barbara Anne, 8, was flower girl. She wore a floor-length dress of light turquoise.

The bridegroom is the son of Archie J. Smith of Lake Forest and the late Mrs. Smith. Reymond Fini of Lake Forest served as best man. Ushers were Ehron P. Jones and Thomas Verbeke, both of Lake Forest and the bride's cousin Jey Davis of Arlington Heights.

The couple spent their honeymoon on e cruise on Lake Michigan. They are at home in DeKalb, where Smith is a student at Northern Illinois University.

45th Year

St. Peter's Dorcas Aid Celebrates

The Dorcas Aid of St. Peter Lutheran Church of Arlington Heights will celebrate its 45th anniversary with a dinner Wednesday, Oct. 19 at Plentywood Farm, Bensenville.

Mrs. Henry Leark, group president, said the celebration is being held before the founding date of Dec. 4 to avoid bad weather.

Organized in 1921, the society has grown from a charter roll of 18 to 84 members. Four charter members still active are Miss Minna Clausing, Mrs. Edwin Jannusch, Mrs. William Lussman and Mrs. William Wilko.

Group purposes are to support and promote the church by gaining new church members and provide financial aid to projects of the congregation, day school, Sunday school and community.

Dorcas Aid gives money to students preparing for the Lutheran ministry and teaching professions and contributes to missions and charitable institutions of the Missouri Synod.

It also promotes the religious knowledge of members.

GROUP financial obligations are met by conducting fund-raising programs including rummage sales, card parties, bazaars and luncheons.

The Dorcas social committee plans entertainment presented after monthly business sessions. Social calendar highlights include parties for Valentine's Day, birthdays, Christmas and mother-daughter events.

All church women are eligible to attend meetings, conducted the second Tuesday of each month at the church.

Group officers in addition to Mrs. Leark are Mrs. Walter Landmeier, first vice president; Mrs. Calvin Maurer, second vice president; Mrs. Theodore Preuss, secretary, and Miss Lillian Plass, treasurer.

Board members include Mrs. Edward LaBaatschaig, Mrs. William Miller and Mrs. Morry Schalin.

Mrs. Henry Leark (center), president of the Dorcas Aid of St. Peter Lutheran Church, cuts the organization's 45th anniversary cake with the help of charter members of the group. They are (from left) Mrs. William Wilka, 318 Mueller; Miss Minna Clausing, 408 N. Vail; Mrs. William Lussman, 408 N. Vail, and Mrs. Edwin Jannusch, 722 E. Euclid.

Christianity And Politics Talk Topic

An area educator will discuss "The Christian in Politics" Sunday, Oct. 16 before the United Fellowship of the Congregational United Church of Christ, 1001 W. Kirchoff.

He is Robert Grabitz, chairman of the social science and foreign language department at Prospect High School. The program will begin with dinner parties at 6:30 p.m. in the homes of 11 parish couples.

Each party will accommodate four to six guest couples.

Grabitz, a world history teacher, was graduated from the University of Oregon and received a master's degree in social science from Northern Illinois University.

IN HIS TALK, he will use a bulletin, "Political Parties, Primaries and Elections" prepared by the League of Women Voters.

Mrs. Russell Gardner is program chairman.

Host couples for the dinners are Mr. and Mrs. Richard Schlott, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Gardner, Mr. and Mrs. Kirke White, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Curtis, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Hulka, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Toot, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Whiston, Mr. and Mrs. Dennie Kelleher, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Francis, Mr. and Mrs. John Taylor, and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Scheske. Mrs. Toot is dinner party chairman.

Ecumenism Meeting Thursday

"Co-operation among Christians--in Rome and at Home" will be the topic of Dr. Edgar H. S. Chandler at a dinner meeting Thursday, Oct. 27 at the United Church of Christ in Des Plaines.

The meeting is one of a series of 10 area gatherings on ecumenism sponsored by the Greater Chicago Churchmen.

Dr. Chandler, executive director of the Church Federation of Greater Chicago, attended the Ecumenical Council in Rome last year. His talk will emphasize his experiences at the council and the council's implications for relationships between Catholic and Protestant laymen.

JUDGE Henry W. Dieringer of Barrington will discuss ecumenical progress in the Chicago area.

Clarke C. Robinson, area manager for the church men, is directing the meeting, which will begin at 7 p.m. at the church, 1492 Henry st. Robinson lives at 212 N. Eastwood, Mount Prospect.

Area managers assisting him are Joseph W. Johnson of Des Plaines and William Kaiser of 1535 N. Vail, Arlington Heights. Laurence K. Smith of 611 W. Wing, Arlington Heights, is area vice president.

Demonstration

The Des Plaines Valley Geological Society will meet at the West Park Field House, 651 Wolf Rd., Des Plaines on Oct. 20 at 8:00 p.m. A demonstration of the Laser Beam will be conducted by a representative of the Illinois Bell Telephone Co.

Scientist Talks About God

"A Scientist's View of God" will be the subject of Dr. Gary Ter Haar at 7 p.m. Sunday (Oct. 16) at Peace Reformed Church, 600 E. Golf, Arlington Heights.

DR. TER HAAR

Dr. Ter Haar, currently on assignment at Argonne National Laboratories, is employed by the Ethyl Corp. of Detroit.

He received a chemistry degree from Hope College in Holland, Mich. and a doctorate from the University of Michigan in Ann Arbor. Dr. Ter Haar has been working as an industrial chemist for four years in Detroit and Baton Rouge, La.

Audience questions will be answered after the public speech.

New Sounds In Worship

New sounds in worship will be the theme of a Sunday (Oct. 16) meeting of the senior high school groups of the First Presbyterian Church of Arlington Heights.

The meeting will begin at 7 p.m. in the senior high room of the church.

The Rev. Harvey Pranium will discuss new and different forms of worship including the use of jazz. He is director of the Campus Christian Assn. of Illinois Teachers' College and Woodrow Wilson Junior College.

The Rev. Mr. Pranium formerly was associated with the Community Arts Foundation and the radio and television department of the Church Federation of Chicago. He also has served as youth minister at the Emerald Avenue Presbyterian Church.

Area Women Delegates To Lutheran Conference

Four women from Our Redeemer Lutheran Church of Prospect Heights will act as delegates to a convention of the Northern Illinois District of the Lutheran Women's Missionary League on Saturday, Oct. 22.

The convention, the 29th annual of the district, will be held at the Conrad Hilton Hotel in Chicago.

The women are Mrs. Wayne Zimmerman, Mrs. Robert Kerbs, Mrs. Leonard Pflughaupt and Mrs. Peter Pulver.

The theme will be "Partners in Christ." The Rev. Paul Heerboth, assistant executive secretary of missions for the Lutheran Church, Missouri Synod, will speak on "Our Front Lines in Christ's Mission to the World."

The Lutheran Women's Missionary League is the only international organization of women within the Missouri Synod of the Lutheran Church. It was organized in 1942 in Chicago and now has 213,000 members.

Mrs. F. A. Karst of Park Ridge is district president.

To Hold Clothing Drive

The Woman's Assn. of Southminster United Presbyterian Church, 906 E. Central rd., Arlington Heights, will sponsor a clothing drive from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday, Oct. 17.

The drive will be held in the church's fellowship hall. The public has been asked to bring clean and mended clothing, marked for sizes.

The clothing will be donated to missionaries on leave, needy families, neighborhood houses and the Christian Industrial League.

Mrs. Barton Hansicker is drive chairman.

Panel Discussion

St. Gregory Chapter of NAIM Conference, an organization for the widowed, will conduct a panel discussion on the social aspects of widowhood at 8:30 p.m. tonight (Friday, Oct. 14) at the Beverly Restaurant, Arlington Heights.

School Fund Drive Passes $2 Million

The Lutheran School of Theology at Chicago has passed the $2 million mark in its campaign for a new academic complex in Hyde Park.

More than 900 congregations in four supporting synods of the Lutheran Church in America have made commitments totaling $5.3 million. The synods are Illinois; Wisconsin - Upper Michigan; Michigan, and Indiana - Kentucky.

The Lutheran school is the largest of nine LCA seminaries in America. It opened its fall quarter last month with a record number of juniors in the bachelor of divinity program at the Maywood and Rock Island campuses.

Merger of the two campuses with the Central Lutheran Seminary campus in Fremont, Neb., will take place in a move to the academic complex now under construction.

The site is on the South Side near the University of Chicago.

Larson To Direct Seminar

Arne Larson will direct a faith-in-life seminar for area doctors and clergymen at Northwest Community Hospital at 8 p.m. Nov. 9.

Larson is assistant director of the department of medicine and religion of the American Medical Assn. The program is part of AHEAD (Arlington Heights Ecumenical Activities and Discussion) Week.

Must Shows in Town

BY SONIA JOHNSON

"The Odd Couple", currently at the Blackstone, is one of the MUST shows in town.

It's the kind of play that keeps the audience in a constant state of panic; laughing, and afraid to miss the next line.

DAN DAILEY, who stars, hasn't missed any of the 200 performances. When asked to describe the show, he said, "It's about two fellows who live together after their wives leave them. After they've lived together for a short while, they find out why their wives left them!"

I can't do any better than that, in a nutshell.

Dailey, a self taught dancer-actor, told us, when asked if he could earn a living otherwise, "I could probably clean the muck out of stables!"

To the query of why doesn't he make another movie-musical he replied, "They aren't making them anymore...that's why I'm in 'Odd Couple', and Betty Grable is in 'Hello Dolly!'"

ELLIOTT REID, Dan's new co-star, is well known to theatre and TV audiences. Though we haven't seen the show since Richard Benjamin left, we are certain it hasn't lost any of its fine humorous flavor...it could only get better with time. It's in it's seventh month here!

RECOMMENDED...for everyone who hasn't see "The Odd Couple". Not for the youngsters!

"GENERATION" is an ambiguous title for a play that justifies the ambiguity. ROBERT YOUNG, who was starring, has been replaced by an excellent understudy and JEROME COWEN still carries a good proportion of the comedy, in the show running at the Studebaker through October.

This was a play we were particularly enthused about. Though author William Goodhart, originally wrote the script as a play with drama overtones, it has turned into an interesting comedy.

The plot concerns a father who comes to visit his newly married daughter, only to find that she is expecting any moment. Son-in-law is an individualist, who feels that nothing is right unless it feels right. (This is truly individualistic!) The young people live in a walk-up studio-apartment, furnished sparsely with their own-made furniture, existing on love and the fruits of their creative endeavor.

When Papa offers financial or influential assistance, they accuse him of wanting them to become "slaves of the system". They have their own uncompromising ideas on how to lead their lives. The facades that humans live behind are cracked a bit, exposing what lies beneath, but it is done gently with a lot of laughs to cushion the blow.

The young people in the cast, JOHN LUCE, CHARLOTTE GLENN, PAUL COLLINS AND JOHN STEWART are true professionals.

RECOMMENDED...for all parents, young people, and for those who enjoy a situation with which they can associate.

ELSEWHERE--"Hello Dolly!", at the Shubert, now starring Betty Grable.

The Candlelight continues with an excellent version of "Any Wednesday."

Locally at Old Orchard Country Club Theatre, "The Grass Is Greener". NOTE... Will Haas, director, is still not out of danger after his auto accident. He will remain in hospital for some time.

Julie Newmar stars in "Theft Of The Belt" at Drury Lane Theatre, through Nov. 6.

In The Round Dinner Playhouse continues "The Bells Are Ringing". A musical.

FRANK LOVERDE, Norma Young and Bill Richards (left to right) in a scene from the Old Orchard Country Club Theatre production of "The Grass Is Greener."

At the Ivanhoe, Robert Q. Lewis and Marvin Miller in "Catch Me If You Can", a comedy-mystery. And what a mystery! Jeanne Crain, in "I Found April" to open next Tuesday.

"Period Of Adjustment," with Tab Hunter at Pheasant Run Playhouse, with Gardner McKay to open Tuesday in "Any Wednesday".

In Joliet, Piccolo Playhouse opens its fall season with Susan Oliver in the popular "Any Wednesday".

Grand Opening

After several delays due to late delivery, the installation of newly designed seats, and interior decorating, the Thunderbird Theatre in Hoffman Estates will have its Grand Opening, Friday, Oct. 21. Owner Duncan Kennedy said that he would not open until every flower and plant in the unique courtyard lounges was in its proper position.

FILM ACTRESS, Jeanne Crain, stars as the pianist-composer in love with a novelist in the comedy, "I Found April," opening Tuesday, October 18, at the Ivanhoe Theatre, 3000 North Clark Street.

Show Film

A sound-color movie, "The Long March" will be shown to the junior and senior high youth at the South Church School hour on Oct. 16.

Dr. Ray Jennings, former missionary in Japan, will be guest preacher that day and the junior and senior high youth are urged to attend to hear this interesting and informative sermon.

Service Singing Groups' Concert October 16

The official musical representative of the men and women of the United States Air Force, The United States Air Force Band and Singing Sergeants from Washington, D.C., will appear in Chicago this month for the first time in over seven years.

The band, hailed as one of the most outstanding symphonic bands in the world, will appear in a matinee concert at Medinah Temple, 600 North Wabash Avenue, on Sunday, October 16 at 2:30 P.M.

Major Arnold D. Gabriel, conductor of the U. S. Air Force Band, has programmed a variety of selections for the concert. They range from opera and established band literature, to contemporary band selections, Broadway show tunes, jazz, and of course, marches.

In addition to an abundance of outstanding music, the official chorus of the United States Air Force, the Singing Sergeants, will present a program of songs from Broadway and Hollywood, as well as some of America's best known songs of patriotism.

The concert is being presented by the United States Air Force through the cooperation of the United States Air Force Recruiting Detachment in Chicago and the Medinah Temple. Although admission is free, tickets will be required. Free tickets may be obtained at any United States Air Force Recruiting office, or by sending a request, with stamped and self-addressed envelope, to USAL Recruiting Detachment 501 (0I), 536 South Clark Street, Chicago, Illinois 60606.

Tickets will be distributed on a first come, first served basis until the supply is exhausted.

DOCTOR SAYS

Silicon No Solution

W. G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Q -- I have heard that silicon has an effect on the female breast hormones and stimulates bust development. Is it habit-forming?

A -- Silicon is not a drug but a synthetic silica resin which, when introduced into the body, causes little or no reaction in the tissues.

For this reason, it is sometimes used by plastic surgeons to fill in defects left by the removal of tumors. It has also been widely used to build up the breasts in women who think their breasts are too small. This is done by some qualified surgeons. A specially made silicon rubber form is filled with silicon gel and placed under the breast.

Unfortunately, some unethical doctors have been injecting liquid silicon under the breasts with a needle. This procedure has been declared illegal by the Food and Drug Administration because this type of implant does not hold its shape and it interferes with the detection of breast cancer. Two deaths following this operation have been reported. They were caused by the use of an industrial rather than medical grade of silicon.

Q -- My 15-year-old daughter has endometriosis. Could it become cancerous? What is the treatment?

A -- For some unknown reason the tissues (endometrium) lining the uterus may wander into the abdomen and set up little islands of endometrial ovaries. Although the islands are tumors in a sense, they do not become cancerous. They do tend to swell with each menstrual period just as they would if they were in their proper location. If they are attached to the intestines, this causes pain on moving the bowels and generalized abdominal distress.

Please send your questions and comments to Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of this paper. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

Lions Whip Carmel Unit

St. Viator's varsity cross-country team swatted an eager but inept Carmel squad yesterday 15-40, sweeping the first five places on their own 1.8-mile course.

BOB NEMEC set the pace for the Navy and White, finishing first in 9:41. The next four Lions across the finish line were squeezed into a four-second interval, with Greg Peterhans taking second. His time was 9:52.

Third place went to Fred Booth at 9:53, and Mike Canningham took fourth in 9:54. Lou Peterhans, twin brother of Greg, flashed home fifth in 9:55.

THE ONLY other Lion running was Don Rich, who placed 11th with a time of 10:45. The Lion depth was decimated by mid-quarter and apparently temporary ineligibility.

The Lion frosh-soph unit was almost as successful as their varsity counterparts, trimming the Carmel crew 19-44.

Dave Woods won the race in 10:23, followed closely by teammates Dan Baron and Sean Green in second and third. Carmel took fourth through seventh, but Jim Gilfillan grabbed eighth for the Lions and Greg Repede finished 10th.

ST. VIATOR'S next action is slated Monday against St. Patrick at the Shamrocks' course. St. Patrick is the defending Chicagoland Prep League harrier champion. Meet time is 4:30 p.m.

St. Viator's Bob Nemec glides home first yesterday's varsity cross - country against Carmel. St. Viator won 15-40.

Elk Grove Gets 2nd

Gary Steen and Wayne Wille ran one-two for Elk Grove's varsity cross - country team yesterday, but the Grens couldn't pull off a win.

"THERE WAS too big a gap between our second and third men," said Coach Bob Rees, as his harriers finished second in a three - way test in Fox Lake against Grant and Lake Zurich. Grant scored 26 points, Elk Grove 30, and Lake Zurich finished third with 84.

The Texidor twins, Pat and Bob, finished seventh and sixth for Elk Grove, and Gary Pleickhardt rounded out the top five with an 11th-place showing. Steen's winning time was 11:37.

STEVE BRANDT and Jerry Ancona turned the one - two trick for the Grenadier frosh - soph unit, sparking Elk Grove to a 20-54-58 triumph. Grant's Bulldogs placed second.

Tom Swiatek placed fourth for the Green and Gold. Brandt's first - place time was 12:44.

First and Last at Stake in MSL Grid Battles This Weekend

BY DALE HOFMANN

Both ends of the Mid-Suburban League football package may be sealed for good by varsity action beginning tonight.

In the weekend's main feature, unbeaten Arlington tackles Maine West for clear possession of the loop's top spot on the Cardinal gridiron at 8 p.m. tonight. Prospect, meanwhile, will seek to escape the cellar Saturday when the winless Knights take on a Conant team that is also gunning for its first 1966 success.

A VICTORY for Coach Al Allen's Arlington legions would hardly guarantee a clear path to the throne room, but there is no question that Maine West represents the biggest remaining obstacle in the Cardinal route.

Arlington will carry a 4-0 mark into tonight's fray. Maine West is 3-1 for the season, but the Warriors' 2-0 league card makes them a top contender.

IF THERE is a home field advantage for the Birds involved here, it will probably be offset by the factor of momentum. Arlington barely bypassed Wheeling last week 7-0 in what Allen has called one of his crew's worst games.

Maine West, on the other hand, looked better than it has all year in romping past Forest View last week 35-7.

It shapes up as a battle between Arlington's poised, and versatile style and Maine West's rugged ground-em-out tactics. Allen has said that the Warriors will give his outfit the toughest game it has had all season, and that the Cards will have to be much better tonight than they were last week if they hope to survive.

PROSPECT'S problems are a little different. The Knights have been improving with each outing, and Coach Don Williams thinks last week's 14-0 disappointment suffered at Palatine shows they are on their way.

But Conant, like everyone else on Prospect's schedule, will be much bigger than the local crew. And injuries still have the Prospect machine running on about half its cylinders.

WHEN TWO teams match 0-4 records on an afternoon, you can normally expect a pretty dreary and dispirited affair. You won't get that at Prospect High School tomorrow at 2 p.m. Both squads are bruised and thin, but both are hungry.

If anyone has a pre-game edge, it's the Knights. It's their homecoming.

IT'S FOREST VIEW'S homecoming too, and the Falcons are going to need all the fan support they can get to stem a Palatine tide that threatens to turn into a typhoon.

The Pirates looked anything but the part of defending champions when they rolled over in their first two contests with Glenbrook North and Arlington. But that was a Palatine team without John Ekeberg, the league's leading rusher last year. Ekeberg returned two games ago, and the Pirates shut out both opponents, just as they shut out everyone they faced in 1965.

FOREST VIEW needs this one badly. The Falcons have lost their last two and three out of four this season. Coach Bob Scott's gang showed it could explode when it trampled Conant 38-7, but that was a long time ago.

If the Falcons drop this one, they could be headed for the basement. If they come to life, color them spoilers for the rest of the season.

WHEELING TAKES a badly needed rest from the conference wars tomorrow when the Wildcats play host to the Central Suburban League's Niles North at 2 p.m. The Vikings have yet to win, but three of their four losses have come by a combined total of ten points. An extra point spelled the difference in two of them.

Still, the Wildcats had only their pride hurt in last week's showdown with Arlington, and they look like a much better football team than the visitors.

ELK GROVE will actually outweigh someone when it clashes with Glenbrook North tomorrow at 2 p.m. on the Spartans' field. The Grenadiers finally stopped their losing streak last week with a tie, but that was against a junior varsity squad.

While Glenbrook North is small, the Spartans are very quick. They shutout the same Palatine team that stunned the Grenadiers 26-0 two weeks ago. That should serve as a fairly accurate barometer, and it means Coach Dick Madge is in for another uphill battle.

Prospect Slates Hawk Jayvees

Saturday's varsity football game between Prospect and Conant High Schools will be preceded by a junior varsity tilt between the Knights and the Maine South.

The jayvee match is slated for noon on the Prospect field with the varsity game following at approximately 2:15 p.m.

Our Grid Consensus

The Day's sports staff has correctly predicted the winners in 16 prep games in the area this fall, with four wrong and one tie for an .800 season percentage. This week's predictions follow.

ARLINGTON VS. MAINE WEST, tonight: The biggest game of the season for both teams. Maine reached its peak last week, but Arlington has yet to play its best brand of football. Maybe tonight's the night. Call it Arlington 14, Maine West 6.

PROSPECT VS. CONANT, tomorrow: This is a game Prospect deserves to win — the Knights have earned it. It will be close, though. Call it Prospect 6, Conant 0.

FOREST VIEW VS. PALATINE, tomorrow: A real toss-up, this one will be decided by emotional rather than physical factors. It's homecoming at Forest View, so let's say Forest View 13, Palatine 7.

WHEELING VS. NILES NORTH, tomorrow: Strictly no contest. Wheeling will have difficulty holding down the score unless last week's loss to Arlington is still bugging the Wildcats. It looks like Wheeling 35, Niles North 6.

ST. VIATOR VS. MARIAN CATHOLIC, tomorrow: A toughie for the Lions, who are physically hurting. If Marian is kept off the scoreboard in the first half, though, it should end this way: St. Viator 13, Marian 3.

ELK GROVE VS. GLENBROOK NORTH, tomorrow: Look out, Grenadier fans. Glenbrook North is small but swift, and the Spartans are always hungriest at their homecoming. Without a miracle, it will read something like: Glenbrook North 28, Elk Grove 6.

Viator 11 Eyes Fast Lead

Mosquitoes usually don't come out until late in the day, and that seems to be the trouble so far this season with St. Viator's varsity football team and its "Skeeter Backfield."

Coach Joe Gliwa admits his team is a second - half outfit, but he's going to have to change that if the Lions are to get by Marian Catholic tomorrow night at Arlington High School Stadium.

THE SPARTANS, says Gliwa, are front - runners. Give them a lead and they fly, but get them down early and they get nervous.

The Lions showed some offensive spark against St. George last week, posting a 26-0 win, but that much offense might not have been generated against a stronger defense. Marian Catholic is a much stronger team than the hapless Dragons, and the Lions will learn that early in the game.

In addition to his normal problems, Gliwa is faced with the loss of two letterman starters. Larry Snyder, a hiccup-quick halfback, is out with an aggravated ankle injury, and Jim Dahl, his first - team center, has been lost due to a separated shoulder.

SNYDER IS expected to be back in uniform shortly, but Dahl is lost for the season.

Tomorrow's 8 p.m. varsity contest will be preceded by a sophomore clash at 6 p.m.
